

Motorcycle Hill Climb This Sunday

Hogue River Ramblers motorcycle club of Medford, will hold its final hill-climb for this year on Sunday, Sept. 23 at 2 p.m.

This get together will take place on the same hill as was used previously for such events. The hill is on the Don Menter ranch which is located about five miles west of Phoenix.

At the Phoenix Texaco service station there will be a sign directing cyclists to the west across the railroad tracks to the Pioneer and Coleman Creek rds. intersection. From this point on there will be markers direct to the hill site.

The last hill climb event drew 18 riders and it is hoped for more this time as most of the competition throughout the valley already has ended. Each ride will be run on a time schedule. Each contestant will be given three trials, but it is only compulsory to take one until his time has been beaten.

There is to be a small admission charge for this event. Ramblers are presenting trophies for the winners.

Red Raider Quarterback Sprains Neck

Ashland — Southern Oregon college football suffered a jolt yesterday when quarterback Bill Seymour suffered a severely sprained neck when tackled in scrimmage yesterday.

Several specialists examined the quarterback last night. Seymour suffered a pulled ligament. No cracked bones were found.

It is felt that Seymour will recover fairly fast but coach Al Akins said that the player will be out of action "indefinitely." There is a possibility but an unlikely one that Seymour will see action against Humboldt State in the opener at Medford on Friday night. If he does, the service will be limited.

Arlen Smith, transfer from Eastern Oregon college, himself just over a step throat, is expected to get the call to run the Raiders offense. Quarterback behind Smith is Bill Harbin, freshman from Grants Pass.

Feeling in the SOC camp is that, despite Seymour's probable loss, the Raiders have a team that can lick Humboldt.

The Red Raiders will work out at 7 p.m. today and Thursday.

Football Briefs

Seattle, Wash. — (U.P.) — Gene Pedersen, first string left guard for the University of Washington, has come up with a charley horse and may not be able to start for the Huskies against Idaho here Saturday.

COUGARS UNDER LIGHTS
Pullman, Wash. — (U.P.) — The Washington State Cougars will work under the lights tonight and tomorrow in final practice sessions before Saturday's game with Stanford at Spokane. Coach Jim Sutherland concentrated on pass defense Tuesday, with second string quarterback Bob Newman tossing the Stanford-type passes — and quite successfully.

DUCKS TAPER OFF
Eugene, Ore. — (U.P.) — Coach Len Casanova began tapering off on the heavy work today as his University of Oregon Ducks made final preparations for Saturday's opener against Colorado. The fight for the starting guard positions seems close, with last year's starting duo, Spike Hillstrom and Renanous Chochrane, once more playing behind letterman Jack Pocock and Harry Mendale.

OSC AT FULL STRENGTH
Corvallis, Ore. — (U.P.) — The Oregon State Beavers will be one of the few teams on the coast to come through drills without serious injury — and will be at full strength for the opener against Missouri Saturday. Although the hitting in Saturday's game-type scrimmage wasn't as hard as Coach Tommy Prothro had hoped it would be, he said the Orangemen handled their assignments more smoothly than he expected.

BEARS BOOT FIELD GOALS
Berkeley, Calif. — (U.P.) — Coach Pappy Waldorf of the University of California apparently figures that a field goal could make the difference in Saturday's opener against the Baylor Bears. Tuesday he held a lengthy drill on kicking three-pointers from distances up to 40 yards out. Doing the kicking were Max Hale, Harley Martin, Ron Wheatcroft and Gus Gianullas.

PREP FOR ANYTHING
Stanford, Calif. — (U.P.) — The Stanford Indians are preparing for just about anything when they tangle with the Washington State Cougars at Spokane Saturday. Coach Chuck Taylor said Jim Sutherland, new coach of the Cougars, is liable to spring anything, but will probably come up with quite a passing attack.

SPORTS

Bears Stronger Overall Than in Past Two Seasons

(This is another in a series on the prospects of west coast football teams for the 1956 season.)

Berkeley, Calif. — (U.P.) — Fullback Jerry Drew, who was expected to supply the bulk of California's offensive power only will play in the last five games because of the Coast Conference crackdown but Coach Lynn Waldorf sounds pretty optimistic about the future anyway.

"We feel we are stronger overall than in the past two and possibly three seasons although we are inexperienced," Waldorf rumbles. "The level of athletic ability is good at quarterback and we think we have the tools to do a satisfactory passing job."

Waldorf apparently figures to bounce back from last year's miserable season 2-7-1 via the air. He has two good passing quarterbacks on hand in veteran Gus Gianullas and sophomore Joe Contestabile plus two fine ends in Roger Ramseyer and Ron Wheatcroft.

Both ends are juniors and Wheatcroft, a reformed tackle, is the squad's leading All-America candidate.

Gianullas rates the call as the starting quarterback off his experience. He looked great in several spots last year with his long heaves but was taken out by an injury.

Sophomore Joe Kapp, who can kick very well, figures high on the reserve quarterback list. Waldorf in the meantime is waiting to see how senior Jim Lorenz's broken leg will mend. The rest of the key backfield men are — Art Forbes at fullback — until Drew can play — and Nat Brazill and John Stewart at the halfback posts.

Forbes, pairing with Herb Jackson, played behind the graduated Steve Dimeff last season. Brazill, who only weighs 142, was a ring-leader in the Bears' 20-6 upset of Washington. He has sophomore Jack Hart on deck to spell him this season. Stewart recently displaced Max Hale at starting right half.

"There are no lettermen but plenty of size," Waldorf says in looking over the tackle posts which will be held down by 245-pound Proverb Jacobs and 240-pound Harley Martin. Jacobs is a J. C. arrival and Martin a soph. Backing them are four other second-year men.

Oliva Limited
The guard posts were considerably weakened when Joe Oliva also was restricted to five games. Waldorf said the veteran lineman may start playing his string against Washington State, the third game on the schedule.

However, Don Gilkey — a solid operator and kicker — is back at right guard and Waldorf counts on Remo Jacuzzi to help at the other spot.

There is not much experience at center but Frank Matarocci, who got in five minutes last season, is doing a good job and apparently has earned the starting job there.

The Bears open against Baylor on Saturday and Waldorf says he'll be quite disappointed if the 25-0 shellacking it hung on Cal in 1953.

Sept. 22 — Baylor; Sept. 29 — at Illinois; Oct. 6 — Pittsburgh; Oct. 13 — at Oregon State; Oct. 20 — UCLA; Oct. 27 — at Washington; Nov. 3 — Oregon; Nov. 10 — at Southern California; Nov. 17 — Washington State; Nov. 24 — Stanford.

HUNTERS RED HAT PLEDGE:
be law abiding respect rights and property of others be careful with fire and firearms

Red Hat Days Observance Starts Friday

With the kickoff for Red Hat Days only two days away, County Chairman Elden Corthell has urged all Jackson county sportsmen to sign the Red Hat pledge and to wear the button that marks a Red Hat Days supporter.

"At least 100,000 pledge cards have been distributed to date, 2,000 in Jackson county," Corthell said. "If we can get them all signed our efforts to provide better, safer, and more productive hunting will be worthwhile."

Friday, Sept. 21, is kick-off day for a season-long educational campaign among Oregon hunters.

The pledge promises that the signer will be law abiding, will respect the rights and property of others, and will be careful with fire and firearms. The state wide program is again sponsored by a score of sportsmen, agricultural, timber, and governmental organizations as a follow up to the successful start made last year.

The pledge cards were donated by Keep Oregon Green, Inc. Signers are asked to keep the stub for their billfold and to leave the card with the distributor or mail to committee headquarters.

Sports Bulletin

New York — (U.P.) — Paddy DeMarco, 28, Brooklyn, former world lightweight champion, was indefinitely suspended today by the New York State Athletic Commission because of his apparent dealings with an undercover manager, who had a criminal record. Chairman Julius Helfand of the commission said proceedings may be brought to revoke DeMarco's license.

Alex Weber Nabs Bend Tourney

Bend — (U.P.) — The Oregon PGA pro-amateur sweepstakes was won by Alex Weber of Prineville Monday with a three-under-par 69. The Prineville pro was the only man in the field of 109 to break par at the Bend Golf club. Pro Einar Allen and Jim Chenoweth of The Dalles tied at 72.

The amateurs were lead by Ron Weber, son of Alex, and Ron Clark of The Dalles with 73s.

Pat Lesser, Gunderson Golf Rivals

Indianapolis, Ind. — (U.P.) — Defending champion Pat Lesser met another Seattle, Wash., ace today in third round play in the National Women's Amateur golf championship and the match might upset the titleholder.

Miss Lesser's rival was Joanne Gunderson, the 17-year old national junior champion, who flashed the best play so far in the event Tuesday.

Miss Gunderson slashed three strokes off par in 10 holes to oust Elsie Johnson, Jenkins, Ky., 9 and 8. Miss Lesser, 22, was four over par in bouncing Judith Keesling, Indianapolis city champion, 3 and 2.

The Lesser-Gunderson scrap loomed as one of the two stand-out matches on today's card. The Infantile paralysis was first recognized as an epidemic disease in the central European countries in about 1840.

other will involve another one-time champion, Barbara Romack, the 23-year old Sacramento, Calif., winner of the 1954 championship, against Anne Quast, 19, Everett, Wash., the current women's Western Amateur titleholder.
