Seattle, Wash. —(U.P.)— Coach Darrell Royal has made some changes in his University of Washington varsity team for the Huskies game Saturday against Minnesota. Dean Derby will go at right half in place of Dick Peysano, who was injured in the Idaho contest last week. Credell (Incredible) Green will replace Jim Jones at fullback, and Don Armstrong takes over the left guard spot from Idaho game starter Dave Leland.

BACK TO FUNDAMENTALS

Pullman, Wash. —(U.P.)— The work of the Washington State Cougars against Stanford last week didn't make much of an impression on Coach Jim Sutherland, so he says it's back to the fundamentals.

BEAVERS STRESS DEFENSE

Corvallis, Ore. —(U.P.)— The Oregon State Beavers held a lengthy drill Tuesday in preparation for their Pacific Coast conference opener against Southern California this week end—with emphasis on defensive methods of stopping the Trojans' C. R. Roberts and Jon Arnett. Coach Tommy Prothro said tackle Ted Bates and center Dick Corrick may not be able to make the trip to the southland. Corrick is nursing a bruised back and Bates a badly sprained ankle.

UO PRIMES PASS DEFENSE

Eugene, Ore. —(U.P.)— Coach Len Casanova has slated pass defense as one of the prime areas in which the University of Oregon Ducks will work in preparation for their conference debut against Idaho Saturday. Casanova warned his squad that in facing the Vandals, they face a serious aerial attack, much stronger than that posed by Colorado last week when the Ducks took a 35-0 win.

RUGGED SCRIMMAGE

Berkeley, Calif. —(U.P.)— The University of California Bears staged a rugged scrimmage today so Coach Lynn Waldorf could decide on a full traveling squad for Saturday's game against Illinois.

INJURIES HIT STANFORD

Stanford, Calif. —(U.P.)— Coach Chuck Taylor is being plagued by injury troubles as he prepares his Stanford Indians for Saturday's toughest against the Michigan St. Spartans. Fullback Archie Schmidt and halfback Jeri McMillin are treating leg injuries, second string guard Bob Peterson strained a ligament in his right leg, and first string center Bob Long was sidelined Tuesday with an upset stomach.

Flu Hinders RR in Drill For Eagles

Rogue River—Practice hasn't been going too good at Rogue River this week as the Chieftains prepared for their Thursday night game at Eagle Point. And coach Tinker Hatfield has indicated that the flu bug may be mostly to blame.

Missing practice because of bad colds this week have been guard Don Hoffman, quarterback Bob Bigman and defensive starter Doug Stewart. Quite a few other players have colds. Tackle Bill Dotson has a thumb injury that may keep him out of Thursday action.

Morale has been low along with the injuries and sickness. Hatfield stated. Passing has been getting attention in workouts and more conditioning training has been in order than in the two previous weeks.

The mentor was hopeful that the Chiefs can make history repeat itself by slowing down the big EP club and pulling an upset. But he is a bit skeptical of the Chiefs' chances.

If Hoffman is unable to play, Hatfield will move Steve Scott from tackle to guard and Charles Weaver from center to tackle with freshman Harry McCabe playing center. Absence of Bob Bigman will mean moving Bill Dixon to quarter with Bill Morrow playing guard.

FLEET BIRD BOUGHT

Chicago —(U.P.)— Fleet Bird, a seven year old son of Bull Lea, has been purchased from Calumet farm for $60,000 by a syndicate of eight Illinois racing men, it was announced today.

New York —(U.P.)— Fraley's follies and the weekend football "winners" — plus a few added comments on the still simmering National League pennant race.

Games Of The Week

Georgia Tech over SMU—Tech is a shaky one touchdown favorite on a close win over Kentucky while SMU beat Notre Dame. But the Irish aren't as rugged as expected as this one may show. Tennessee over Auburn — A pick 'em contest but Johnny Majors operating out of Tennessee tailback slot should make the difference.

The East

Penn State over Penn.—In the NL, looks like nobody wants to win.

Pitt over Syracuse—The Dodgers act like upset rookies. Rutgers over Princeton—The Braves look like bored vets. Colgate over Cornell—Somebody's gotta get mad.

Also: Columbia over Brown, Navy over W&M, Army over VMI, Boston U over Massachusetts, Yale over Connecticut, Delaware over Lehigh, Holy Cross over Dayton, Albright over Muhlenberg, Bucknell over Gettysburg and Temple over Lafayette.

The Midwest

Michigan over UCLA — The Braves hit like Epworth Leaguers. Illinois over California—Lew Burdette seems to have lost it. Iowa over Indiana—Dodger base running has been pitiful. Ohio State over Nebraska—For a big winner, Newcombe leaves me cold.

Also: Purdue over Missouri, Wisconsin over Marquette, Northwestern over Iowa State, Colorado over Kansas State, Tulsa over Cincinnati, Kansas over COP and Detroit over Villanova.

The West

Michigan State over Stanford—Reese looks apologetic at bat.

USC over Oregon State—Gil Hodges is too nice for his own good.

Oregon over Idaho—Camp-nella is pitiful with bad hands.

Washington over Minnesota—Only Robinson acts like a pro.

Also: Utah over Montana, Washington State over San Jose State, Wyoming over Denver.

The South

Miami over South Carolina—Ed Mathews stands on dime.

Maryland over Wake Forest—Joe Adcock is a guess hitter.

Florida over Clemson—Johnny Logan is the only one with fire.

Kentucky over Mississippi—Hank Aaron needs some of Willie Mays' dash.

Also: Georgia over Florida St., Texas Aggies over LSU, Vanderbilt over Chattanooga, North Carolina State over VPI, Duke over Virginia, and West Virginia over Richmond.

The Southwest

Oklahoma over North Carolina—Fred Haney runs in pitchers like a football coach.

Baylor over Texas Tech — Walt Alston looks like a stranded stranger.

Arkansas over Oklahoma Aggies—Maybe you don't agree.

Texas over Tulane—But us grandstand managers have our rights, too.

Also: Houston over Mississippi State, Texas Western over Abilene Christian and Arizona over South Dakota State.
