Oakland, Calif.—UPI—A 12-year-old schoolgirl hacked her aunt to death with an axe and two kitchen knives Thursday rather than explain how she lost her $5 weekly allowance—but she couldn't go through with plans to ambush her uncle.

Police said the girl, Patricia Corcoran, of Mitchell, S. D., came to live with her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bunce, several months ago.

Patricia told authorities she attended seventh grade at Bret Harle Junior High school Thursday and went to catechism class, at St. Jarlath's Roman Catholic church. She then went home, took a short-handled axe and sat on it on the living room couch waiting for her aunt to return from work.

Mrs. Bunce, 55, arrived home from her clerk's job at the Oakland Naval Supply Center and exchanged "Hi" greetings with Patricia. She then asked the girl what she did with the $5 weekly allowance her uncle gave her.

A few minutes later the aunt walked into the living room and the girl swung the axe, hitting Mrs. Bunce on the left side of the head.

"Didn't Say a Word" "Auntie didn't say a word after the first time I hit her," police quoted the girl as saying. She then stabbed the woman with a butcher knife "until it bent," and then again with a bread knife.

The girl said she then stood on a washing machine near the door waiting to ambush her uncle. When the 54-year-old machinist arrived home from work she was unable to go through with the act. She dropped the axe and led him to his wife's slashed body.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said Mr. Eisenhower is considering some expansion of his one-day trip to Pittsburgh next Tuesday.

Hagerly said Mr. Eisenhower will extend his western campaign trip this month an extra day in Seattle, Wash. However, no new stops were planned.

The White House announced the expanded trip Thursday just after Vice President Richard M. Nixon reported to the Chief Executive on his own 16-day campaign trip through 32 states.

One of Nixon's recommendations was reported to be that Mr. Eisenhower visit more states where key GOP candidates are running.

TORTUOUS CLIMB—By sheer grit and straining muscles, rescuers haul severely injured fisherman Leonard Lowry, 23, up 3000-foot cliff of Bald Rock Canyon near Oroville, Calif. Lowry, who is given "an excellent chance" of survival, was fishing with two companions when he slipped from a rock and was swept over the 30-foot Bald Canyon Falls of the Feather River. The mass rescue effort took nearly 14 hours.

Wife of Convicted Illinois Auditor Hints Others May Be Involved in Scandal

Chicago—UPI—Mrs. Orville E. Hodge told U.S. Senate investigators Thursday "somebody made a lot of money and I am the fall guy" in her husband's embezzlement of more than one million dollars in state funds.

The wife of the former Illinois state auditor met in a three-hour conference with investigators of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee looking into Hodge's misuse of public money.

Hodge resigned his post and withdrew as the Republican candidate for reelection. Later, he was sentenced to 12 to 15 years in prison.

Senate investigator Robert Wallace summoned Mrs. Hodge for questioning following her published statement that others were involved in the embezzlement.

Mrs. Hodge told Wallace he should ask "the other woman" in her husband's life, Bonita Lillie, for information about the case.

Miss Lillie, an interior decorator, has been described as Hodge's companion during his visits to Chicago.

"I feel the full story is not out," Mrs. Hodge said. She refused to answer questions from newsmen outside the conference room, but Wallace briefed the reporters on parts of her conversation.

She denied knowledge of how much money her husband made off with from the state treasury through fraudulent checks.

"They say it was 1 1/2 million dollars. Why don't they prove it?" she said. "I don't have the money."

Earlier this week, she disclosed she had hired Morris Shenker, a St. Louis attorney, to make an attempt to regain some of the estate she and her husband turned over to the state to make up funds spent by Hodge.

Army Developing Weapons To Reduce Plane Dependence

Abendeen Proving Ground, Md.—UPI—The Army is developing new atomic weapons that are expected to reduce its dependence on air force fighter planes for battlefield support.

Among them is a relatively light weight 175 mm cannon which apparently can fire atomic shells.

The new cannon is a marked contrast to the cumbersome 280 mm atomic cannon of which the Army was so proud only a few years ago.

The 175 mm cannon was included in a group of weapons demonstrated Thursday for about 6,000 members and guests of the American Ordnance Association.

The weapons can fire atomic explosives from a few miles to almost 200 miles ahead of troops; at the battlefield.

The weapons are a vital factor in current Pentagon discussions about reducing the planned size of the Air Force.

Such manpower cuts probably would fall heaviest on the Tactical Air Command, the Air Force and that works closest with the Army.

Some experts believe that the 175 mm cannon would play a powerful role in knocking out battlefield targets now assigned to much more expensive fighter-bombers.

At Thursday's demonstration, the Army also announced that its 60-foot Redstone missile "will soon take its place" in the nation's arsenal.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, chief of the Huntsville, Ala., Army ballistic missile agency, claimed that the Redstone is "completely immune to any presently known types of counter-measures" or defenses.

The Redstone can fire either conventional or atomic warheads and has a reported range of up to 200 miles.

10 Persons Killed In Auto Collision

Virden, Man.—UPI—Ten persons were killed and one seriously injured late Thursday night when two automobiles collided head-on on the Trans-Canada Highway 10 miles southeast of here.

It was the second case of 10 deaths from a single traffic accident in as many days. About 24 hours earlier, 10 persons died in a highway collision at Muncie, Ind.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police said there were six persons in one car and only the driver survived. All five in the other car were killed.

The cars were both 1955 models. One was registered in Saskatchewan and the other in Manitoba.

Four of the victims were children. A woman and the four children were killed in a car bearing Saskatchewan license plates. A man driving the car was in serious condition in a hospital at Virden. Five men in the other car, which was owned by Standard Oil Company, were killed instantly.

Police said all six persons in the Saskatchewan car were thrown clear of the wreckage. Three men in the other car, believed to have come from Virden, were thrown clear and the two others were trapped in the vehicle.

Polish Trawler Sinks; 10 Crewmen Trapped

Ijmuiden, The Netherlands—UPI—A capsized Polish trawler sank in the North Sea late Thursday night with 10 crew members trapped inside in a huge air bubble that kept them alive for more than six hours.

A Norwegian rescue tug rushing to the scene with cutting torches to free the men was only 55 miles away when the fishing vessel Cyranka disappeared beneath the storm-whipped waves.

The trapped men were kept alive to the last minute by the big bubble in the hull, witnesses said. They were heard beating frantically on the steel walls of the ship as it sank.
