

ILLINOIS VALLEY Two In Race For Mayor

By FRANK STRICKLAND
Cave Junction—The city of Cave Junction will elect a mayor at the polls Nov. 6. Present mayor, Elwood Hussey, has filed for reelection. Mayor Hussey's opponent will be garage-man Carrol Banks.

Banks was "drafted" last week by a citizens group composed of James M. McDermott, publisher of the Illinois Valley News; Carl Hammer, owner of Model Market; Kenneth Hamilton, Illinois Valley Hardware; Larry Cushing, local attorney; Marshall B. Burrows, insurance man; Orville Merideth, service station operator; Lee Jacobs, former manager Cave City Auto Parts; George Simmonds, owner, Valley Drug; Bill Howland, Western Auto Supply and Jewell Bunch, operator of the local shoe shop.

Hussey, who established the town as "Cave City" in 1926, is one of the town's most enthusiastic boosters and has served three two-year terms as its mayor. Mr. Banks, drafted opponent for the non-paying office, came to Cave Junction approximately three years ago and established the Banks Automotive Service. The mayoralty race is developing into a hot issue and it is said that three of the original "drafting" committee do not reside within the city limits. The town, now officially Cave Junction, was incorporated eight years ago.

No rain of measurable quantity has fallen on this valley since last May yet the country is as fresh and green as of normal years. Despite the fact the water table here has dropped several feet below the average summer level, domestic supply has not been curtailed. While the ground surface is dry as usual during summer seasons, no serious fires have been reported from lookout stations in this vicinity. No prospects of an early rain are in sight.

Monroe Sweetland, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, told a luncheon gathering at the Todelope Cafe last week that the governor's race in Oregon, this year, is as important as that of the office of U. S. Senator. Sweetland said the election of a democratic governor is necessary to make Oregon a two-party state. The candidate, who referred to himself as a publisher, said the office he seeks has been controlled by Republicans for 78 years. The speaker said Sen. Wayne L. Morse will win and that State Senator Robert Holmes, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, is "making gains". He urged Illinois Valley Democrats to make a special effort in Holmes' behalf. The speaker failed to mention his own candidacy as he dealt with the subject of voter registration in Josephine County. He accused the county clerk of "chiseling" when told the official refused to give more than two sample ballots to a representative of the Democrat Central committee. Sweetland said Republicans were "devoting more time and energy towards keeping potential Democrats from registering than in promoting their own candidates."

Gibbons' Super Market, one mile south of Cave Junction on highway 199, has attached a large painted bulletin to their existing two-way neon sign. According to the new sign the market will be open between the hours of 8 a. m. and 9 p. m.

According to reliable information released on this season's big game hunting, 250,000 Oregon deer hunters purchased $8,000 worth of liquor for the opening day's hunt. Whiskey in Oregon is sold only by the state and its authorized agents who operate under direct supervision of the Liquor Control commission. Stores in major cities are manned by state employees while smaller towns are served by agency dealers.

According to information released at a meeting of the Democratic club of the Illinois Valley Monday, U. S. Senator Richard L. Neuberger and Mrs. Neuberger will visit Cave Junction Tuesday, Oct. 16, in the interest of the candidacy of Wayne Morse for reelection to the senate and other candidates on the Democrat ticket. Tentative plans were made at the meeting to entertain the distinguished couple at a luncheon rally at the Todelope Cafe in Cave Junction. It was also announced at the meeting that a pie social would be given by the club Sat. Oct. 13 starting at 8 p. m. at the Legion Hall. The public is invited. Special representative, Harold H. McKenzie, of the United Brotherhood Carpenters and Joiners of America, was the principal speaker at the club meeting. McKenzie, who maintains an office at Grants Pass, talked at length on the subject of voter registration and accused the present Josephine County clerk of trying to block voting of the laboring class by making it as difficult as possible for them to register.

Harry G. Heathman of Cranuel, Calif., asked for an appeal last week following a court citation for driving "40 miles an hour through a 20-mile school zone" at Cave Junction. Heathman was represented by Atty. Wm. M. Sloan of Grants Pass. The request for appeal to a higher court was heard by municipal judge Paul Glines, Heathman, who posted $25 bail for the alleged traffic violation, claimed it isn't possible for an officer on the side lines to clock the exact rate of speed of a motor vehicle as it passes a fixed point. The arresting officer claimed he determined the speed of the Heathman car while following it to issue the citation. According to Judge Glines if the defendant wins his case in the county court his (Heathman's) posted bail will be refunded. Larry Cushing, City Attorney, represented the town in the appeal hearing.

HORN BROOK C. Grieve Hit By Own Car

By MRS. H. H. CHAPMAN
Hornbrook—Charles Grieve, superintendent of Henley-Hornbrook cemetery, suffered minor injuries Monday noon when he was knocked down by his own car. He had made a call at the Orson Coleman ranch, and, on leaving, parked his car to go back and close the gate. As he was doing so, the brakes on his car let go and it rolled backward, knocking him down. The car came to rest in a small ditch.

Coleman had observed the incident from a distance and ran to his aid. Grieve is on the job, but is nursing assorted bumps and bruises.

The fall season of the Contract Bridge club got underway Tues. Oct. 2 with Mrs. Lester Nye as hostess for the opening game. Mrs. Duane Hamner won high score, and Mrs. Nye, second.

Other members playing were Mrs. Dave Holland, Mrs. Grace Quigley, Mrs. Bertha Bradley, and Mrs. Marshall Horn. Mrs. Fred Mills and Mrs. Frank Ohlund were guest players.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Haworth were his sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Haworth of Taft, Calif., a brother, C. C. Haworth of Hanford, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Sallis of Bakersfield.

Sen. Douglas in Oregon To Support Wayne Morse

Pendleton, Ore. — (UPI) — Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), flew into Pendleton today for a series of Oregon speeches in support of the reelection of Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

Douglas predicted a Democratic victory in November and accused the Republican party of inflicting what he called "cruel and unusual punishment" on President Eisenhower.

Bill would have, in this case, welcomed paying an income tax as he is hoping to get under social security and has all the requirements except an income.

He thinks Jackson county should have a manager like cities have. He also thinks the county should sell crushed rock to farmers for their driveway.

Recent week end visitors at the Arthur Doty home were Mrs. Charles Spring, Mrs. Doty's sister, Homer and Paul Preston, her two brothers, and her nephew, Lowell Preston, all of Lebanon, Ore.

Lowell Preston was seriously injured in an automobile accident more than two years ago and is still partially paralyzed. He is gradually getting better.

Mrs. Elwood Abbott of the Beagle district was a recent caller here. She said Elwood took his gun along, it being the first day of the open season for deer, when he went to the George Loftin farm to sow some grain for his neighbor, where he succeeded in bagging a nice fat buck and seeding 20 acres of grain. A pretty fair day's work, his better half thought.

Soft drink consumption in the U. S. averages 184.2 bottles per person a year.

AUDITED PAID CIRCULATION

A well known symbol is like a good reputation—difficult to establish and even more difficult to maintain.

During your daily activities—in your store or in your home—you come into contact with many trade marks that symbolize an assured measure of performance or quality. They may range from initials on an electrical appliance to words like "sterling" or "prime."

Like its counterparts, the membership symbol of the Audit Bureau of Circulations* provides you with a reliable measure of our circulation performance, based on the highest standards known for either print or broadcast media.

The A.B.C. symbol cannot be purchased—it must be earned through performance. Continued use of this symbol is predicated on our ability to maintain these highest standards of circulation value.

Whenever you think of advertising media, it will pay you to ask, "Does it measure up to A.B.C. standards?" You can be sure it does if you see the advertising columns of—
