

Mick Homers, Sturdivant Weathers Storm; Walt Alston Guesses Wrong As Yankees Pull Up Even in Series

New York—(U.P.)—Facts and figures on the World Series as of Monday morning:

Series standing—Dodgers won 2 games; Yankees won 2 games.

Winner—First team to win four games.

Today's game—The fifth, at Yankee Stadium, 1 p.m. EDT. Series favorite—Yankees, 7½-5.

Scores of preceding games—1st: Dodgers 6, Yankees 3; 2nd: Dodgers 13, Yankees 8; 3rd: Yankees 5, Dodgers 3; 4th: Yankees, 6, Dodgers 2.

Games after today—5th at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Tues.; 7th if necessary at Ebbets Field, on Wednesday.

Four-game figure totals—Attendance, 214,378; net receipts, $1,324,630.64; the commissioner's share, $199,194.50; players' share, $693,561.50; clubs' and leagues' share, $450,374.35. Players will share only in receipts of first four games.

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

New York—(U.P.)—Sal (The Barber) Maglie, the 39-year-old curve ball artist who has won so many crucial games in the past was called upon today as the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees, all even at two each, met in the fifth game of the World Series.

Maglie, who got the Dodgers off in front in the first game at Ebbets field on Wednesday, was entrusted with the task of putting the Brooks in front again, while Case Stengel, manager of the Yankees who smilingly admitted he "is feeling much better" sent Don Larsen, a fast ball righthander out to oppose the Brooklyn veteran.

Larsen was unable to hold a six run lead in the second game of the series, which the Dodgers won, 13-8, although he was ahead 6-1 when he was taken out of the box. But he left the bases loaded and he was charged with four of the six unearned runs the Dodgers scored in the second inning of that game.

The sixth game will be played at Ebbets field Tuesday and if a seventh game is necessary it also will be played at Ebbets field on Wednesday.

Both Stengel and Alston went with the same lineups they used yesterday when the Yankees, behind the six-hit pitching of Tom Sturdivant evened the series at two games all with a 6-2 triumph.

The Yankees were favored 6½ to 5 to win today's game and 7 to 5 to win the series.

That "Yankee stadium jinx" was very much in evidence Sunday when Tom Sturdivant sweated it out for nine innings to even the Series.

The Dodgers never looked worse as they failed to take advantage of the fact that Sturdivant allowed the first batter to reach base in seven of the nine innings and obviously was struggling all the day. Carl Erskine fell behind, 1-0, in the first inning when Collins hit a double and Yogi Berra singled and yielded two more runs in the fourth when Alston made the first of his controversial decisions.

Slaughter Purposely Walked
Mickey Mantle had walked to open the inning and stole second base as Yogi Berra struck out.

With the score tied at 1-1 Alston ordered Enos Slaughter purposely passed and Bill Martin promptly upset the strategy by drilling a clean single to left center, delivering Mantle and sending Slaughter to third from where he served on McDougald's sacrifice fly.

In the bottom of the fifth, Alston also guessed wrong when he sent slow-footed pinch-hitter Al Walker up to bat for Erskine.

Honduras Police Fire On Demonstrators

Tegucigalpa, Honduras—(U.P.)—Police opened fire on a crowd of election demonstrators Sunday, killing one person and wounding at least four others.

Police refused to make a statement and said they would not announce the number of injured until today when they could check hospitals.

Police with rifles stood guard at the street corners in Tegucigalpa to prevent just such disorders from breaking out but a demonstration began in the late afternoon in front of the opposition liberal party headquarters.

The firing lasted at least five minutes. Correspondents saw at least five persons fall wounded, including one woman shot in the leg as she ran.

Use Tribune Want Ads
Easy, Just Dial 2-6141

after Carl Furillo was safe on Andy Carey's error and Roy Campanella hit a single to start the frame. Alston admitted he was "hunching for the long ball" but he guessed wrong as Walker hit into a double play.

Mantle homered in the sixth, 430 feet into the right center field bleachers and Hank Bauer walloped a two-run homer in the seventh to make it 6-1 as the Dodgers made their last bid in the ninth.

Jackie Robinson's double, two walks and Campanella's pop-fly single produced one run but Sturdivant fanned pinch-hitter Ransom Jackson and retired Gilliam on a fly to Mantle to end it.

On the bulletin board of the Dodger club house in Yankee Stadium, there is the cryptic message:

"Good luck, Dodgers"—Signed "Mickey."

PITCHERS SHOULD BAT
New York—(U.P.)—Rival Managers Casey Stengel and Walt Alston might be better off forgetting about pinchhitters during the World Series and letting their pitchers bat for themselves.

Pinch-hitters have collected only one hit in nine tries for an inglorious 11.1 percentage in the Series while pitchers have collected six hits in 18 official bats for very respectable 33.3 mark.

COUGH SLOWS REESE
New York—(U.P.)—PeeWee Reese is batting .333 in this World Series, but imagine how he'd be doing if he were healthy.

The Dodgers' captain and shortstop has been laboring with a chest cold since the start of the classic. He has a hacking cold and plainly feels worse every day. It's a cinch he won't get any rest, though, for at least two more days.

BASEBALLS SWIPED
New York—(U.P.)—There's no love lost between Coach Frank Crosetti of the Yankees and those bandmen who tinkle in center field before each World Series game at Yankee stadium.

"Some of those guys with the tin horns are swiping baseballs," growled Crosetti, who's the Yankee vice president-in-charge of the baseballs-used-in-practice.

Miss Burford was described as very active in community affairs. She worked as a receptionist here for a physician.

The attractive girl was last seen alive Saturday evening when she left a church social.

THE BEASTLY LUXURY
New York—(U.P.)—A new $350,000 animal shelter that opened here today features soft music, running water and red hydrants.

PRUNE DRYER BURNS
Newberg—(U.P.)—Damage was estimated at more than $50,000 today from a fire which destroyed a prune dryer near here yesterday. Cause of the blaze was not known.

charge of the baseballs-used-in-practice.

Frankfurt, Germany—(U.P.)—Some 400 chefs from 10 European countries and the United States here for the international cooking art fair, went on a busman's holiday Sunday night. They all went out to dinner.

JAPANESE STRIKE
Tokyo—(U.P.)—Japan's booming shipbuilding industry came to a temporary halt today when some 50,000 workers at the nation's major shipbuilding yards went out on a strike.

MEDFORD TRIBUNE SPORTS

TOYING WITH BASEBALL, Don Larson (left), New York Yankees and Don Newcombe, Brooklyn Dodgers, discuss rain which gave them extra day of rest before they pitch second World Series game. (International Soundphoto)

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice, it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Mrs. D. M.—Our daughter is brooding over a broken engagement.

Cynthia M.—I want to be left alone.

Mrs. D. M.—We are so unhappy about our daughter. A year ago she was a happy girl, planning to be married in the spring. Suddenly she broke off with the young man and will give no explanations. Ever since, she has stayed at home brooding. She cries a lot. She does not want to go out with anyone, not even her old girl friends. Everyone has tried to cheer her up, but she doesn't respond to anything. I'm afraid she is having a nervous breakdown and needs to go to a psychiatrist.

Our family and friends are all heartbroken about the broken engagement because this young man was exceptionally handsome and well off and comes of a wonderful family. Perhaps things can still be patched up.

Cynthia M.—I'm not having a nervous breakdown, but I surely will if everyone doesn't stop bothering me. Everyone is dying to know why we broke off and wants so much to "patch things up" that I refuse to discuss it at all. After all, it's my private business. I don't want to see my old friends because they, too, ask me questions or are in a terrible hurry to get me paired off with someone else.

I don't feel up to going out with other men just now. My job takes a lot out of me and I am glad to rest at home at the end of the day. If I don't get some privacy, I'm going to leave home.

The Council—It is taken for granted a girl has a right to be moody and cry while she nurses her broken heart for a time after a broken engagement. Most parents and friends are prepared to respect this right, although they may cast anxious glances and make annoying little "cheer up" gestures.

But Cynthia has turned in a fire alarm with her secretiveness about the broken engagement. An engagement is a public declaration of private feelings. If the declaration is revoked, the public becomes concerned and curious. Although it is not always possible to satisfy the curiosity of the public at large, Cynthia's parents, at least, are entitled to some explanation. Because they are kept so much in the dark, they develop all kinds of fears and, unable to offer any help themselves, think in terms of seeking outside help.

Cynthia's secretiveness has gotten her a lot of attention, which she may be enjoying. The more pressure put on her, the less she feels inclined to give up an attitude which offers her some satisfaction at this trying period. She should consider the reasons for the broken engagement might help her to clarify her own mind and feelings, even if her parents can't agree with her. Any casual explanation will do as far as friends are concerned.

College Graduates Enlarge Population

Washington—(U.P.)—College graduates are contributing substantially to the nation's baby boom, the Population Reference Bureau said Sunday night.

"The no-child and the one-child family pattern so popular among college graduates a generation ago is being replaced by the three or more child family," the bureau's monthly bulletin said.

"In this," it added, "the college graduate more closely follows the national trend than was the case a generation ago. Today's graduates are marrying younger and starting their families earlier."

Sidelights On Series

FORGED MICKEY'S NAME
New York—(U.P.)—It actually looks like Mickey Mantle's handwriting but a forger is suspected.

On the bulletin board of the Dodger club house in Yankee Stadium, there is the cryptic message:

"Good luck, Dodgers"—Signed "Mickey."

PITCHERS SHOULD BAT
New York—(U.P.)—Rival Managers Casey Stengel and Walt Alston might be better off forgetting about pinchhitters during the World Series and letting their pitchers bat for themselves.

Pinch-hitters have collected only one hit in nine tries for an inglorious 11.1 percentage in the Series while pitchers have collected six hits in 18 official bats for very respectable 33.3 mark.

COUGH SLOWS REESE
New York—(U.P.)—PeeWee Reese is batting .333 in this World Series, but imagine how he'd be doing if he were healthy.

The Dodgers' captain and shortstop has been laboring with a chest cold since the start of the classic. He has a hacking cold and plainly feels worse every day. It's a cinch he won't get any rest, though, for at least two more days.

BASEBALLS SWIPED
New York—(U.P.)—There's no love lost between Coach Frank Crosetti of the Yankees and those bandmen who tinkle in center field before each World Series game at Yankee stadium.

"Some of those guys with the tin horns are swiping baseballs," growled Crosetti, who's the Yankee vice president-in-charge of the baseballs-used-in-practice.

Frankfurt, Germany—(U.P.)—Some 400 chefs from 10 European countries and the United States here for the international cooking art fair, went on a busman's holiday Sunday night. They all went out to dinner.

JAPANESE STRIKE
Tokyo—(U.P.)—Japan's booming shipbuilding industry came to a temporary halt today when some 50,000 workers at the nation's major shipbuilding yards went out on a strike.

Attendance, 214,378; net receipts, $1,324,630.64; the commissioner's share, $199,194.50; players' share, $693,561.50; clubs' and leagues' share, $450,374.35. Players will share only in receipts of first four games.

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

New York—(U.P.)—Sal (The Barber) Maglie, the 39-year-old curve ball artist who has won so many crucial games in the past was called upon today as the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees, all even at two each, met in the fifth game of the World Series.

Maglie, who got the Dodgers off in front in the first game at Ebbets field on Wednesday, was entrusted with the task of putting the Brooks in front again, while Case Stengel, manager of the Yankees who smilingly admitted he "is feeling much better" sent Don Larsen, a fast ball righthander out to oppose the Brooklyn veteran.

Larsen was unable to hold a six run lead in the second game of the series, which the Dodgers won, 13-8, although he was ahead 6-1 when he was taken out of the box. But he left the bases loaded and he was charged with four of the six unearned runs the Dodgers scored in the second inning of that game.

The sixth game will be played at Ebbets field Tuesday and if a seventh game is necessary it also will be played at Ebbets field on Wednesday.

Both Stengel and Alston went with the same lineups they used yesterday when the Yankees, behind the six-hit pitching of Tom Sturdivant evened the series at two games all with a 6-2 triumph.

The Yankees were favored 6½ to 5 to win today's game and 7 to 5 to win the series.

That "Yankee stadium jinx" was very much in evidence Sunday when Tom Sturdivant sweated it out for nine innings to even the Series.

The Dodgers never looked worse as they failed to take advantage of the fact that Sturdivant allowed the first batter to reach base in seven of the nine innings and obviously was struggling all the day. Carl Erskine fell behind, 1-0, in the first inning when Collins hit a double and Yogi Berra singled and yielded two more runs in the fourth when Alston made the first of his controversial decisions.

Slaughter Purposely Walked
Mickey Mantle had walked to open the inning and stole second base as Yogi Berra struck out.

With the score tied at 1-1 Alston ordered Enos Slaughter purposely passed and Bill Martin promptly upset the strategy by drilling a clean single to left center, delivering Mantle and sending Slaughter to third from where he served on McDougald's sacrifice fly.

In the bottom of the fifth, Alston also guessed wrong when he sent slow-footed pinch-hitter Al Walker up to bat for Erskine.

Honduras Police Fire On Demonstrators

Tegucigalpa, Honduras—(U.P.)—Police opened fire on a crowd of election demonstrators Sunday, killing one person and wounding at least four others.

Police refused to make a statement and said they would not announce the number of injured until today when they could check hospitals.

Police with rifles stood guard at the street corners in Tegucigalpa to prevent just such disorders from breaking out but a demonstration began in the late afternoon in front of the opposition liberal party headquarters.

The firing lasted at least five minutes. Correspondents saw at least five persons fall wounded, including one woman shot in the leg as she ran.

Use Tribune Want Ads
Easy, Just Dial 2-6141

Boy, 17, Wanted In Murder of Girl

Lancaster, Calif.—(U.P.)—Authorities today issued an all points bulletin for a local youth wanted for questioning about the brutal knife slaying of a 20-year-old church-going receptionist.

Sheriff deputies said Charles Ramon Elms, 17, vanished shortly after the pajama-clad body of Jodie Dian Burford was found in her home early Sunday. Officers said the victim had been stabbed five times with a wood-handled carving knife which was found in the home.

Authorities said the suspect was a friend of the victim's brother, Hal, 15. The brother told police he found his sister's body sprawled on the living room floor. Tests were being made at the county coroner's office to determine if the victim was criminally attacked.

Miss Burford was described as very active in community affairs. She worked as a receptionist here for a physician.

The attractive girl was last seen alive Saturday evening when she left a church social.

THE BEASTLY LUXURY
New York—(U.P.)—A new $350,000 animal shelter that opened here today features soft music, running water and red hydrants.

PRUNE DRYER BURNS
Newberg—(U.P.)—Damage was estimated at more than $50,000 today from a fire which destroyed a prune dryer near here yesterday. Cause of the blaze was not known.

charge of the baseballs-used-in-practice.

Frankfurt, Germany—(U.P.)—Some 400 chefs from 10 European countries and the United States here for the international cooking art fair, went on a busman's holiday Sunday night. They all went out to dinner.

JAPANESE STRIKE
Tokyo—(U.P.)—Japan's booming shipbuilding industry came to a temporary halt today when some 50,000 workers at the nation's major shipbuilding yards went out on a strike.

Attendance, 214,378; net receipts, $1,324,630.64; the commissioner's share, $199,194.50; players' share, $693,561.50; clubs' and leagues' share, $450,374.35. Players will share only in receipts of first four games.

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

New York—(U.P.)—Sal (The Barber) Maglie, the 39-year-old curve ball artist who has won so many crucial games in the past was called upon today as the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees, all even at two each, met in the fifth game of the World Series.

Maglie, who got the Dodgers off in front in the first game at Ebbets field on Wednesday, was entrusted with the task of putting the Brooks in front again, while Case Stengel, manager of the Yankees who smilingly admitted he "is feeling much better" sent Don Larsen, a fast ball righthander out to oppose the Brooklyn veteran.

Larsen was unable to hold a six run lead in the second game of the series, which the Dodgers won, 13-8, although he was ahead 6-1 when he was taken out of the box. But he left the bases loaded and he was charged with four of the six unearned runs the Dodgers scored in the second inning of that game.

The sixth game will be played at Ebbets field Tuesday and if a seventh game is necessary it also will be played at Ebbets field on Wednesday.

Both Stengel and Alston went with the same lineups they used yesterday when the Yankees, behind the six-hit pitching of Tom Sturdivant evened the series at two games all with a 6-2 triumph.

The Yankees were favored 6½ to 5 to win today's game and 7 to 5 to win the series.

That "Yankee stadium jinx" was very much in evidence Sunday when Tom Sturdivant sweated it out for nine innings to even the Series.

The Dodgers never looked worse as they failed to take advantage of the fact that Sturdivant allowed the first batter to reach base in seven of the nine innings and obviously was struggling all the day. Carl Erskine fell behind, 1-0, in the first inning when Collins hit a double and Yogi Berra singled and yielded two more runs in the fourth when Alston made the first of his controversial decisions.

Slaughter Purposely Walked
Mickey Mantle had walked to open the inning and stole second base as Yogi Berra struck out.

With the score tied at 1-1 Alston ordered Enos Slaughter purposely passed and Bill Martin promptly upset the strategy by drilling a clean single to left center, delivering Mantle and sending Slaughter to third from where he served on McDougald's sacrifice fly.

In the bottom of the fifth, Alston also guessed wrong when he sent slow-footed pinch-hitter Al Walker up to bat for Erskine.

Honduras Police Fire On Demonstrators

Tegucigalpa, Honduras—(U.P.)—Police opened fire on a crowd of election demonstrators Sunday, killing one person and wounding at least four others.

Police refused to make a statement and said they would not announce the number of injured until today when they could check hospitals.

Police with rifles stood guard at the street corners in Tegucigalpa to prevent just such disorders from breaking out but a demonstration began in the late afternoon in front of the opposition liberal party headquarters.

The firing lasted at least five minutes. Correspondents saw at least five persons fall wounded, including one woman shot in the leg as she ran.

Use Tribune Want Ads
Easy, Just Dial 2-6141

Pope Innocent XI Beatified in Rites

Vatican City—(U.P.)—Innocent XI, the 17th century Pope who saved Europe from an invading Turkish army, was raised Sunday to the state of a "blessed" in beatification ceremonies at the Vatican.

Later, Pope Plus XII drove into Rome from his summer home of Castel Gandolfo and prayed for inspiration before the relics of the 17th century merchant's son who left a banker's desk for the throne of St. Peter's.

Beatification is the last step before Innocent XI is canonized as a saint.

Comedienne Martha Raye Awarded Mexico Divorce
Juarez, Mexico—(U.P.)—Singer-comedienne Martha Raye was divorced from her fifth husband in a Mexican civil court action during the week end.

Civil Judge Jorge Martinez Aguayo granted the divorce to Edward Begley, Miss Raye's husband, in a brief hearing. Neither Begley nor Miss Raye appeared in court.

CHEFS EAT OUT
Frankfurt, Germany—(U.P.)—Some 400 chefs from 10 European countries and the United States here for the international cooking art fair, went on a busman's holiday Sunday night. They all went out to dinner.

JAPANESE STRIKE
Tokyo—(U.P.)—Japan's booming shipbuilding industry came to a temporary halt today when some 50,000 workers at the nation's major shipbuilding yards went out on a strike.

Attendance, 214,378; net receipts, $1,324,630.64; the commissioner's share, $199,194.50; players' share, $693,561.50; clubs' and leagues' share, $450,374.35. Players will share only in receipts of first four games.

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

New York—(U.P.)—Sal (The Barber) Maglie, the 39-year-old curve ball artist who has won so many crucial games in the past was called upon today as the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees, all even at two each, met in the fifth game of the World Series.

Maglie, who got the Dodgers off in front in the first game at Ebbets field on Wednesday, was entrusted with the task of putting the Brooks in front again, while Case Stengel, manager of the Yankees who smilingly admitted he "is feeling much better" sent Don Larsen, a fast ball righthander out to oppose the Brooklyn veteran.

Larsen was unable to hold a six run lead in the second game of the series, which the Dodgers won, 13-8, although he was ahead 6-1 when he was taken out of the box. But he left the bases loaded and he was charged with four of the six unearned runs the Dodgers scored in the second inning of that game.

The sixth game will be played at Ebbets field Tuesday and if a seventh game is necessary it also will be played at Ebbets field on Wednesday.

Both Stengel and Alston went with the same lineups they used yesterday when the Yankees, behind the six-hit pitching of Tom Sturdivant evened the series at two games all with a 6-2 triumph.

The Yankees were favored 6½ to 5 to win today's game and 7 to 5 to win the series.

That "Yankee stadium jinx" was very much in evidence Sunday when Tom Sturdivant sweated it out for nine innings to even the Series.

The Dodgers never looked worse as they failed to take advantage of the fact that Sturdivant allowed the first batter to reach base in seven of the nine innings and obviously was struggling all the day. Carl Erskine fell behind, 1-0, in the first inning when Collins hit a double and Yogi Berra singled and yielded two more runs in the fourth when Alston made the first of his controversial decisions.

Slaughter Purposely Walked
Mickey Mantle had walked to open the inning and stole second base as Yogi Berra struck out.

With the score tied at 1-1 Alston ordered Enos Slaughter purposely passed and Bill Martin promptly upset the strategy by drilling a clean single to left center, delivering Mantle and sending Slaughter to third from where he served on McDougald's sacrifice fly.

In the bottom of the fifth, Alston also guessed wrong when he sent slow-footed pinch-hitter Al Walker up to bat for Erskine.

Honduras Police Fire On Demonstrators

Tegucigalpa, Honduras—(U.P.)—Police opened fire on a crowd of election demonstrators Sunday, killing one person and wounding at least four others.

Police refused to make a statement and said they would not announce the number of injured until today when they could check hospitals.

Police with rifles stood guard at the street corners in Tegucigalpa to prevent just such disorders from breaking out but a demonstration began in the late afternoon in front of the opposition liberal party headquarters.

The firing lasted at least five minutes. Correspondents saw at least five persons fall wounded, including one woman shot in the leg as she ran.

Use Tribune Want Ads
Easy, Just Dial 2-6141

Air Force Planes Crash In Flight Over Ohio

Logan, Ohio—(U.P.)—Two Air Force planes were reported to have collided in flight and crashed north of here today.

The Air Force base at Lockbourne near Columbus confirmed that two of its planes were "down." Spokesmen at the base said it had dispatched search teams to the area.

RED FACED OFFICIALS
Tokyo—(U.P.)—Japanese defense force officials, smarting under criticism they did not keep accurate inventories, ordered a recount of all materials. They meekly announced later the force had 65 more howitzers and 2,704 more machine guns than the records listed.

Comedienne Martha Raye Awarded Mexico Divorce
Juarez, Mexico—(U.P.)—Singer-comedienne Martha Raye was divorced from her fifth husband in a Mexican civil court action during the week end.

Civil Judge Jorge Martinez Aguayo granted the divorce to Edward Begley, Miss Raye's husband, in a brief hearing. Neither Begley nor Miss Raye appeared in court.

CHEFS EAT OUT
Frankfurt, Germany—(U.P.)—Some 400 chefs from 10 European countries and the United States here for the international cooking art fair, went on a busman's holiday Sunday night. They all went out to dinner.</