Commission members were told that although Oregon law requires judges to submit abstracts of all court convictions to the motor vehicle department, some courts were "extremely lax in complying."

Gains were well distributed through the industrial and railroad sections with the latter making the better percentage rise. A loss of more than a point in Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line was a drag on the utilities.

140 Appointments Made for Bloodmobile

Approximately 140 people had made appointments this morning to donate blood between 1 and 5 p.m. today, according to Red Cross officials.

The Bloodmobile will be at the Elks club in Medford between 1 and 5 p.m. Officials said donors were still coming in to the Red Cross office today to make appointments. The Medford Lions club has solicited 100 donors. A total of 250 donors will be necessary to meet Medford's quota. Officials emphasized that drop-in donors would be welcome this afternoon.

Residents of the Shady Cove area donated 70 pints of blood yesterday. This was 30 pints under the quota. Officials partially attributed failure to meet the quota to the fact that many residents are deer hunting out of town.

Representatives of the petroleum industry in Jackson county have solicited blood donors from the industry for the Bloodmobile visit today.

Fisherman's Catch Adds to Family Lore

Henderson Harbor, N.Y. — (UP) Harry W. Stevens has added a new fish story to the nearly 100-year family record of guiding in Lake Ontario waters.

Stevens made a leisurely cast from a dock near the center of this famous bass fishing spot. Four hours and 30 minutes later and nearly exhausted, he completed it.

The prize—a nine-pound carp. The marathon battle not only added to the Stevens family lore but raised the "coarse" carp considerably in the esteem of local anglers. Normally a bottom-feeder attracted by baits of dough, potatoes or other food particles, it was considered a rarity for the carp to rise to artificial lure.

Stevens used a five-pound leader, a spinning reel, glass rod and the artificial lure to land the fish.
