

Illness Strikes Other Tackle Position as Tornado Continues Drills for Friday Pel Contest

Outlook for the Medford high Black Tornado for its week end Southern Oregon conference football fracas with Klamath Falls suffered another setback and the Medford sick list added another name this morning when All - Conference tackle Neil Plumley went home from school with a case of flu.

It was the second blow at the tackle spots for the Black Tornado which is girding for a Friday night District 6 A-1 skirmish with the Pelicans at the Medford stadium. Larry Cranston preceded Plumley on the sick roster this week.

Whether the two regulars will be available Friday night and just how much duty they might be able to see were questions which just couldn't be answered this morning. But it appears that the burden may fall heavily on the shoulders of reserves.

Albert May Get Call
Frank Albert likely will get first call at the offensive left tackle slot if Cranston is not on hand. He'll be backed up by Jim Funston, center being taught the tackle chores and Pete Kershaw. If Plumley is on hand at right tackle, Bruce West probably will get the call with Jim Corum behind him.

On defense Dean Rickard, steady and reliable but unsure, may be assigned Cranston's spot with West at the other tackle. Two others who have been on the ailing list this week are left halfback Gary Riley and reserve guard Terry Miller. Riley is still under the weather but is expected to be on hand for action but Gordon Owsley may get the opening call on offense.

Coach Fred Spiegelberg has Dan Lovett, Mike Russell and Jay Walker to call up on to spell Riley on defense. Miller should be okeh on Friday, the mentor reported.

Medford with its regular lineup would outweigh the Klamath aggregation on average by several pounds per man but the clubs will be about even in the weight situation if the Tornado goes most of the way with its reserves.

The Klamathites lack their overall size of previous years but they have some good little men. Short on height, they are making up for it with a good supply of speed and high morale. They have a backfield of the pony variety to throw against Medford which has power as well as ponies.

The Pelicans will come to Medford with a morale boost of having played their best season last week end when they nipped Boise, Ida., 14 to 12. In the first half the Pels put forth an offensive thrust which had been a long time coming then rallied on defensive strength to keep on top.

Tornado Starter
On offense Medford may open with Larry Cople and Mike Stearns, ends, Albert and West or Plumley, tackles, Bob Apple and Tom Merton, guards, Dick Swinney, center, Dick McLaughlin, quarterback, Owsley or Riley left half, Eldon Francis, right half, and Bob Gee or Loren Christean, fullback.

For defense the opening lineup could see Cople and Stearns or Tom Hamlin, ends, Albert and Plumley or West, tackles, Bob Apple, middle guard, Merton, McLaughlin and Funston or Gee, linebackers, and Francis, Owsley and Gary Riley or Lovett, halfbacks.

Francis has been the workhorse among Medford backs, packing the ball 51 times. He has rushed for 352 yards for an average of 6.9 per carry. Christean with just 15 packs is next high in total yards as his mates have shaken him lose for 233 and a bulging 16.2 average.

Passing Threat
Owsley has 139 yards in 21 times for 6.6 and Riley 166 in 27 for 6.1. Gee has total 111 in 29 for 3.8, and Dick McLaughlin 104 in 29 for 3.6.

While Medford's main gains have been on the ground, its passing has been a threat, paying off in touchdowns. McLaughlin has been the main thrower with 12 completions for 26 casts. Receivers have hauled in three of five flung by Owsley.

So far this season the Tornado has collected 1576 yards from scrimmage to 1171 for foes. The averages compare at 335.2 to 234.2 yards per game. Medford has made 1182 yards on the ground, or 236.4 a game to rival's figures of 816 and 163.2.

In the air the Black Tornado has picked up 394, averaging out at 78.8 a game for five conflicts, while adversaries have 255 for 51.

Friday's game will start at 8:15 p.m.
The Tornado spent much time on defense yesterday, held a pass scrimmage and held a half-hour of 20-yard line speed scrimmage.

Football Briefs

DUCKS POLISH
Eugene, Ore. — (U.P.) — The University of Oregon Ducks polished up their passing attack Wednesday in preparation for Saturday's football game against the University of Washington Huskies.

Coach Len Casanova has apparently moved second-string quarterback Jack Crabtree into the starting spot in place of Tom Crabtree, the starter in the three games the Ducks have under their belts.

DEFENSIVE CONCERNS
Corvallis, Ore. — (U.P.) — Coach Tommy Prothro of the Oregon State Beavers stressed passing this week for Saturday's game with the University of California—but his primary concern was pass defense.

Prothro pointed out that the Golden Bears have one of the most formidable passing games in the conference, while passes have cost the Beavers dearly in the games played so far this season.

WSC GOES INSIDE
Pullman, Wash. — (U.P.) — The Washington State Cougars were driven to the field house Wednesday by the first heavy rain of the season, but they got plenty of defensive work designed to stop the strong UCLA running game.

Washington State currently ranks eighth in the nation in rushing defense, but Coach Jim Sutherland pointed out that his Cougars have played two of the nation's top three passing teams in their first three games, so the statistic doesn't mean very much.

HUSKIES TAPER
Seattle, Wash. — (U.P.) — The University of Washington Huskies have begun to taper off for Saturday's Pacific Coast Conference battle with the University of Oregon Ducks.

Coach Darrell Royal held dummy scrimmages and wind sprints Wednesday and remarked that his squad was in fine shape physically, with only one man on the injured list.

INDIAN CHANGES
Stanford, Calif. — (U.P.) — Coach Chuck Taylor of Stanford plans some personnel changes in the Indian first string to compensate for an increasing injury draw.

The Indians lost end Joel Freis Wednesday when the wingman suffered a strained leg which will sideline him for about two weeks. Team physicians also confirmed that tackle Jack McKenna, who suffered a back injury Tuesday, will be out of action for some time.

Berkeley, Calif. — (U.P.) — Quarterback Gus Gianulias of the University of California, feared out for the rest of the season with a knee injury, may be back in action in about two weeks, according to Coach Lynn Waldorf.

Team physician Dr. Harold Muller said he examined the knee and found the injury was not as bad as previously believed. Halfback John Stewart, injured in the Pitt game, will also miss Saturday's contest with Oregon State.

HICKMAN BACK
Los Angeles — (U.P.) — Halfback Don Hickman returned to action on the Southern California practice field Wednesday but didn't participate in any contact work.

Hickman was injured two weeks ago in the Oregon State game but was expected to play against Washington Oct. 20. The Trojans concluded their daily drill with a 30-minute passing scrimmage.

PASSING WORRIES
Los Angeles — (U.P.) — Coach Henry (Red) Sanders has indicated that he's worried about a strong passing attack Washington State might throw against his UCLA Bruins Saturday.

For the last four days Sanders has been stressing pass defense in practice. The Bruins, however, Wednesday also practiced passing under pressure with tailbacks Doug Bradley, Don Long and Ed Griffin doing most of the tossing.

Court Postpones Newcombe Case

New York — (U.P.) — Pitcher Don Newcombe of the Brooklyn Dodgers appeared at Flatbush magistrate's court in Brooklyn today to answer charges of striking a fan and left promptly but reluctantly for Idlewild airport from where the team takes off around noon for a tour of Japan.

Newcombe ended the mystery of his overnight disappearance when he revealed that he actually had spent the night at his home in Colonia, N. J., but had asked his wife to tell callers that he was not there in order to avoid being harassed.

The Dodger pitcher's attorney, former magistrate Leo Healy, received a postponement of Newcombe's case until Nov. 19. Newcombe is charged with hitting a taunting fan, Michael Brown, after being knocked out of the box in last Friday's second World Series game.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THIRTEEN

Arizona Back Keeps Lead In Offense

New York — (U.P.) — Sophomore quarterback Ralph Hunsaker of Arizona clung to the national yard gaining leadership today despite a major shakeup in the official college football statistics.

Hunsaker reaped up 120 yards gained against Utah State on Saturday to run his total for the season to 628 yards gained, 554 passing and 74 rushing, according to figures released by the service bureau of the NCAA.

John Brodie of Stanford is second with 541 yards. Brodie has played in only three games to Hunsaker's four, but actually Brodie has taken part in more plays, 93, than Hunsaker, 91. Jack Hill of Utah State is third with 486 yards gained. Brodie is the national passing leader with 78 completions, while Hill is the new rushing leader with 81 yards.

Hill is a triple leader. In addition to holding the rushing lead, he's tops in points with 51 and in intercepted passes with five. To complete a brilliant all-around showing, he's third in total offense and eighth in punting.

OSC Arranging Honolulu Trip

Corvallis — (U.P.) — Roy "Spec" Keene, athletic director at Oregon state college, said today that negotiations are under way for the Beavers to play in the Hula Bowl at Honolulu in November of 1957.

Keene said if the game is agreed upon, the Beavers probably would play the University of Hawaii.

Theodore Searle, father of Oregon State quarterback Ted Searle, is manager of the Hula stadium and is handling negotiations.

Talent Junior High Eyes Football Success

Talent — With two victories already recorded and with 12 veterans among a turnout of 42 players, coach Merle Atkinson is hoping for continued Talent Junior High school football success this season.

The Gremhins had a fray slated at Phoenix today and are hosts to Ashland on Oct. 25. They have defeated Eagle Point 12 to 0 and St. Mary's of Medford 20 to 0.

FLECK BUYS SHARE

Detroit — (U.P.) — Jack Fleck, upset winner over Ben Hogan in the 1955 National Open championship, has bought a share in the Brooklands Golf club in suburban Rochester and will serve as head pro at the club. Fleck said he plans to spend the summers at the club and the winters on the pro circuit.

Rain Should Improve Success of Hunters

Portland — (U.P.) — The weekly report on hunting conditions prepared by the State Game Commission:

SOUTHWEST: Douglas county: Deer are abundant throughout Douglas county, but a good rain would increase hunter success. Coos-Curry counties: Deer hunting has been poor during the past week end due to extremely dry conditions.

Rain would improve the outlook for this week end. Many forest areas are closed because of dry weather.

Jackson - Josephine counties: Deer hunting may improve with rain. All ranges have been dry and noisy. Scattered small flocks of mallards, pintails, baldpates, and wood ducks will be found in the Rogue valley for opening week end of duck season.

Season for buck deer with not less than a forked antler extends to Oct. 21 in Jackson, Josephine, Douglas, Coos and Curry counties and the part of Klamath county west of Highway 97. A hunter's choice season within specified boundaries between Rogue river and Applegate will be open Nov. 24 to Dec. 2, inclusive, in Jackson and Josephine counties.

NORTHWEST: Buck deer hunting has been poor in Clatsop county. Success should improve with change in the weather. No open season for deer hunting in Tillamook county over the coming week end. Prospects for the special deer season, Oct. 17 and 18, in a part of the Tillamook burn will be poor.

Deer numbers are low in some areas, and cover is fair. Waterfowl hunting should be good on coastal bays with good numbers of pintails and baldpates present. Deer hunting is in the south Willamette area is expected to improve this week end. Unless considerable moisture falls before this week end, the deer are widely scattered at all elevations but are starting to move around. In the Ochoco forest prospects have improved a little. Central Oregon will be closed for deer hunting from Oct. 12th to the 16th, consult the synopsis for the boundaries. Many mountains have been poor, extremely dry.

Deer hunting should be fair in the upper deserts, scattered ducks on the Crooked river. West side of Klamath county, blacktails are on higher ridges, and success seems somewhat better. Brief good hunting on mushroom areas in Jack pine has been had.

NORTHEAST: Deer hunting has been generally slow due to the hot, dry conditions in the woods. Should there be a good general rain the either sex season should produce better areas in Umatilla county will be on the north fork of the John Day, Umatilla, and Kamela-Tollgate areas.

Grant county should produce in Bates, Susanville, along the middle fork of the John Day river. Dry Soda outlook. Fall mountain outlook and Wheeler county should have good success in the Twickenham and Cherry creek areas. Waterfowl hunting will be better if rain should fall by opening week end. Migrations are in most areas.

SOUTHEAST: Deer hunting results have been fair. In Malheur county best luck for hunting deer is experienced in the bottom lands where the deer are coming into the alfalfa fields. The Steens mountains in Harney county have been very good buck hunting. This rugged country, however, should be traveled in high wheeled rigs.

In the Summer Lake area the birds are coming in in large numbers. In the Warner valley area there are several hundred thousand ducks in flocks of mallards, pintails, baldpates, and 10 to 12 thousand geese. Few snow geese have yet arrived but are coming in. Hunting on the public shooting grounds will not be too productive until more migrant geese have arrived.

Malheur shooting ground hunting prospects are fair. Birds are abundant. The checking station will be located at the narrow this year. Birds present are predominately mallards and pintails and a good number of Canada geese. No geese are present in the Jordan valley area.

SCORES RELAYED
Coruna, Mich. — (U.P.) — Circuit Judge Michael Carland, an ardent baseball fan, couldn't watch or listen to the final World Series game because he had to hear court cases. Carland solved the problem by sending Sheriff Glen Vandansede out to get the scores and relay them to him.

REGIONAL MITT TRIALS
Stockton, Calif. — (U.P.) — The Western Regional trials for the Olympic boxing team got underway here tonight with more than 50 men from six Western states and Hawaii competing. Winners will be eligible to compete in the Olympic trials at the San Francisco Cow Palace next week.

Cary Middlecoff Defends Western Open Golf Crown

Al Williams, golf pro at Rogue Valley Country club, is among participants in the Western Open Golf tournament at San Francisco.

By HAL WOOD
San Francisco — (U.P.) — Dr. Cary Middlecoff sets out to defend one of his numerous golfing crowns here today when play gets underway in the $22,500 Western Open Golf championship.

The tournament, played over the short but confining Presidio Golf club course, has attracted the nation's top professional and amateur stars in the battle for gold and glory.

Middlecoff, who also currently holds the National Open title, doesn't tee off until 12:23 p.m.—but some of the unlucky ones in the draw will hit their first ball through the fog and dampness at 6:15 a.m. PST. The large field of 168 necessitated the early teeing off time. It gets dark here around 6 p.m.

Watch Venturi
Off his record, Middlecoff has to be the favorite. But California State Amateur Champion Ken Venturi may be the man to beat. Venturi, a local product, has been practicing diligently on this course for the last month. He served notice Wednesday that he was in tip-top condition when he fired a six-under-par 66 with six birdies and no bogies.

"The man who wins this tournament will have to be straight off the tee," said Middlecoff. "After that it is just a matter of how close you can come to the pins on your short approaches. If you stray on your tee shot, however, you're in trouble. The rough is high and every hole is tree-lined."

Naturally, Middlecoff is known as one of the straightest drivers in the business. So he shouldn't have too much trouble.

Playing with Venturi as a partner in an exhibition match watched by 4,000 fans, Middlecoff had a 75. The big attraction, of course, happened to be Bing Crosby and Bob Hope.

A team captained by Crosby, and also including National Amateur Champion Harvie Ward and professionals Doug Ford and Mike Souchak, beat the Hope team with an aggregate score of 305 compared with 310. Souchak had a 72, Ward 75, Ford 77 and Crosby a very good 81.

On the Hope team were Venturi, Middlecoff and long-hitting George Bayer. Bayer, had an 80, Hope a generous 95.

have something to say about leadership. These include such well-known aces as Tommy Bolt, Porky Oliver, Bob Toski, Jim Ferrier, Frank Stranahan, Dutch Harrison, Jerry Barber, Ed Furgol and Bobby Rosburg.

Talent High To Oppose Jacksonville

Talent — Light drills have been the order of business this week for the Talent high Bulldog footballers. They'll try to make it two in a row in the Jackson County B league Friday night when they oppose Jacksonville here.

Coach Dick Thorpe said that his Bulldog charges have drilled considerably on pass defense.

Jacksonville and Talent have played one common rival, Eagle Point, with the results about the same. The Redskins fell 57 to 7 to the Eagles while the Bulldogs lost 50 to 0. That would indicate a toss up here Friday.

Tycksen Back
Thorpe said that Frank Tycksen, who missed two games because of his hip ailment, is scheduled to be back in the line-up at right half back Mike Jacobs, who held down the position last week end, is laid up with similar trouble.

Brooklyn Dodgers Leave on Trip

New York — (U.P.) — The Brooklyn Dodgers were scheduled to leave by plane today on the first leg of their tour of the Pacific and Japan.

The Dodgers making the tour, however, will be slightly changed from the team that just finished the World Series. Staying home will be one group of players for various reasons, and joining the squad will be others who were ineligible for the World Series.

Among those remaining behind are pitcher Sal Maglie and outfielder Carl Furillo, who have pressing matters at home. Some others, like Charley Neal and Sandy Koufax, will play winter ball in the Caribbean.

quarterback Gus Gianulias. Blocking for him are his teammates, Darrell Lewis, quarterback, and Dan Wisniewski, a guard. —(International)

New York — (U.P.) — The American league was in as deep mourning today as those battered Brooklyn Dodgers, humiliated losers in the all-or-nothing final of the World Series.

The American league, which couldn't get a challenger closer than nine games in the pennant race, has to face the Yanks all over again next season.

Brooklyn certainly doesn't envy the Yankees' season rivals, for in the final analysis the Dodgers were really creamed.

One Anemic Run
Over the last 23 innings, Brooklyn was able to get only seven hits and one anemic run. Don Larsen belted them with a perfect no-hitter, the first in Series history, in the fifth game. Bullet Bob Turley was beaten but he gave the Brooks only four hits and one measly run in the sixth contest. And then Johnny Kucks pulled the string Wednesday to shut them out with a magnificent three-hitter.

Yogi Berra was the co-hero, along with Kucks, of that wrap-up triumph. His pair of two-run homers put Don Newcombe, a

BAKERS WIN IN SPAIN
Barcelona, Spain — (U.P.) — Former University of Washington stars Doyle Perkins and Charles Koons paced the touring Buchan Bakers of Seattle, Wash., to an easy 77-48 basketball victory Wednesday night over a Spanish all-star team. Perkins scored 15 points and Koons netted 14 for the winners, the U.S. National AAU champions.

CLUB SHAKE-UP SEEN
Chicago — (U.P.) — The major officials of the Chicago Cubs met with president and owner Philip K. Wrigley today in the first of a series of meetings which possibly will lead to a front office shakeup.

27 and Turley, Morgan and Bob Grim all 26. Reserve shortstop Billy Hunter is 28, third baseman Tom Carroll only 20 and outfielder Norm Siebern only 23.
