A Nichol's Worth of ... Comment On This and That

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Feature Writer

Washington (U.P.)—The score was 1-0 in the fourth when Doc Paul Marshman raised the dentist chair up a foot or so.

"Looks like a good day for the Yanks," the pleasant, sandy-haired molar-filler said. "We'll listen while we work—on the radio."

As the fifth inning started, Enos Slaughter, Billy Martin and Gil McDougald were scheduled to face Sal Maglie, Mel announced.

Doc Marshman started hauling out his gear. A tongue-sprinkler hooked to lowers. Rolls of packed cotton between check and gums.

"Slaughter..." said the announcer. The rest of the sentence was scrambled for me as the dentist, who must have had a hearing aid tied to his ear drums, started chipping away at ivory with his little pick.

What Happened

I wanted to ask what happened to Country Boy Slaughter, but not knowing sign or wig-wag, I didn't find out until I read it in the prints.

At the start of the sixth, there was a slight lull. But after Carl Furillo had popped up to Billy Martin of the Yanks, Doc started to fiddle-foxing around my mol-

Mutiny Reported Aboard Tuna Vessel

San Diego (U.P.)—Coast Guard officials said today the tuna boat Sportsman was heading towards a Mexican port after its skipper had reported "mutiny" aboard the 58-foot vessel.

The skipper, Capt. Ernest W. Bartel, 67, radioed the Coast Guard Wednesday that he was on the bridge with a shotgun holding off his knife-wielding crew of four.

The Coast Guard immediately dispatched a 95-foot cutter and a seaplane to investigate. The cutter reported Wednesday night that it had sighted the Sportsman 10 miles off Todos Santos Islands presumably heading towards Ensenada in Baja California. The fate of the skipper and crew, however, was not known.

TO DRIVE NO MORE

Winters, Calif. (U.P.)—Orville Salisbury, 96, who says he has been driving automobiles ever since they were invented, has agreed to drive no more. Salisbury made the promise recently when brought into court for driving without a license. He told the judge he never had one.
