Swiss Woman Dies Of Injuries From Riots in Hong Kong

Hong Kong — (U.P.) — A Swiss woman died here last night of injuries suffered in this week's savage anti-foreign riots, which authorities in this British China colony believe were organized by Chinese secret societies.

Mrs. Fritz Ernest, wife of a Swiss vice consul, was one of 11 white fatalities in the riots. She died in a hospital of injuries suffered when a Chinese mob overturned the cab in which she and her husband were riding, drenched it with gasoline and set it afire.

Increases Toll
Mrs. Ernest's death increased the toll of the three-day riots to 45 known dead and 366 injured including eight policemen. Colonial authorities announced Saturday.

Police raided Lichenguk, the settlement where the riots started four days ago, and marched 1,100 suspects off to headquarters for questioning. The authorities worked feverishly to fingerprint and question more than 3,000 suspects rounded up so far.

Despite the latest mass arrests, riot-ridden Kowloon returned to partial normalcy yesterday. The government lifted curfew restrictions in some sections of the district and permitted ferry service to resume to Hong Kong.

Although officials refused to say that troops and police have completely broken the back of the disorders, United Press Correspondent Peter Sum roamed the streets of Kowloon with patrols and reported that "the situation is very quiet."

Lafayette, Calif. — (U.P.) — Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore) was the principal speaker last night at a $25-per-table Democratic party fund raising dinner at the El Nido Rancho here, sponsored by the Contra Costa county Democratic Central Committee.

Before coming to Central Point, Ford will tour the state of Washington and the northern part of Oregon. He will leave from Medford, the next morning and take a plane to the national Junior Chamber of Commerce headquarters in Tulsa, Okla.

Embassy Clerk is Charged with Spying

Washington — (U.P.) — The United States bowed Saturday to Communist demands for the ouster of an American Embassy clerk who was charged with spying in Czechoslovakia. But the State Department branded the spy charges "entirely false." It said the girl was just "the unfortunate victim of the attentions of a Czechoslovak citizen."

The girl, Vera M. Osso of Yorkville, O., was charged by the Communists with using "false personal documents" and with espionage. They said she was caught with the personal papers of a Czech woman at a hotel in the Tatra Mountains on Oct. 10.

President Receives Birthday Greetings From Across Nation

66th Anniversary Observed Yesterday

Washington — (U.P.) — A surprised and "deeply touched" President Eisenhower Saturday received birthday greetings from across the nation, a piece of a birthday cake and pledges from millions of Americans that they will vote this November.

The president, sitting with his family in a room in the White House, watched a half-hour television show that included birthday flashbacks to his youth in Texas and Kansas.

The chief executive is 66 today. But yesterday was officially "like Day" and Republicans did it with parades, rallies, speeches, cards and cakes from coast to coast.

Television Show
The well-wishing was climaxed by the nationwide television show which featured a big cast of entertainment stars and ended with the singing of "Happy Birthday to You."

Mr. Eisenhower planned to spend his actual birthday quietly with his family. His only scheduled trip outside the White House today will be to attend church services.

The gaiety of the occasion contrasted sharply with Mr. Eisenhower's last birthday, which came while he was lying in a hospital bed at Denver, Colo., recovering from his heart attack.

Soon after he arrived at his office yesterday morning, Mr. Eisenhower was surrounded by members of his staff who joined in a rousing "Happy Birthday" and presented to him a plastic desk ornament encasing a picture of Abraham Lincoln, one of his heroes.

Clashes Continue On Base Extension

Tokyo — (U.P.) — More than 5,000 police and demonstrators clashed Saturday in the second day of fighting over extension of the American air base near here. Hundreds were reported injured.

Some 2,000 police and 3,500 demonstrators took part in the battle. Police said 53 of their number were injured. The pickets, chiefly unionists and left-wing students, said 718 demonstrators were hurt.

More than 260 police and pickets at the farming village of Sunakawa on the outskirts of Tokyo. The demonstrators objected to giving up farm land needed to extend runways at the Tachikawa air base.

They had prevented a government team from surveying the land for eight days before the government ordered police in to protect the survey party.

Butte Falls Couple Tie Ribbon on Deer

Butte Falls — Patricia and Daniel Wagner, who live on the Butte Falls highway, have tied a red ribbon around the neck of their tamed deer to show hunters it is not "just another deer."

The two have expressed concern over the number of deer hunters who have been passing their home. When cars come to sudden stops, they run out and shout, "Don't shoot it's our pet!" The anxious youngsters hope the red ribbon may assist their pet in surviving the deer hunting season, which ends Oct. 21.

Search Continues For Trace of 59 Missing Americans

Thickening Weather Hinders Aircraft

London — (U.P.) — U. S. and British planes fought thickening weather over the Atlantic Saturday, seeking traces of 59 American servicemen missing since Wednesday, but there appeared to be little chance that any would be found alive.

Hope flickered briefly early yesterday when one plane reported sighting what appeared to be two life rafts from the Air Force transport that was carrying the missing sailors and airmen home from Europe. First reports said there was a man on one of the rafts.

A reconnoiter found "no sign of life on either raft." Later reports indicated one of the "rafts" actually may have been a dead whale.

Report Wreckage
A report that the wreckage of the missing C118 (military version of the DC6 airliner) had been sighted about 100 miles northwest of La Coruna, Spain, could not be confirmed immediately.

Another search plane sighted an orange-colored barrel, which might be a liferaft water keg from the missing plane.

Various other bits of debris had been sighted by the "fine comb" search that began a few hours after the big plane vanished, but none had been positively linked with the C118.

Whale's Carcass
Ships as well as planes were sweeping the area where the rafts were reported. One ship found a whale's carcass floating at approximately the position reported for one of the rafts.

"A search plane made a low-level pass over both rafts shortly after noon and confirmed that there were no persons aboard . . . an earlier Air Force announcement said.

"Five other objects have been sighted, of which only one, a mail bag, has been identified. One of the other objects is yellow, a color often used on Air Force gear because of its high visibility."

Vacant House Burns On Old Stage Road

Two pumps were dispatched to a vacant house at 1257 South Stage rd., Medford, about 7:30 p.m. yesterday when neighbors reported a blaze there, according to the Medford fire department.

The first floor of the two-story residence was completely involved in flames when firemen arrived, they reported. The second floor was unharmed by the fire, firemen said, though the downstairs was damaged considerably.

The house is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Patterson, Talent, firemen said. Cause of the fire is unknown, they said.

West Orange, N. J. — (U.P.) — Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California said last night President Eisenhower was "the greatest friend of man" in the history of the United States.

"I Said, 'Say Hello to the Gentleman'"

President's Portland Visit to Include Two Talking Engagements

Portland — (U.P.) — The schedule for the visit of President Eisenhower to Oregon under way through the business section of downtown Portland.

Mautz said plans have been made to handle a crowd of 10,000 at the airport when the President arrives. An overflow crowd is expected at the auditorium where the President will address a national television audience and radio audience.

Remain in Portland
The President will remain in Portland overnight, then fly to Denver Friday morning where he will make a brief airport appearance.

Robert T. Mautz, GOP National committeeman, said the afternoon address by Mr. Eisenhower would be held at the public auditorium and admission by ticket only. All seats not filled by ticket holders at 2:30 p.m. will be opened to the general public.

Earlier the originally scheduled four-hour stay in Portland by Mr. Eisenhower had been extended to an overnight stay as part of the added campaigning by the President which called for speeches in Denver and Madison Square garden in New York City.

Scheduled to Arrive
Mr. Eisenhower is scheduled to arrive aboard the Columbine at the Portland International airport at 2:05 p.m. Thursday afternoon. He will deliver a few brief remarks at the airport, Oregon GOP leaders said, then travel by motorcade in a parade through the business section of downtown Portland.

Panama Canal Firm To Open Files Monday

Washington — (U.P.) — The government-owned Panama Canal Co. announced Saturday it will open its files Monday to show what congressmen have taken free Caribbean cruises on its luxury liners.

It was a major break in the long campaign of newsmen to get the facts and figures on congressional junkets financed by taxpayers. The lawmakers themselves have kept the subject clothed in secrecy.

The canal company's decision was announced by its board chairman, George H. Roderick. He said in a statement that the facts will be given to newsmen in New York Monday.

J. Bracken Lee Says He'll Seek Reelection
Salt Lake City — (U.P.) — Gov. J. Bracken Lee announced last night he will continue his fight for an unprecedented third term as Governor of Utah as an independent candidate.

Lee was defeated in the Republican primary by George D. Clyde. He jumped back into the campaign with a televised and broadcast announcement that he was accepting a draft to run against Clyde and Democratic candidate L. C. Romney on a "Citizens for Lee" ticket.

Six Principles for Negotiation Agreed Upon by Ministers

Yugoslavia Joins Russia in Opposition

United Nations, N.Y. — (U.P.) Russia last night vetoed an attempt by Britain and France to gain United Nations support of plans to internationalize the Suez canal and for the Western-backed Users association.

The council approved part of an Anglo-French resolution endorsing six principles for negotiation agreed upon Friday by the foreign ministers of Britain, France and Egypt.

Joint Russia
Yugoslavia joined Russia in opposing the attempt to win approval for the nationalization plans of the west. The other seven-council members, including the United States, voted with Britain and France.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles expressed regret that the council "was not able to agree on more than the principles" on which to base future negotiations for a settlement of the Suez question.

"I think it is understood," Dulles said, "that the council remains seized of this matter and that the secretary-general may continue to encourage interchanges between the United Kingdom, France and Egypt—a procedure which already has yielded positive results."

Dulles referred to the six secret sessions with Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold in which British Foreign Secretary Eelwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi eventually reached agreement on the principles.

Lloyd led the fight for approval of internationalization after Pineau's last-minute acquiescence opened the way for agreement on the negotiating principles.

Principles Agreed On
The principles agreed on included the main point urged by the United States: that the canal must be "insulated" from becoming an "instrument of national policy" for any government.

Egypt objected to the wording of this principle in the resolution but Russia voted for it.

What fell before Russia's veto was an Anglo-French attempt to get the council's approval for the 18-power London conference proposals for international ownership and control of the canal, a reference to Egyptian failure to formulate its own precise proposals to counter the London plans and recognition of the Users' association as legally qualified to receive the canal tolls from ships belonging to its members, and as an organization with which Egypt should cooperate.

Atomic Experts Tour First Power Plant
