

Halloween Collection Planned

The campaign to make Halloween a time to help others instead of a time to "help yourself" is continuing this fall.

Committees making first plans for the annual Halloween collection for UNICEF, the children's division of United Nations, hope that every child in the Rogue valley will participate. Medford chapter, Oregon United Nations' association, and Rogue council of Camp Fire Girls is cooperating on the campaign for the Rogue valley.

Mrs. Jason Ottinger, Camp Fire worker, Talent, is general chairman. Mrs. Lawrence Soin of Medford UN chapter, is chairman of school participation, and Mrs. W. I. Luman, Medford, is publicity chairman. The Rev. Thomas McCamant is chairman of service club participation.

In order that the children's canvass of their friends and neighbors may be orderly and efficient, each group of children will be accompanied by an adult, it is stated.

The coins collected in the Halloween drive will be used to buy food, clothing and medicine for children in countries needing aid. Five cents will buy enough penicillin to cure one child of the yaws; one cent provides vaccine sufficient to protect one child from tuberculosis, and one cent will buy six glasses of milk.

"The Trick is to Treat all the world's children."

Teenagers Say Adults Ignore Their Good Deeds

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Correspondent
Columbus, Ohio—U.P.—Maybe we would worry less about the nation's teenagers if we talked with them more.

One bright-eyed batch of them I met here is more interested in the outcome of the presidential election than in Elvis Presley.

They represented the "juvenile delinquents" tag they said the nation has pinned on them all.

And many of them put the blame squarely on mom and pop, and other grown-ups, when a youngster does run into trouble with authorities.

Good Things Ignored
"They play up the violence... They don't mention the good things we do," said Janet Ballantyne, 17, Dayton, O.

"Not too long ago," she added, "everybody in Dayton was talking about one boy's run-in with the law. They forgot that on the same day, there were 2,000 of us gathered in an inter-city youth conference sponsored by our churches."

"Everybody seems to have forgotten we had gay 90s... roaring 20's," said Jack Babcock, 16, of Avon Lake, Ohio. "I predict we'll survive rock 'n roll age."

I came to Columbus to speak before 250 junior and senior high school students, who are editors or other members of their high school newspaper staffs. They gather on the Ohio State University campus each fall for two days of discussion under sponsorship of the university's journalism school.

Pushing Too Fast
After the banquet about 50 of us sat down for an informal gabfest. The group came from all parts of Ohio—and from all income groups.

"They're pushing us too fast," said Allayne Tully, 16, of Avon Lake, O. "Do this... do that. We don't have enough spare time."

"I'm only 17 but I've been everywhere. Mother says I know twice as much as she did when she was my age."

"I think today's parents should give more time to their children," said Joan Bell, 16, also from Avon Lake.

"Some of our parents are too busy for us... they think providing a television set for us is enough."

UNION ARMY ABOLISHED
Washington (U.P.)—It took a good member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to finally abolish the Union Army. Federal Judge Burnita S. Matthews, a UDC member from Hazlehurst, Miss., signed an order on Tuesday turning over to the Smithsonian Institution the scant remaining property of the Grand Army of the Republic. This included an American flag, a Navy flag, a yellow headquarters banner, a number of badges and a gavel made from wood taken from Abraham Lincoln's log cabin.

Of 451 industrial classifications made by the U.S. Bureau of the Census, 81 per cent of the industries flourish in Michigan.

PAULENA CARTER ON MUSIC PROGRAM—Paulena Carter, shown above with Carmen Dragon, director of the Standard School Broadcast musical education program, is featured on many of the NBC programs, heard over station KMED each Thursday at 10:30 a.m. Miss Carter claims Ashland as her home and is well known in valley music circles. The program is directed primarily at school children on the premise that musical education should begin early. The show also attracts a large adult audience, radio officials said.

Annual Formal Dinner Dance Planned by Club

One of the large social events of the week end will be the annual formal dinner and dance of Rogue Valley Country Club. It will be held Saturday, October 20, at the clubhouse. Dinner will be served beginning at 8 o'clock and dancing is planned from 9 p.m. until 1:30 a.m.

Arrangements are being made for two dance orchestras to play, one in the main dining room and the other in the new room adjoining the cocktail lounge. One will be the regular club orchestra headed by Abby Green and the second will be the Bob Anderson trio.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, social chairmen of the club for the season, are being assisted by Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Duce and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Eden, co-chairmen for this dance.

On the decorations committee are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jorgensen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Phair, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Burich, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Worthington and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morris.

Decorations will be in the "Harvest Moon" theme and are being designed by Mrs. Del Wright.

Club members may make reservations by calling the club office, telephone 2-5965.

Societies Announce Fall Rally

Central Point—Women of the various missionary societies of 20 Community churches of southern Oregon and northern California will gather at the Central Point Community Bible church Friday, October 19, for the annual fall missionary rally.

The event will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Women are to take sack lunches; dessert and coffee will be served by the host church.

Speaking both morning and afternoon will be Miss Julia Supple, who has served under Wycliffe translators among the Indian tribes of Mexico, and is soon to return to that field. Miss Supple has formerly lived in Medford and Grants Pass, and is now continuing her furlough time with her mother in Portland.

Other speakers will be Mrs. Harold Anderson, Murphy; Miss Alice Swanson and Miss Helen Gemberling, Hugo, Ore., who are working under Village Missions. Miss Swanson and Gemberling have spent 14 and 17 years respectively, in mission work in Kentucky. Mrs. Jeanne Priestly of Murphy will sing.

All women of the area who are interested in mission work are cordially invited to attend.

Washington PTA To Meet Friday

Washington Parent-Teacher association will meet Friday, October 19, for the first session of the school year. Theme for the meeting will be "come and get acquainted" it was announced by program chairman, Mrs. Clay Wheeler. Mothers of children in the first grade will serve refreshments and child care will be provided.

School will be dismissed at 2 p.m. and from 2 until 2:30 p.m. teachers will be in their room for consultations with any parent.

Mrs. John Hartsook was elected president of the unit at an executive meeting held Monday afternoon. She replaces Mrs. Herbert McCary, resigned.

Mrs. Hartsook stated that the meeting Friday will start promptly at 2:30 p.m.

Family Business To Be Topic of Evans Valley Unit

Evans Valley—Evans Valley Extension unit will hear a talk on "Family Business and Law" when the unit meets Thursday, October 18, at 10:30 a.m. at the Grange hall.

Mrs. Maude Purvine, Corvallis, county agent-at-large, will be the speaker.

The lesson on making sofa cushions previously scheduled for this month will be held in November.

Hostesses will be Mesdames Wales, Counts and Lotz.

Eagle Point Auction Set

Eagle Point—The excitement of an auction will prevail in Eagle Point Friday, October 19. Eagle Point High School Parent-Teacher-Student association is sponsoring the event to raise funds to purchase robes for the high school chorus.

Articles to be offered for sale will be on display in the elementary gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. until the auction begins at 8 p.m. Coffee and cake will be available all during the evening.

Students, teachers and local citizens are volunteering various personal services which will be offered on the auction block.

The chorus sang on KBES-TV Monday night, led by the high school music director, Charles Martin, and with Miss Georgia

Weidman as accompanist. Members of the PTSA executive board explained the purpose of the auction. Speaking were Mrs. Herbert Perdue and Mrs. John Huffman.

Another television show is planned on Thursday, October 18, at 5:50 p.m.

Anyone wishing to donate articles for auction may leave them at the high school or call Mrs. John Huffman, VA-6-3783, and they will be picked up.

DINGY YELLOWED LINGERIE?

Isn't it disheartening to see your silk and synthetic whites turn yellow after just a few washings? But there's a simple solution—White King Soap. No other type of washday product keeps these whites as store-white as White King Soap. So don't take costly chances with an ordinary washday product. Wash all your silk and synthetic things, from the time you buy them, only in White King Soap.
