Marine Hero's Wife Says Corps Made His Life 'Hell on Earth'

Parris Island, S.C. — (U.P.) — The wife of a Marine Congressional Medal of Honor winner convicted of attacking his commanding officer said the Corps made her husband's life "a hell on earth" after he received the nation's highest military citation.

Theresa, wife of Alfred Lee McLaughlin, 28, of Leeds, Ala., said she began serving a three-month sentence following his court martial. He occupied a brig cell with Matthew C. McKeon, the former drill sergeant who led the Parris Island "death march."

Mrs. McLaughlin charged that the Marines exploited her husband after President Eisenhower awarded him the Congressional Medal of Honor in 1953 for killing 150 enemy soldiers in Korea. She also charged that other Marines ridiculed him because he had won the medal.

"Mac cried and told me after that incident 'I'm not a man any more,'" she said, "I can't do anything about the things they do to me. They outrank me and they've got me where they want me!"

Casket bearers will be Carl Timmons, Ernest Ruegger, Robert Ebbe, Claude Demo, Melvin Weaver, and Harry Harrison.

Those wishing to do so may either send flowers, or make a contribution to the Rogue Valley Memorial hospital, addressed to 28 South Bartlett st., Medford.

Mr. Larsen, the son of Andreas and Petrikke Johannessen Larsen, was born in Tromso, Norway, Feb. 24, 1883. He went to sea while young and became a captain in the Merchant Marines, in which branch he served for more than 50 years. During World War I his ships were on transport duty, sailing under the Norwegian flag, and during World War II, also on transport duty, he sailed under the United States flag after having become a naturalized citizen.

He was married in Norway on June 13, 1916, to Bertie Blomquist, who survives. The couple came to Medford 2 1/2 years ago, to be near their daughter, Miss B. J. Larsen, administrator of Rogue Valley Memorial hospital.

Other survivors include one son, Dr. A. M. Larsen, of the Veterans hospital, San Francisco; another daughter, Miss Solveig Larsen, Chicago, Ill.; one sister, Mrs. Sam Snare, Bremerton, Wash.; and one brother, Peder Larsen, in Norway.

Decorated Korea Veteran Dies on Practice Flight
Pensacola, Fla. — (U.P.) — A 25-year-old Marine pilot, a member of the Navy's famous Blue Angels flight demonstration team since February, was killed late Thursday when his plane crashed during a routine practice session over the Gulf of Mexico.

Holloway, a much decorated Korean veteran, was the Marine Corps representative on the crack flying team which has appeared in cities throughout the nation.

Billboard Announces Arrival of Infant
Long Beach, Calif. — (U.P.) — Mahlon Faust decided to bypass the conventional passing out of cigars to announce the birth of his son.

An outdoor advertising company executive, Faust informed neighbors of the new arrival on a huge billboard which read: "It's a b-o-y, Timothy Faust, weight eight pounds, seven ounces, born Oct. 17 and made in California by Californians."

Rails Strengthen Stock Market

New York — (U.P.) — Strength in railroad stocks led the stock market higher today, extending the upswing which got underway late Thursday.

Good earnings reports for the third quarter and first nine months of the year, plus a number of dividend increases, brought buying into the market. Steels, metals, aircrafts and specialties also featured on the upside in the industrial group.

Dow-Jones Averages
Dow-Jones final stock averages: 30 industrials 486.12, off 0.19; 20 railroads 162.38, up 1.25; 15 utilities 65.83, off 0.08; 65 stocks 172.32, up 0.23.
