

HORN BROOK Children Present Movie

By MRS. H. H. CHAPMAN
Hornbrook—The movie "Guadalcanal Diary," which was presented at the Grange hall Saturday by the seventh and eighth graders, drew a good attendance, and it is planned to have another one in about three weeks. The proceeds from the sale of tickets toward the purchase of basketball uniforms for the school team.

Den mothers for the two newly-formed Cub scout packs are Mrs. Alberta Hutchins and Mrs. Chadwick.

The Rev. Lewis Manning of Santa Rosa, Calif., held the Sunday morning worship service at the Community church. After the services, a get-acquainted coffee hour was held in the Fireside room of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Manning were welcomed by the congregation, and it is believed he will return here by Nov. 4 to assume his duties as the regular pastor for Hornbrook. Until then the Rev. Ted Hargreaves of Montague, who has been the interim pastor for several months, will conduct classes for the school children at the church on Wednesday afternoons. Parents may choose whichever released time classes they prefer their children to attend—the Catholic, which meets at the home of Mrs. Frank Bear, the Bible school, with the Rev. Titus, meeting at the building across old Hiway 99 from Mrs. Kurt's store, or the aforementioned classes at the Community church.

The Women's society of the Community church will hold their regular meeting in the Fireside room of the church on Thursday, Oct. 25 at 2 p.m. Final plans will be formulated for the election day dinner, to be held at the church Nov. 6.

A birthday party was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Pettee, honoring the birthday of Mrs. A. A. Protsman. Guests, besides Mrs. Protsman, were her husband, "Slim," and their grandsons Ace Cozzallo, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nye, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Adams. After the honored guest had opened her gifts, the afternoon was spent playing pinocle.

Mrs. Jan Cozzallo and son, Glen, drove to Grants Pass on Sunday where they spent the day visiting with Mrs. Marge Purdin and her husband, both of whom are teachers in Grants Pass grammar schools. Mrs. Purdin taught in the local school last year.

Mrs. Floyd Burns returned Sunday evening from San Francisco, where she attended the week-long sessions of the California Grand Chapter convention of the order of Eastern Star. Mrs. Burns was one of twelve delegates from district 2. In November she will take up her duties as Worthy Matron of Stella Chapter No. 39, of Yreka.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Loran Paine were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Waters, of Chatsworth, Calif.

"Grandma" Tyrell, who has been ailing, off and on since she suffered a broken hip two years ago at the age of 92, returned to the Siskiyou county hospital in Yreka Sunday evening.

From the Fall creek fish hatchery comes word that the last run of salmon was "milked" on Tuesday. Since the steelhead always follow the salmon upstream, the "Ike Waltons," who fish for steelhead, should find their catches improving. Local fishermen reported the take of steelhead weighing up to 7 pounds last Saturday.

Duck hunters in the Tulelake area over the weekend were Oliver Fick, of Medford, Leonard and Ermin Bear, and Lloyd Raymond. The boys reported more hunters than ducks.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sloan, of Eureka, Calif., are visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sloan.

Miss Jeanne Stryker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stryker, is home on vacation from the University of Oregon hospital in Portland where she is in nurse's training. She is spending her vacation working at the Siskiyou General hospital in Yreka.

Jazz To Talking Drums Under Study

Philadelphia—(U.P.)—A newly organized society is undertaking a scientific study of all music ranging from American jazz to African talking drums.

The new organization is the Society for Ethnomusicology, founded at the recent Fifth International Congress of Anthropological and Ethnological Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania.

The society publishes a newsletter, Ethnomusicology, as a medium of communication for scholars in the study of music all over the world. The publication includes articles, book reviews, listings and news about recently published records, and news about scholars in the field who are making field collections of recordings or engaging in particular researches.

Dr. Curt Sachs of Columbia University, New York, was named honorary president at the founding meeting of the society.

Willard Rhodes, professor at Columbia University, was named president; Mieczyslaw Kolinski, professor at Hunter College, New York, first vice president; Dr. Frances Denmore of Red Wing, Minn., second vice president; and Prof. David P. McAllester of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., secretary-treasurer.

Long Walk Brings Swiss To Olympics

Melbourne—(U.P.)—A 42-year-old Swiss, Ignace Rugg, arrived in Melbourne for the Olympics the hard way—he walked the 12,000 miles from Europe.

Rugg carried a 60-pound pack the entire distance, was without water for 36 hours in a Persian desert and wore out seven pairs of shoes in his 20-month trek. The Swiss walker claimed he had been shot at by terrorists in Malaya and rescued by a rubber planter in his home-made armored car.

"I never would have made it if it hadn't been for him," Rugg said. "The Reds had fired several shots at me and I know I was a goner unless help arrived. Just then the planter arrived with his armored car and picked me up."

Rugg said the trip cost him $1,600, and he swears that any future travels he makes will be on wheels.

Silver Dollar Symbol of West

Billings, Mont.—(U.P.)—Gun-fights and Indian uprisings may be relegated to history, but there is one symbol of the West that folks in these parts refuse to give up—the silver dollar.

In fact, one local store manager is such an ardent "hard money" man that he won't let his clerks "contaminate" the cash registers with dollar bills. The lowly paper buck gets the bum's rush to the bank.

The so-called "cartwheels" are popular with Montanans for several reasons. Businessmen believe it's good advertising when visitors take them back to their home states to spend—the "Montana dollar" always prompts questions in paper-money areas. Old-timers, and even some newcomers, prefer silver dollars simply because they are handy. There is no need to reach for a wallet when there is "clanking money" in your jeans.

Estimates vary, but one generally accepted—and verified by local banks—is that silver dollars are favored over paper money by a ratio of 10 to 1.

Bankers say no merchants will buy paper dollars, but one bank ships in 10,000 silver dollars a week to meet the local demand. None of the hard money ever has to be returned to federal reserve banks.

Shipment of silver dollars into the state coincides rather closely with the tourist business. The peak year for silver dollars since World War II was 1953 when bankers received $3,838,833. That also was a record year for tourist business.

Despite the popularity of the silver dollar, it does have one drawback. It's rough on trouser pockets. Clothing merchants deny reports they ship in clothes with reinforced pockets but one admitted: "It would be a good idea."

OLD NEIGHBORS
Newburyport, Mass.—(U.P.)—Charles L. Davis, 100, the nation's oldest druggist, and Henry Bailey Little, 105, the nation's oldest banker, are High Street neighbors here.

VOTE NOTE
Jackson, Mich.—(U.P.)—The Junior Chamber of Commerce has created a "Roll of Dishonor." On it will be listed the names of members who fail to vote Nov. 6.

Hay Baler Traps Owner With Headlock

Tawas City, Mich.—(U.P.)—Farm equipment experts were needed to release Eugene Coates from a harrowing two-hour headlock in his own hay baler.

The 53-year-old farmer was attempting field repairs on his roll-type hay baler when his head became wedged in the machine by a shifting casting. The machine and its captive were some 100 yards from the highway.

Using a free arm, Coates removed a white handkerchief from his hip pocket and signaled blindly, hoping to attract a passing motorist.

More than an hour passed before the signal was noticed. Truck driver Kenneth Alstrom rushed to the scene. Finding he was unable to help Coates, he called the Iosco County sheriff and state police. But none could work him free.

Finally, after two hours in the machine's grip, a farm equipment dealer arrived with a crew. They went to work with their tools and shortly had the casting removed and Coates pulled to safety.

Coates was taken to a nearby hospital and treated for a mild concussion and shock.

Hands, Wrists Good Thyroid Checkpoints

Chicago—(U.P.)—Hands and wrists are good checkpoints in determining the adequacy of thyroid replacement therapy in infants and children who have undetectable thyroid glands. Radiology has reported.

The medical magazine's article on "hypothyroidism" was written by Dr. Lee B. Lusted, radiologist with the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md., and Dr. Donald E. Pickering, a pediatrician at the University of Oregon School of Medicine.

An X-ray examination of the hands and wrists has been used by the two investigators to measure skeletal retardation.

"Doses of hormone which are sufficient to reverse many clinical and metabolic signs of thyroid deficiency are often inadequate to promote normal skeletal maturation," they said.

The X-ray test is then employed to determine if increased hormone dosage is needed. Such tests are most useful in earliest childhood when growth potential is at a maximum, they added.

SMALL SCHOOL
Bangor, Me.—(U.P.)—This city, one of Maine's largest, has accredited one of the smallest schools in the state—five grades and only 10 pupils. It's the parochial school of the local Seventh Day Adventist Church.

MUNCHING MOOSE
Bingham, Me.—(U.P.)—Ferdinand the Bull wasn't the only large quadruped with a penchant for feasting on flowers. Oscar Miller, a garageman in this hunting country town, saw a moose munching contentedly on the blooms in Mrs. Victoria Cahill's garden just off the business district.

HOT MAIL
Troy, N.Y.—(U.P.)—Firemen who responded to an alarm here found an unusual blaze. It was inside a mail box attached to a pole.
