

Bids Will Be Opened Tuesday for Work in 'Mission 66' Program

Bids on two comfort stations at the Annie Springs campground site, near the entrance of the headquarters and rim roads at Crater Lake National park, will be opened Tuesday, Oct. 30, in the Medford post office, according to Tom Williams, park superintendent.

Construction of the two comfort stations is the second phase in the development of the Annie Springs campgrounds. The campgrounds project is the first work of the 10-year "Mission 66" improvement program planned for Crater Lake National park.

Work at Annie Springs consists of approximately 1.2 miles of campground road plus 70 campsite parking spurs; about 8,700 feet of water lines ranging from four to one-quarter inches; and four reinforced concrete septic tanks.

Operation Date

"It is hoped 50 per cent of Annie Springs campground facilities will be placed in operation next summer," Williams said. Bids will be invited next

July on two more comfort stations for the campgrounds, he said. Tables and fireplaces will also be installed next summer, he added.

Development of campground roads, water and sewer systems at Annie Springs, and construction of roads at the headquarters residence area was completed last week, according to Williams by W. H. Conrad Construction company, Medford.

The contract was awarded to Conrad on a bid of $71,153, lowest of four bids submitted for the two initial "Mission 66" projects. Other work scheduled for the park this year in the Crater Lake improvement program will cost an estimated $381,500.

Other construction presently underway in the park includes the Annie Springs bridge and the Goodbye creek bridge, both of which will be open to traffic next summer.

"Mission 66" is the program in which Congress appropriated $4,328,000 for improvement of facilities at national parks during the next 10 years.

18 Register for DAV Talent Show Nov. 9

About 18 participants have registered to date for the Disabled American Veterans talent show, Friday, Nov. 9, in the Medford high school auditorium.

Pat Graham, chairman of the program, said at least a dozen more are expected to register before the program. The show is being sponsored by the local DAV organization and will be presented by performers in the area between Ashland and Grants Pass.

Graham urged anyone interested in participating in the show to register as soon as possible so the program can be planned in advance. Registrations may be made by telephoning Graham at the DAV headquarters, 2-9312, or at his residence, 2-4192.

Heart Fund Money Totals $15,559

Memorial contributions to the Oregon Heart association, all of which are allocated to heart research in the state, totaled $15,559 for the first nine months of this year as compared to $9,356 for the same period a year ago, Mrs. Marina Gates, Jackson County Memorial chairman, has announced.

Jackson county contributed $326.65, which ranks it as one of the highest in the state on a per capita basis, she said.

Mrs. Gates said that the Oregon Heart Association Executive committee agreed recently that all contributions honoring the memory of a person would be budgeted for research. During the past three years, she said, the Oregon Heart association has allocated more than $56,000 for research in Oregon.

Research projects are being sponsored by the association at the University of Oregon Medical school, Oregon State college, University of Portland and Reed college. In addition, the Oregon Heart association has three fellowships including the Raymond R. Brown memorial fellowship, a post doctoral fellowship for study at the Oakridge institute for nuclear studies and one for open direct vision in cardiac surgery at the University of Oregon medical school in Portland.

At the present time, the association is financing about $30,000 worth of research projects in the state.

APPLEGATE-JACKSONVILLE Health Group To Meet

By HELGA MITCHELL

Applegate-Jacksonville — The Applegate Health group will hold its first meeting Thursday, Nov. 1, at 1:30 p.m. at the Ruch school cafeteria, according to Mrs. Lawrence Tweedy, temporary chairman. A film on "cancer" will be shown, and Dr. Meyerding, of Medford, will lead the discussion and answer questions. The program will be followed by a coffee hour. Mrs. Tweedy stressed that this meeting covered the whole Applegate area, including lower and upper Applegate. Everyone who is interested is welcome.

The next meeting of the Applegate Home Extension unit will be held at the home of Mrs. Lester Rich, on Thompson creek, Nov. 27 at 10:30 a.m.

Services at the Ruch Community church will include Sunday school at 10 a.m., worship service, 11 a.m. and Bible study, 8 p.m.

Mrs. Gertrude Goleman recently was a house guest at the home of Mrs. Tim Halme of Medford.

A farewell party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Stephens last week for Ed Milan, who returned last Monday to the navy. Guests attending the buffet supper were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Womack and their two children, Soren Nelson, Al Blumreich, Mrs. Ted Rundie, Miss Becky King, and Mr. and Mrs. Mansel Milan.

Mrs. Margaret Cartney and W. E. Boyd, of San Diego, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pearce.

Clarence (Doc) Mier, a former resident of upper Applegate, died on Oct. 12 at his home in Lynnwood, Calif.

Mrs. Soren Nelson recently left for a trip to Minnesota to visit her son and daughter. Mrs. Nelson plans to return in a month.

Mrs. Bill Barker entered the Ashland hospital recently and underwent major surgery. Friends in this area are wishing for her speedy recovery.

A birthday dinner party was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verl Walker, in Medford, for Mrs. Nellie Rose, who was celebrating her 71st birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Straube have been away for a week in San Francisco and vicinity on a business trip. The Straubes' children have been staying with their grandparents.

A birthday party for 11 year-old Karen Gettling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Gettling, was held last Tuesday at her home. Guests attending were Karen's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gettling, of Ashland, and Mrs. Estel Cox.

Ten women attended the special meeting held at the home of Mrs. Otis Buck last week. Mrs. Maude Purvine gave a talk to the women on "family business and law."

A Red Cross first aid class meets every Monday night at 8 p.m. at the Applegate church, with Mr. and Mrs. Karl Herrriott teaching. Anyone interested in these classes is welcome to attend.

Everyone in the Applegate school is enthusiastic over the new music room, which was obtained by evacuating a part of the school's basement. Cupboards are being installed in the music room and plans are being made to place cupboards in the first, second, third and fourth grade rooms.

Members on the Applegate school faculty include Mrs. Ray Offenbacher, first and second grades; Mrs. LeRoy Offenbacher, third and fourth grades; Mrs. Mary Overstreet, fifth and sixth grades; Hugh Clark, principal and teacher of the seventh and eighth grades; Mrs. Lester Hill teaches music three times a week. Gene Krouse and the Rev. Thornton Gapan are bus drivers. Mrs. Fred Neilsen is janitor, and Mrs. Fred Nelson is cook.

Mr. and Mrs. John Horner returned home last Monday from their trip to Los Angeles.

"Star" and "Skipper," two Samoyed dogs belonging to Mrs. Nellie Rose had the honor of receiving their own personal mail addressed to them in the form of a package of food from a dog food company.

Mrs. Otis Buck showed friends some huge red strawberries she had grown that completely filled the pockets of an egg carton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Valentine returned home last Sunday from their extended trip through Utah and Arizona. As they stopped at the north rim of Grand canyon, the Valentines saw the rare white-tailed squirrels which are found only in that area. They also saw their first hands of wild turkeys on this trip. At Phoenix, Ariz., the Valentines visited their son, Lynn A. Valentine, who has an interior decorating studio at Mesa. Perfect weather accompanied the Valentines on their trip.

Rural Reflections: Recently Mrs. Curtis Gerhardt was confronted with the tedious task of driving home their straying cattle across pastures and rivers. As they approached the river, a deer was standing in mid-stream and sniffed noses with the Gerhardts' calf. After the cattle crossed, Mrs. Gerhardt had no other alternative but to shed her britches and galoshes and ford the river also. She used her socks to dry her feet, but despite all these precautions, she later got water in her galoshes when crossing a ditch. Then she heard their dog, Jack, baying at a treed coon, and jumped on her tractor to get to the dog as quick as she could. "I thought this was going to be another dull day," Mrs. Gerhardt said.

SHOT IN ARM NEEDED

Cincinnati — (U.P.) — The U.S. District Court of Appeals ruled Friday the manufacturers of the Atom-Matic water rocket do not owe $2,966.29 in back taxes as claimed by the Internal Revenue Service. The court reversed a lower court decision against Harry Hillinski and Steven F. Woods of Detroit, who had complained they couldn't make any money because children would not buy their water pistol.

Chin Up Hobby Sale Will Include Variety of Items

A wide variety of items have been listed for sale at the Chin Up club's fifth annual hobby sale, according to Mrs. Gladys Chapin, in charge of merchandise. The sale will be held at the Eagles' Hall, 217 West Main st., next Friday and Saturday.

Among items to be offered for sale are plaster figurines, aprons, linens, pillow cases, handwork, jewelry, needlepoint, Christmas cards and eels, driftwood, ceramics, leather goods, brooms, and a cooked food sale which will include jams, jellies, fruit cakes, doughnuts and other foods.

All items should be made as hobbies, Mrs. Chapin pointed out. Persons desiring to enter items for sale should contact Mrs. Harry Chipman, telephone 2-2974. Pickup of the merchandise can be arranged, or may be brought to the hall Friday morning. All merchandise must bear a Chin Up price tag. Mrs. Chipman, club president, said. The club retains a portion of the selling price and this money is used to further the club's projects during the year.

Three commercial displays, by Sims Cycle and Hobby Shop, Mann's Department store, and Singer Sewing Machine company are being included in the show.

BOWLING

McLoughlin 8th Winner

Eighth grade footballers of McLoughlin Junior high overpowered Grants Pass 27 to 14 here yesterday.

Mike Hood scored for the Bulldog team on 40-yard and 70-yard runs and Alfred Funston traveled two and six yards for touchdowns. Funston ran two extras and Rich Connolly one. A pass, Dick Ragsdale to Hood, was good for 40 yards and set up the first of the TDs by Funston.

Grants Pass gained the McLoughlin end zone on a 20-yard pass play after recovery of a Bulldog fumble. The other GP
