

Morse Defends Record, Criticizes Dulles; McKay Outlines Plans for Small Businesses

By UNITED PRESS
Campaign oratory flowed like wine through Oregon yesterday, just one week before the voters go to the polls on Nov. 6.

Douglas McKay worked the Portland front while Sen. Wayne Morse unfurled a spearhead in the Eugene area in the contest claiming the major share of attention in the state.

Morse defended his record in the U. S. Senate and directed his heavy ammunition at what he thought appeared to be nicks in the political armor of McKay.

The senator's attack against the former interior secretary included references to Al Sarena, the now-famous picture of Morse in an empty Senate chamber and an accusation that a GOP-distributed booklet attacking his record was a "conglomeration of distortions, misrepresentations and falsehoods."

Eight Point Program
McKay, speaking before the American Institute of Banking in Portland, presented an eight-point program for small business and small farmers.

The former Oregon governor outlined the program with the following points: (1) end threats of discriminatory prices to small business; (2) grant federal long-term loans for small business where credit is not available; (3) reduce tax on small business corporations from 30 to 20 per cent on incomes up to $25,000;

(4) give small business the right to accelerated depreciation on purchase of used property; (5) allow small corporations with fewer than 10 stockholders the option of being taxed as a partnership; (6) expand opportunity of small business to participate in government procurement; (7) stop government insistence on tons of useless paperwork; and (8) establish an economic climate in which small business can have confidence in its future.

Dulles Criticized
Speaking in Eugene, Morse said "We are now collecting the dividends on the failure of the United States to demand that the United Nations take early and immediate jurisdiction over international disputes."

Morse added that the Egyptian-Israeli crisis also points up the failure of the Baghdad pact, which he called "a mistake of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles." He charged further that America erred in aiding the buildup of arms by the disputants.

Morse also lashed into McKay in a hard-hitting speech at Oakridge last night and accused him of "falsifying the issues." To charges that he was ineffective in Congress, Morse said the research department of the library of Congress showed "that 60 per cent of the bills I introduced were either passed directly or put into other committee bills or put into practice by administrative directive."

McKay's campaign got a boost from a three-member panel discussion in Portland last night. Phil Hitchcock, Al Loucks and Mrs. Walter Dickinson Sr., appeared on the program.

Referring to Morse's endorsement of Adlai Stevenson's H-bomb proposal, Hitchcock said, "Morse was wrong at Korea, Formosa, Suez and there is no reason to believe that he will be right this time."

Neuberger Busy
Sen. Richard Neuberger told a LaGrande audience yesterday that "Ever since McKay began dabbling in Alaskan questions, Alaska has gone overwhelmingly Democratic in elections." He forecast that Oregon would follow suit in November.

The junior senator also brought up Al Sarena. He said that an application made by the owners of the mine for refund of state fuels tax used for "construction and logging" was "positive proof that the controversial claims are a timber operation

Ed McKain Files for CP Councilman Post
Central Point — Ed McKain, 52, or 36 Cedar st., Central Point, has filed as a candidate for city councilman in Central Point, according to city recorder, Arden Pinkham.

He is the seventh to file for the three vacant council seats. McKain is the owner of welding and repair shop in Central Point and has lived in the city for eight years. He is also the owner of five rental units on Bush st., in Central Point.

Pressure for Higher Steel Prices Mounting

New York — (U.P.) — Pressure for higher steel prices is mounting, although "nothing is likely to happen before the end of the year," Iron Age said today.

The metalworking publication said higher production and raw material costs are putting "terrific" pressure on steel prices, and the producers are giving "continuous study" to a possible hike in the "extras" they charge customers for additional services and special quality operations.

Last summer's post-strike price increases of about $8.50 per ton in the basic price now may prove "inadequate to offset higher costs," the trade paper commented, but it added "there's not much chance of another base price increase before next July."

Prices Paid Farmers Drops 1 Per Cent

Washington — (U.P.) — Prices farmers received for crops and livestock fell 1 per cent in the month ended Oct. 15, the Agriculture Department has reported here.

It was the fourth straight month of declining farm prices after a steady increase from last January through mid-June.

Farmers' returns in mid-October averaged 82 per cent of parity the same as in mid-September and mid-October a year ago.

Oregon Democrats Enjoy Registration Margin of 37,520

Salem — (U.P.) — Final official voter registration figures released today show Oregon Democrats with a 37,520 lead over Republicans in the state as the number of registered voters reached an all time high.

Dave O'Hara, head of the State Elections Bureau, said figures from Douglas, the last outstanding county in the state, were received yesterday. A total of 877,952 persons are registered to vote in the Nov. 6 general election. It also marks the first time that Oregon has gone into a presidential election with a Democratic party majority since Civil War days.

451,179 Registered Democrats
Democrats have 451,179 registered voters, according to the official tabulations, while Republicans have 413,569. The remaining 13,114 are registered Independents and scattered through miscellaneous minority parties.

The Democratic majority represents a substantial increase over the May primary election. At that time the GOP trailed in registrations by slightly more than 13,000. O'Hara said he expected between 80 and 85 per cent of the registered voters of the state to cast ballots. This would mean that more than 700,000 would vote on Nov. 6.

About 82 per cent voted in the 1952 presidential election and 70 per cent in the off-year 1954 voting.

FDR's Physician Raps Ike's Health as Issue

Birmingham, Ala. — (U.P.) — Dr. Ross McIntyre, for 12 years President Roosevelt's personal physician, said Tuesday night President Eisenhower's health should not be made a campaign issue.

McIntyre, formerly a rear admiral who served as Navy Surgeon general, said the question of Mr. Eisenhower's running again should be strictly a personal matter for him alone to consider.

He added that the President, whom he said must be "terribly embarrassed" by the scrutiny given his health, should base his decision on advice given by his doctors after they "have been perfectly honest with him."

McIntyre also said he is opposed to doctors playing "so great a part in politics."

Storrs, Conn. — (U.P.) — One of the most sizeable research projects underway at the University of Connecticut—investigation of rocket propellants — is carried out in the smallest brick building on campus. It's a 10 by 10 foot structure.

Exams Announced for Civil Service Jobs

Civil service commission has announced examinations for investigators, engineering student trainees, procurement specialists, accountants, auditors, and mediators. Except for the mediator examination which closes Jan. 4, 1957, all are open for receipt of applications until further notice.

Information and application forms may be obtained from Chester W. Silliman, post office building, Medford, or from the civil service commission, Washington 25, D.C.

DOUGHBOY
Somerville, Mass. — (U.P.) — When police raided a bakery and seized a father and two sons for running a bookie operation, one of the sons was left behind to take care of the "dough." The son permitted to stay behind, in custody, had to remove a batch of fresh bread from the oven.

A VOTE FOR MORSE IS A VOTE AGAINST EISENHOWER

Morse has been wrong—terribly wrong—on the vital issues that meant war or peace for our country. He was wrong on Korea, wrong on Formosa, wrong on Suez, and is now wrong on the H-bomb. Support Eisenhower's program for peace.

Months of work into early morning hours have been devoted to all sides of all issues . . . you will enjoy learning the TRUTH.

Al Sarena "smear" . . . we went to the mines . . . we talked to the miners . . . we have the original letters Kefauver wrote.

After months of thorough and quiet study, without help from or even knowledge of any political party, Democrats and Independents organized in Roseburg recently to support the election of Doug McKay. Jim Aiken, former U. of O. football coach who has devoted most of his life to youth from grade school age through college, and Joan Knudson, a housewife, are co-chairman. George Luoma, who graduated from the U. of O. Law School in 1946 and has been a Roseburg attorney since, is secretary.

Jim and Joan are life-long Democrats. George is an Independent. None of them has ever been a Republican.

This group, with many others joining with them, are presenting programs throughout the state proving that Morse is guilty of giveaway, throwaway, pacifyaway, betrayaway and wasteway.

We will not accept contributions from any political party or out-of-state source. We must reach as many Oregonians as possible. Help us now. Ask at least ten of your friends to do the same.

Every penny of expenses will be made public. No one will receive compensation in any manner whatsoever.
