

Yreka High School Building Slated For Abandonment

Yreka — Abandonment of Yreka's high school building has been agreed to by the allocation board of the California department of finance. The building has also been termed "unsafe" by engineers.

Following study of a preliminary report filed by the Harold Hammill Structural Engineering company of San Francisco, the board agreed with Siskiyou District Superintendent Jere Hurley that an entirely new structure should be erected on a new site recently purchased by Siskiyou Joint Union School district.

This was the third engineering survey made on the building. The first, by the Ernest Francis company of Sacramento, recommended abandonment for school purposes. The second, by engineers of the allocation division of the department of finance, reported it was possible to rebuild the old building and expand the old site to the required 30 acres.

Approve Site
The California department of education recommended a new building and approved the new site, adding that an agreement had been reached with the allocation board that no new buildings should be constructed on the present four-acre Weed site.

The board explained that the wooden buildings at McCloud, with the exception of the new shop, are no longer considered suitable for school use since they do not comply with the Field Act and with regulations set by the state fire marshal.

Hurley said the high school board will also explore the possibility of enlarging the present Mt. Shasta High school site, to include remodeling and earthquake proofing of the present building, and construction of additional units on the same site.

The allocation board will meet Nov. 29, Hurley said, to reach an agreement on a site.

Indonesia Rioters Attack Embassies

Djakarta, Indonesia — (AP) — Thousands of demonstrators attacked the British and French embassies here today and set fire to the British Information Office.

Mobs protesting French and British "aggression" in Egypt broke into the information office next door to the British Embassy, tossed hundreds of books and pamphlets into the streets, smashed the furniture and set fire to the building.

Three truckloads of police roared to the scene and drove the mob of some 3,000 demonstrators out of the building and embassy grounds at bayonet point.

Earlier, jeering mobs smashed windows in the British and French embassies, ripped down

British and French flags and hoisted the Indonesian red and white standard. Police fired rifles into the air to drive them back.

Both embassies reported no one was injured in the demonstrations. But unconfirmed reports said one man was injured by a policeman's club at the British office and two soldiers were injured while guarding the French embassy.

Six persons were arrested. In Sydney, Australia, Qantas Airways reported that Indonesian trade unions refused to refuel its planes or handle communications.

Texas produces 42 per cent of United States' crude oil, and 18 per cent of the world supply.

The White House grounds in the center of Washington, D. C. are a haven for birds. President Theodore Roosevelt, an ardent birdwatcher, found and recorded nests of redheaded woodpeckers, redstarts, flickers, wood thrushes, catbirds, screech owls, and sparrow hawks.
