

Provocative Curtain Lines Feature Footlighters' Play

"The Devil Passes" has with it a doubt the most provocative curtain lines of any play which I have ever seen associated with that was the observation made by the director, Richard Graham, when asked about the current Footlighters production. The play will open Saturday. It will be repeated the following week, again opening on Thursday night for a second three-night run. The Footlighters play-reading committee voted last year to produce "The Devil Passes" along with three other plays which have already been presented. This will complete the local theatre group's 1956 season.

Thayer Tarvin, active with Footlighters the past several years, has perhaps one of the most difficult roles to be portrayed on the civic theatre stage in some time. As a clergyman who has been faced with a very difficult decision, actor Tarvin dominated one of the most tenderly dramatic scenes of the play, Frankie Burton, in the role of his wife, must also rise to the occasion.

James Sullivan, playing the role of the Rev. Nicholas Lucy, finds himself in the midst of a group of interesting and charming people who think they know what they want from life, but who find themselves in doubt when confronted with the interesting developments that "try men's souls."

Colleen Romine in the female romantic lead is also called upon to make a decision which she never intended to complicate her life. Les Boardman as Cosmo Penny, a writer, Ruth Kilbourn as Dorothy Lister, actress, and Clyde Wheaton as Louis Kisch, an artist, all become involved as each in turn finds that life can sometimes be less unsetting if they don't aspire to too-great success.

D. C. Graham in the role of Director Graham plays host to the seven guests who gather at his cottage for what was supposed to be a restful week in the country. Charlene Tarvin in the role of the maid completes the cast.

Bridge Tourney To Open Friday

Camp White—The first session of the annual open pairs tournament sponsored by Camp White veterans who held high score held Friday, November 9, at camp. The second session will be November 16.

At the last session of the American Legion auxiliary of Medford awarded prizes to the veterans who held high school for October play. They went to Asa Kimball, first; Bill Hickey, second and Tom Randall, third.

Mrs. Berg Marten and Mrs. Jack Mitchell served refreshments. Winners were, north-south, Roy Pruitt and George Rode, first, 128; Jack Harris and Fred Stevens, second, 124; Al Gilhouse and Ray Wise, third, 118½; Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Durland, fourth, 117.

East-West winners were Mrs. Fred Rehling and Arthur Scarseth, first, 145½; the Berg Martens, second, 126½; the Jack Mitchells, third, 123½; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Love, fourth, 120½.

Home Nursing Course Completed by Class

Shady Cove—Several women of the Shady Cove VFW auxiliary recently completed a home nursing course conducted by Mrs. Ann Briggs of Shady Cove at the Camp White domiciliary. Receiving their pins were Mrs. Jess Flenner, Mrs. Ed Leaming, Mrs. Jim Hopkins, Mrs. Dale Sawyer, Mrs. Rose Gustland, Mrs. Virginia House, Mrs. Agnes Hubbell and Mrs. Leonard Elbert.

The course was given each week for a period of 10 weeks.

Society New Officers Are Elected For Council

Mrs. James Morrow was elected president of Medford Council of Church Women during the annual business meeting and observance of World Community day held last Friday in First Christian church.

Others elected were Mrs. Corum, first vice president; Mrs. S. D. Earhart and Mrs. Gaston Floux, second vice presidents; Mrs. Wilbur A. Arnold, third vice president; Mrs. G. S. Johnstone, fourth vice president; Mrs. C. A. Stothers, fifth vice president; Mrs. Rex Nicodemus, recording secretary; Mrs. Ira D. Canfield, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. M. Ball, treasurer; Mrs. George Moore, personal secretary.

Mrs. Earhart and Mrs. Floux will be co-chairmen of the annual May fellowship luncheon. The nominating committee was Mrs. Bert R. Elliott, Mrs. Jessie Minear, Mrs. A. G. McMillin and Miss Elizabeth Burr. Installation of new officers was conducted by the Rev. William C. Piper of the host church. Mrs. J. C. Sparks is the retiring president.

Geoffrey Hemingway of London, England, was the speaker. Mr. Hemingway, who has been in Korea for three years working with the American Friends Service unit, told of the dire needs of that country.

Mr. Hemingway, who said his work was in the medical field, assisted in re-habilitation of a government hospital. He stated that conditions were most inadequate when the work began, with only one water tap for the entire floor of the hospital. Much has been done to improve conditions and 160 small homes now replace those made of mud with cans or thatched for roofs, he added. Mr. Hemingway plans to extend his lecture tour in the states to several more weeks and then will return to his home in England.

Accompanying the speaker to Medford was Harold Barton who is finance secretary of the executive board committee of the Friends Service committee, with headquarters in Portland. In speaking of the recent clothing drive for Church World Service, Mr. Barton stated that Oregon, in a drive two years ago, gathered more clothing and bedding than all other states together.

Mrs. Corum gave the morning devotions, and the business session was conducted by Mrs. Sparks. Following reports of officers, speakers and committee chairmen, Mrs. George Johnstone of the Salvation Army was asked to tell of the Army work and suggest ways in which the local council can be of assistance. She told of the continued need for linens of all kinds, especially towels and face cloths and old bedding which can be made into covers for their numerous cots at the Army shelter where many persons are cared for during the year.

During the luncheon period a number of local ministers came in to remain for the afternoon program in the church sanctuary. The Rev. George Traubach, of the First Methodist church, gave the luncheon devotions. The Rev. John Taylor of St. Luke's Methodist church, the Rev. Raymond Hurn of the Nazarene church and Rev. Mr. Piper assisted during the several devotional periods.

Mrs. C. R. Adamson furnished organ music for the services. Mrs. Ralph Matlack and Mrs. Gloria Smith sang a duet number and young people of Hedrick Junior High school appeared as a speaking choir, in the choir are Mikell Thurston, Karen Carpenter, Darlene Hunt, John Frohnmayer, Douglas Kliever and Paul Moore.

Mrs. George Moore gave an interesting talk on the relationship of the Council and other religious organizations to the work of the United Nations.

Of special interest socially this week is the traditional champagne supper of Medford Junior Service League. It is set for Friday, November 9, at Rogue Valley Country club, and the theme will be "American Beauty Rose."

Dinner will be served at 8 o'clock, and pink champagne will be served. Each woman attending will receive an American beauty rosebud as a favor.

Suez Situation To Be Talk Topic

A timely talk on the political and social unrest in the Middle East which has resulted in the current Suez crisis will be given in Medford Thursday night by Paul B. Johnson, a former director of the Americans Friends Service committee's village development project in rural Jordan.

Mr. Johnson will speak for Medford chapter, Oregon United Nations association, at a meeting to be held at St. Mark's Episcopal parish house at 8 p.m. The event will also be an open house for new members and guests.

Prior to his assignment in Jordan, Mr. Johnson was director of the United Nations relief for Palestine refugees in southern Palestine—the Gaza Strip.

PTA Announces Coffee Klatch Friday Morning

Lincoln Parent-Teacher association will sponsor a coffee klatch on Friday, November 9, at the home of Mrs. Joe Jones, 603 Barlett street, just across the street from the school. The time is from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. Coffee and doughnuts will be served for a small charge, the money to go to aid the PTA tuition scholarship fund.

Mrs. Austin Caldwell is in charge of the event, assisted by Mrs. Roland Hogue. The benefit is open to anyone and a cordial invitation is extended to all who might wish to attend.

Guild to Meet

St. Elizabeth's guild of St. Mark's Episcopal church will meet Friday, November 9, at 12:30 p.m. at the church for luncheon. Hostesses will be Mrs. M. E. Sleeter and Mrs. Sprague Riegel.

They'd love to know Lil's secret!

How in the world does she do it? Three youngsters, yet her house is always neat as a pin. And she seems to have time for so many other things, too!

Calm down, girls, and I'll let you in on Lil's secret. She simply finds quicker, easier ways to do her household jobs. For instance, she uses new, longer-wearing Bruce Self-Polishing Wax on her floors. And what a beating they take with three jet-propelled youngsters whizzing in and out of the house all day. But Bruce's bright, hard shine can really take it. Resists scuffs, dirt and stains. Wears longer! Try it. Like Lil, you'll find new Bruce Self-Polishing Wax saves you a lot of time and hard work.

For floors, use BRUCE!
