Malaya Strippers Warned by Police

Kuala Lumpur— (U.P.) —Strip-tease performers in Malaya were told in no uncertain terms the law would get them if they "stripped beyond the limit."

What is the limit? A police official here tried to explain:

"They can perform the dance of the seven veils but they must keep the seventh veil on. They can take away six."

Police are "getting tough" with these voluptuous artistes even though they admit "half the population have turned strip-teasers and the other half flock to see them."

One luscious stripper was dragged to court in Ipoh, northwest Malaya recently, and sentenced to 10 days in jail without the option of a fine. Another clothes-shedding show was stopped in Singapore after a run of two months in three amusement parks.

The CID chief in Kuala Lumpur, H. G. Beverley, said Malaya and Singapore were cooperating to "clean up" these shows. He said future licenses would be granted only under certain conditions.

The conditions are that the dancer must not make indecent gestures, whether clothed or not. The "fig leaf" must be of adequate size and must not be transparent. The upper body can be left bare, however. They may be asked to put up cash bonds to prevent them stepping over the "police limit."

However, Beverley said there is no question of banning the strip-tease shows.

AWOL Military Police Officer Captured

Vincennes, Ind. —(U.P.)— Bobby Gene Shuppard, 21, an AWOL military policeman, was captured in a tree Tuesday after he allegedly fled the scene of a finance company holdup.

Authorities said Shuppard, absent from Marine MP duty in San Francisco, was spotted by Louisville Courier-Journal correspondent J. J. Edrington while a posse of 75 policemen and sheriff's officers searched the area.

Police found $620 on Shuppard, who was accused of robbing the People's Finance Office at gunpoint. Amount of the loot was undetermined.

The robber fled the office on foot and pulled a gun on a deputy sheriff who stopped him near the city limits. Shuppard finally was spotted hiding in a tree 10 miles away.

Authorities said Shuppard would be charged with armed robbery.

'Oceanarium' Planned in Texas

Freeport, Tex.—(U.P.)—A giant marine "Oceanarium"—a huge aquarium containing every type of marine life found in the Gulf of Mexico off Texas—may be located here or on neighboring Galveston Island.

Both Freeport and resort-conscious Galveston are bidding for the project, which would be the fourth such aquarium in the world. Two others are on Florida's Atlantic Coast and the other in California.

Several groups, including the University of Houston, the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service, University of Texas medical branch, and Texas A. & M. College, are backing the project.

Primarily, the project would be scientific, but it also could become a top tourist attraction for Galveston Island. Freeport interests think it should be built at Surfside, right by the Gulf.

Nearly 400 distinct species of fish have been catalogued in the Texas Gulf Coast area so far. Recent research several hundred miles off the Texas coast promise a much higher figure.

The aquarium would cover about a 50-acre space, with another 50 acres needed for a park or picnic ground as the project would be supported mainly from tourist trade.

City's Long Search For Doctor Ended

Owen, Wis.—(U.P.)—Two years of searching for a doctor ended for this city of 1,000 and the doctor was welcomed with a new $25,000 clinic, a carnival and 20 or 30 patients a day his first week.

The local physician for 31 years, Dr. Benjamin Dike, retired in 1954. Owen is 30 miles from the nearest hospital and nearly as far from the nearest doctor.

The search for a new doctor started in earnest in 1955. Local storekeepers and city officials started a campaign of "pledges" to build a clinic, hire a doctor and "put him on his feet."

A local contractor built the clinic, and other townspeople traveled to Chicago, about 180 miles away, to interview "prospects."

A University of Chicago graduate student, Dr. H. M. Braswell Jr., Dallas, Tex., was their choice. Married, 31 years old and the father of one small son, Braswell seemed the ideal family physician.
