

Mamie Radiant Election Night; Birthday Coming

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
United Press Correspondent
Washington—(U.P.)—Mamie Eisenhower, though blinking back tears, was probably the happiest woman in a jam-packed room of wildly cheering Republicans here Tuesday night.

As President Eisenhower eloquently closed his brief victory statement and thunderous applause broke loose, the bright-eyed first lady turned to Mrs. Richard N. Nixon and murmured, "It makes me weak inside."

A moment later she was blinking back tears as her beaming husband took her arm to escort her back to the White House for another four years.

The first lady was radiant from the moment the presidential party entered the cheering auditorium of some 1,600 happy Republicans.

She came through the door first, then turned to wait for her broadly-grinning husband and they entered as the "team" that they have been for the past four years.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who will be celebrating her 60th birthday just a week from today, carried a bouquet of two dozen "Mamie pink" carnations. She wore a full-skirted electric blue net gown with blue sequins around its scoop neckline. Her blue satin pumps matched her gown. She wore her favorite pearl necklace and on her wrist was an "Ike" bracelet.

A cabinet wife earlier described Mrs. Eisenhower as a "wonderful hostess" in the hotel suite above the GOP party in the ballroom where officials gathered during the evening.

Besides the officials, Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud—wearing an "I like Mamie" button—Mrs. Eisenhower's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon Moore, and the Eisenhower's son and his wife, Max, and Mrs. John Eisenhower, were on hand.

Society

Plans Completed For Autumn Dance

Committees have been busy with arrangements for Medford Sojourners autumn dance to be held Saturday, November 10 at 7:30 p.m., at the Ashland Elks club. Mrs. John Mansfield is chairman, and her co-chairman is Mrs. Marvin Nelson. Tickets and publicity are in charge of Mrs. Frank Stratton, Mrs. John R. Holmes and Mrs. Carl Christensen; decorations, Mrs. Kerry Barker, Mrs. Jim Winslow and Mrs. Donald Madden; entertainment, Mrs. Kenneth Johnson; invitations and hostesses, Mrs. Vincent Nicoletti, Mrs. Teddy Mayfield, Ms. Dolorous Lewis and Mrs. E. W. Robertson.

Dinner will be followed by entertainment and dancing. Reservations for members and guests are to be made today, with Mrs. Jim Winslow, 3-4391; Mrs. Nelson, 2-2694; Mrs. Nicoletti, 3-1406, or Mrs. Stratton, 2-5285.

Valleyview Unit To Hold Meeting

Ashland—Valleyview Extension unit will meet Friday, November 9, at Valleyview schoolhouse at 10:30 a.m.

Don Berry will give a program on household pest control. Those attending are asked to be prepared with questions, and may take pests for identification.

Luncheon will be served at noon, and anyone interested is welcome to attend.

It is stated that this program is a substitute for the "Family Business and the Law" meeting.

Meeting Planned For State Board

The state executive board of the auxiliary to Disabled American Veterans will hold a meeting in Medford Sunday, November 11. The meeting is set for 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. E. R. Neff, 811 Bennett street.

Those attending are asked to take a covered dish for luncheon.

WOULD SPARE CHILDREN

Paris—(U.P.)—The National Education Council recommended today that French primary school children should be spared from homework and from taking compulsory entrance examination for high school.

MAKES TWO OF US

Hollywood—(U.P.)—Crooner Johnny Ray says he prefers listening to records by Perry Como and Frank Sinatra. "I can't stand listening to my records," he said. "The voice is too piercing."

Film Announced For Study Class

"Christian Roots in Southeast Asia" is the title of the colored film which will be shown at the final session of a study class on Southeast Asia. The class has been sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church and meets in the Fireplace Room of the church from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Friday, November 9.

Mrs. L. G. Rankin, president of the society, will review the book "East from Burma"; Mrs. James Moerder will present material concerning the Caroline Islands; and Mrs. James Baumer will describe the religion of Confucianism.

Mrs. Jessie Minear, instructor of the class, will summarize the study and some project will be decided upon to further the Christian influence in the nations which have been studied.

Rivalry Of The Sexes

New York—(U.P.)—The war of the sexes goes on even in the antiques field. The recent international Antiques Exhibition here reported that women generally start the collecting in the family. But that the men, once bitten, come down with the more severe attacks of the collecting disease.

Troop To Earn Funds for Trip; Sales Announced

The seventeen members of Girl Scout Troop 155, made up of McLoughlin Junior High school eighth graders, will hold a baked food sale Saturday, November 10, at the Home Appliance company, 115 East Main street. The sale will start at 9:30 a.m. The troop will also hold a candy sale during the Rogue Valley Area Girl Scout council meeting on November 14.

The troop funds are to be used for a trip to Salem March 1, to visit the Oregon Senate and House of Representatives, and tour the State Capitol. The girls in the troop are working on the My Government Badge as part of the requirements to complete the Curved Bar Rank, the highest award in Intermediate Girl Scouts. Their leader is Mrs. Jack Sanborn.

Small Eggs Good Buy Poultryman Advises

Madison, Wis.—(U.P.)—Small eggs are a good buy this time of year, a poultry specialist with the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture reports.

Baxter Newton said that a seasonal increase in small egg supplies and a decrease in large eggs is brought about by pullets replacing hens in laying flocks.

Pullets start laying small eggs and need about six weeks to reach full size. But with consumers accustomed to large eggs, demand for the bigger ones continues. The excellent buys thus are in the smaller sizes.

Newton said small eggs have the same high quality as larger eggs of the same grade.

Camp White Club Cancels Tourney

Camp White—The open pairs bridge tournament planned by Camp White Veterans Bridge club has been canceled, it was announced this morning. The tournament was to have opened Friday night, but due to the heavy fog, neither the tournament or regular play will be held according to Dick Ave, club director.

Dead line Sunday Classified is at noon Saturday, 10 a.m. Monday for Monday, other days 5:30 previous day.

Current developments in the Suez crisis will be discussed by Paul B. Johnson, former director of the American Friends' Service committee's village development project in rural Jordan, when he speaks tonight at 8 p.m. at St. Mark's Parish house for Medford chapter, United Nations association. The chapter will also hold an open house for new and prospective members, and anyone interested is invited to attend. Tomorrow Mr. Johnson speaks at Southern Oregon college, Ashland.
