

Democrats Analyze Election Returns To See What Happened To 'Farm Revolt'

Washington—(U.P.)—What happened to the "farm revolt" which Democrats banked on to beat President Eisenhower's second-term bid?

An analysis of the returns indicates that farmer discontent caused the President to get fewer votes in the farm belt than in 1952, but, despite the losses, he still swept every farm state except Missouri.

Where the farmers turned most decidedly against the Republicans was in congressional and gubernatorial races.

A GOP official said in some areas Republicans "apparently lost up to 40 per cent of our 1952 farm vote." Losses were heaviest west of the Mississippi, in areas where farmers have suffered from drought, he said.

In the nation as a whole, Mr. Eisenhower won nearly 58 per cent of the vote compared to 35 per cent in 1952.

The Picture
"But in farm areas, this was the picture:

Nebraska: Eisenhower 65 per cent, down four per cent from 1952.

South Dakota: Eisenhower 58 per cent, down nine per cent.

Minnesota: Eisenhower 54 per cent, down two per cent.

Illinois: Eisenhower 60 per cent, up five per cent. Much of this gain apparently came in the Chicago area.

Missouri: Eisenhower 49 per cent, down two per cent.

Iowa: Eisenhower 59 per cent, down five per cent.

Kansas: Eisenhower 66 per cent, down three per cent.

Democrats elected governors in the normally Republican farm states of Iowa and Kansas. And Democratic spokesmen claimed the farm issue helped turn Republicans out of at least six House seats and two Senate seats.

Still Hope
The Democrats hoped to pick up two additional GOP farm belt seats in undecided races between Rep. Robert D. Harrison (Neb.) and Lawrence Brock and Rep. James I. Dolliver (Ia.) and Merwin Coad. They also gave the farm problem credit for their near-upset of Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.)

Brock and Coad campaigned for a return to the old Democratic program of high, rigid farm supports. Dolliver has taken the same stand, but Harrison—who had expected to win easily—backed the administration farm program.

GOP View
A GOP farm spokesman saw the results this way:

"Our farm vote over the country was near the normal Republican farm vote. We lost a lot of the Democrats and independents we got in '52."

"Price support wasn't so much of an issue. It was the drought. This election proves you can't make anybody happy with a drought relief program."

Republican farm leaders could draw some comfort from the re-election of several staunch administration farm supporters, including Sens. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.), Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Ia.)

Democratic sources said the new Democrat-controlled Congress probably will try to restore high, rigid farm price supports if the administration tries to cut 1957 supports below 1956 levels.

Trailer House Hauls Forty-one Passengers

Enid, Okla.—(U.P.)—When Air Force Sgt. Val Weigel tows his trailer house down the road, he has 41 "passengers."

Besides Mrs. Weigel, the trailer is the home of 40 dolls. The collection includes at least one pair from Saigon, Indochina, Bangkok, Thailand and Rangoon, Burma. They range in height from eight to 12 inches and all wear native costume.

The Weigels started collecting dolls in 1951 when the sergeant was stationed in Singapore. Most of the dolls are from Asiatic countries, but now they are concentrating on European specimens. They hope someday to have a

Stevenson Rests At Libertyville Farm

Chicago—(U.P.)—Adlai E. Stevenson rested at his nearby Libertyville, Ill., farm today and pondered his future course in public affairs.

The defeated Democratic presidential candidate held a post-mortem huddle Wednesday with top advisers, most of whom told him the Middle East crisis provided the impetus for President Eisenhower's landslide victory.

Clayton Fritchey, Stevenson's chief press aide, said the beaten candidate probably would release by the end of the week a statement on his future plans.

The former Illinois governor early Wednesday conceded defeat to President Eisenhower for the second time in four years and called on all Americans to "give the administration all re-

New Jersey Governor Engaged To Marry

Oberlin, Ohio—(U.P.)—The President of Oberlin college announced today the engagement of his daughter, Helen Stevenson to Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

Dr. William E. Stevenson did not reveal the exact date of the wedding but he said it would take place sometime in January, probably in Oberlin.

Meyner, 48, and Miss Stevenson were expected to tell about their betrothal at a news conference at the state house in Trenton, N.Y., today.

The handsome governor, considered one of the nation's most eligible bachelors, met Miss Stevenson when he spoke at a mock political convention at Oberlin college last May 4.

Miss Stevenson, 28, is a distant cousin of defeated Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson.

Third Dogcatcher Figures To Remain

Trumbull, Conn.—(U.P.)—Marco Ciuffo, 36, was appointed the town's dog warden, the third in a line of dogcatchers.

less than three months. John Kadric resigned because "inconsiderate" persons telephoned complaints to him at 3 a.m. Robert J. Brennan quit because he had no place to keep his dog. Ciuffo figures to keep the job for a while. He's a part-time carpenter and can build new dog houses if necessary.

Everybody Happy In Marital Trade

Bellflower, Calif.—(U.P.)—Two plastic company officials who switched wives today were back at work in adjoining offices confident that their marital exchange was the best for everyone concerned.

Paul H. Omohundro, 41, president of the plastics firm, and Glenn Capps, 40, company secretary, said that they and their wives had planned for three years to change mates.

Omohundro's former wife, Rachel, and Capps' ex-wife, Mabel, obtained divorces Monday in Las Vegas, and married each other's husbands shortly afterward.

Both wives were given custody of their children. Omohundro and his first wife have two children, Bonnie Ruth, 13, and Thomas Ward, 11. Capps and his former mate have a daughter, Andrea, 13, and a son, Albert Glenn Jr., 8.

Omohundro said that the children had plenty of time to get used to the idea of switching households. He said that now the children would have the run of both homes.

AAA Division Aids Woman in Distress

Madison, Wis.—(U.P.)—The Wisconsin division of the American Automobile Association came to the aid of a woman who was really in distress.

A skunk had perfumed her car.

Mrs. Nola Pugh called the AAA and was directed to a Milwaukee fumigator. The fumigator said it was a rather unusual request but chivalrously de-skunked the car.

Marshall Field III Dies in Hospital

New York—(U.P.)—Marshall Field III, banker, publisher and philanthropist, died today in New York hospital where he recently underwent brain surgery.

Field, founder of the Chicago Sun, which later became the Chicago Sun-Times, entered the hospital Oct. 21. A brief announcement today said the multimillionaire died at 2 a.m. (PST).

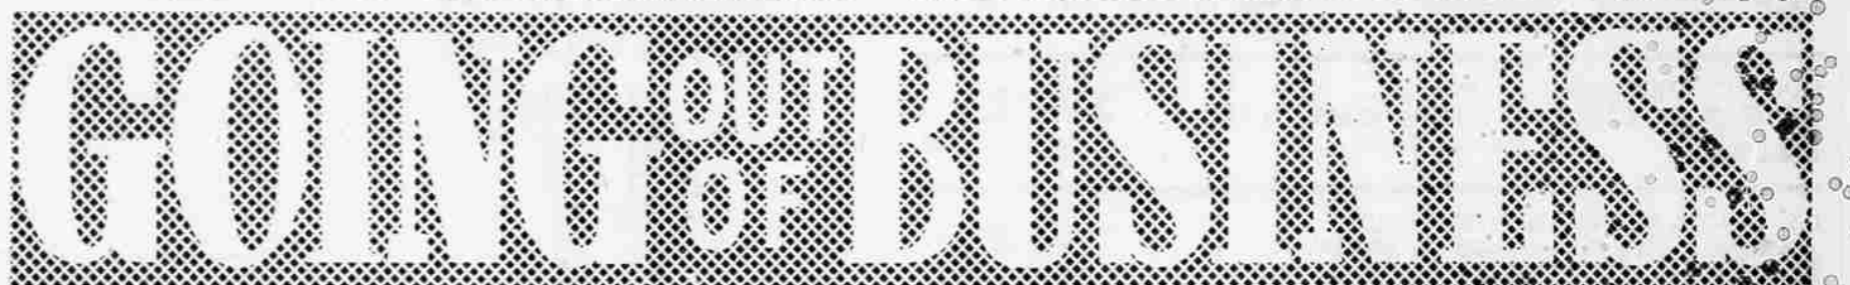

Field was born in Chicago in September, 1893. Both his father and grandfather, the famed merchant prince Marshall Field I, died while he was still a child. He was left a fortune estimated at $120 million.

Field entered the newspaper business in 1940 when he invested $200,000 to help found the paper, PM, in New York. The paper didn't catch on and Field sold it.

In 1941 he founded the Chicago Sun, three days before Pearl Harbor. Six years later he bought control of the Times and merged the papers into the Chicago Sun-Times.
