Area Council
Announces Meeting

A panel discussion of their experiences at the Senior Round-up of Girl Scouts in July will be presented by four Rogue Valley scouts as a highlight of the program at the Rogue Valley Area Council of Girl Scouts Wednesday, November 14. The girls will show slides taken on the trip, and two will also tell of their trip recently to a regional conference at Spokane.

Attending the Senior Round-up, which was held near Detroit, Mich., were Mary Friend and Karen Johnson of Medford, and Sandra Ullian and Judy Dreis of Grants Pass. Miss Friend and Miss Stevenson attended the Spokane meeting.

The council will hear the reports at the morning session which start at 10 a.m. at St. Marks guild hall. Representatives from Medford, Ashland, and Grants Pass-Illinois Valley plan to attend.

Election of officers, a vote on whether to make the Yreka, Calif., area a part of Region 11 for Girl Scouting and a vote on whether to lease Grayback camp from the Forest Service are on the agenda.

Four communities in Siskiyou county have asked to be made part of Region 11 of Girl Scouting. Fort Jones, Yreka, Hills and Happy Camp have approximately 289 girls enrolled in scouting, assisted by about 100 adults. The proportion of adults to girls is high because the troops are run as "lone troops," and each must have a lone troop committee before it can be organized. The Siskiyou area at present is not under a council jurisdiction; a field director visits the area once a year to give what aid is needed. Leaders in that area have no established training in basic leadership such as was recently concluded in Medford.

Camp Grayback has been used by Girl Scouts for day camp, trip camps, and adult training camp on a temporary basis, but now the area would like to lease it for a year round campsite. It is accessible in the winter, being located on the highway to the Oregon Cave. It would be used as a day camp site for recreational area, and also for troop and trip camping. It would be available to all other organizations meeting Girl Scout requirements for camping. It must be leased from the U.S. Forest Service.

All adults working with or interested in Scouting are welcome to attend the council meeting. They are requested to bring a sack lunch and coffee will be provided.

Other activities during the day will include the introduction of the new officers, and the presentation of the flag ceremony following the invocation.

Mrs. R. W. Gray and Mrs. Charles Barnes are in charge of the program.
