

Bethel Observes Friendship Night; Events Planned

Central Point—Job's Daughter, Bethel 38, observed friendship night Thursday with Miss Marla Abbott, queen, presiding. Mrs. C. D. Elhart, Medford, past grand guardian and past guardian of Ashland; Mrs. Ross Gilkison, guardian, Miss Bernice Skoog, queen, Miss Ann Garner, senior princess and other members of Medford Bethel 14; Melvin McGrew, associate guardian, Victor Noel, past associate guardian; Miss Kay Askwith, grand inner guard, Miss Anita Conger, past queen, all of Bethel 38, were introduced.

Announced were "go to church night" on November 18 at 7:30 p.m. at Central Point Presbyterian church and a council meeting Wednesday, November 14, at the home of the guardian, Mrs. Paul Snook.

Members of the refreshment committee, Misses Sally Elden, Janet and Lorraine Scalberg, and Patti Taylor, assisted by their mothers, decorated the downstairs hall to represent a night club. It was called "Amistad Noches" or Friendship Night. Many small tables were covered with bright cloths and Mexican decorations, and the rooms were lighted only by candles.

Assisting with the serving were Miss Sandra Ghelardi and Miss Sharon Anderson, wearing Mexican style costumes. A program was presented in night club fashion. Misses Elden and Linda Warren were chorus girls, Miss Kay Askwith and Miss Gail Collins gave a Mexican hat dance, Miss Janet Kilbourn and Miss Patti McCue were flower pot packers, Miss Helen Goff gave a tap dance, Miss Lea Padgett played an accordion number and comedy relief was furnished by Miss Rachel Hamilton and Miss Laurel Setness who gave an original "ma and pa" dialogue.

Miss Abbott, dressed as a treader, was mistress of ceremonies.

Miss Jeanette Purdy and Mrs. Purdy decorated the hall.

Open House Set By Jackson PTA

A joint Parent-Teacher association meeting and open house will be held in the Jackson school auditorium Thursday, November 15 at 7 p.m.

This meeting will be in observance of American Education Week, and a group of fathers will present a short program. The rest of the evening will be spent visiting classrooms and meeting the teachers.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria during the evening.

Lodge Festival To Be Thursday

The Olive Rebekah Lodge Fall Festival, featuring a luncheon, card party and bazaar, is scheduled for Thursday, November 15, at the IOOF hall.

Luncheon will be served at noon and the bazaar will begin at 11 a.m. The event will be open to the public.

Leaders Outline Scout Activities For This Month

Girl Scout leaders and assistants of Lincoln-Jackson neighborhood met Thursday at the home of the neighborhood chairman Mrs. B. E. Culy, to discuss plans for scouting during November. It is planned to hold a neighborhood meeting the second Monday of each month for all leaders, assistants, and troop committee members.

Miss Mary Aldrich, executive director, described the purpose of the meetings, which is to provide help and information for the volunteer leaders of scouting. Miss Aldrich instructed the leaders in the making out of registration forms, and the other records that must be kept. She emphasized that troops should re-register at least two weeks before their official troop birthday to prevent a lapse in the continuous membership of the troop members.

Mrs. Jerry Gastineau, troop organization chairman for Medford, reminded the leaders that girls must bring signed permission slips before they could become part of the troop—this covers activities regularly carried on at the troop meeting place or within the community in which the troop meets. For hikes or trips outside the city the girls must bring a special trip permit signed by the parents before they can be allowed to go.

Mrs. Gastineau also reminded the leaders that a troop must have a troop committee of from three to five members before the troop can be registered. The leaders were also informed that the Rogue Valley Area council carries liability insurance on all registered adults to protect them from lawsuits resulting from accidents while transporting, or hiking with the troop. It was also suggested that when transporting the girls it was advisable to have two adults in each car, one to drive and one to supervise the girls.

The work of program aides was described and advice on how to obtain this help was given. Program aides are senior scouts who come to the troop and teach the girls songs, games or some particular craft, thereby aiding the leader in directing the troop. Those interested in securing aides should contact their neighborhood chairman or the Scout office.

Leaders and assistants present were Mrs. Dennis Davis, Mrs. William Burnette and Mrs. Eric de Place from Lincoln; from Jackson were Mrs. L. E. Barden, Mrs. G. E. Tesch, Mrs. L. W. Anderson, Mrs. Gatewood Smith, Mrs. Stuart Forbes, Mrs. William Roberts, Mrs. Howard Calkins, and Mrs. Wilmer Warren. Mrs. Warren is troop consultant for Jackson.

Miss Mary Vandenburg will present a film on family relations for a meeting of Lincoln Parent Teacher association to be held in the school gymnasium Thursday, November 15.

Mrs. Ted Flury Speaks For Club In Eagle Point

Eagle Point—Mrs. Ted Flury spoke for the last meeting of Eagle Point Garden club, held at the home of Mrs. Francis Putman. Mrs. Amy Brown was co-hostess.

Mrs. Flury talked on drift-wood arrangements. She showed an assortment of woods she had gathered along the river. Mrs. Flury said wood should be brushed well in order to remove loose pieces and soil, and then bleached, using a commercial chlorine bleach and water. After drying, the wood will have a soft satin-like finish, she said.

Mrs. Clarence Davies reported on "Daisies," giving names of the newest kinds and colors. The auction was won by Mrs. J. N. Forten, and prizes went to Mrs. Charles Cushman and Mrs. Don Anderson.

The club plans a special all-day meeting Wednesday, November 28, at the home of Mrs. Davies. This will be a workshop on candle-making. Interested members are asked to take a sack lunch and the following materials: small or odd-sized cans with both ends cut out to use as molds, or milk cartons, pieces of old candles, lip stick and glitter. Wax will be furnished. Some of the candles made will be sold.

HEC to Meet

Roxey Ann Home Economics club will meet Wednesday, November 14, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Mabel Christiansen, 504 West Jackson street. Mrs. Eugene Nowlin will be co-hostess.

Record Number At PTA Session

An attendance record was established at the Roosevelt Parent-Teacher association meeting Friday, November 9. Girl Scout Troop 164 presented colors to open the meeting.

The Mothersingers, under the direction of Mrs. LeRoy Jensen, sang three numbers followed by a novelty encore. John Childers, introduced by Mrs. Robert Little, program chairman, was speaker of the afternoon. "Roosevelt School and Your Child" was Mr. Childers' theme. The question and answer period following the parents present.

Mrs. Jerry Adfinger, president, presided over the meeting. Hostesses for the afternoon were mothers of the pupils in the fifth grades. The room count was won by Mrs. Lucille Hulbert in the lower grades and Jack Holms in the upper grades. Roosevelt PTA will not meet in December.

Add a December touch to pork roast by rubbing it before baking with a touch of rosemary, ground sage or cloves.

Gardeners

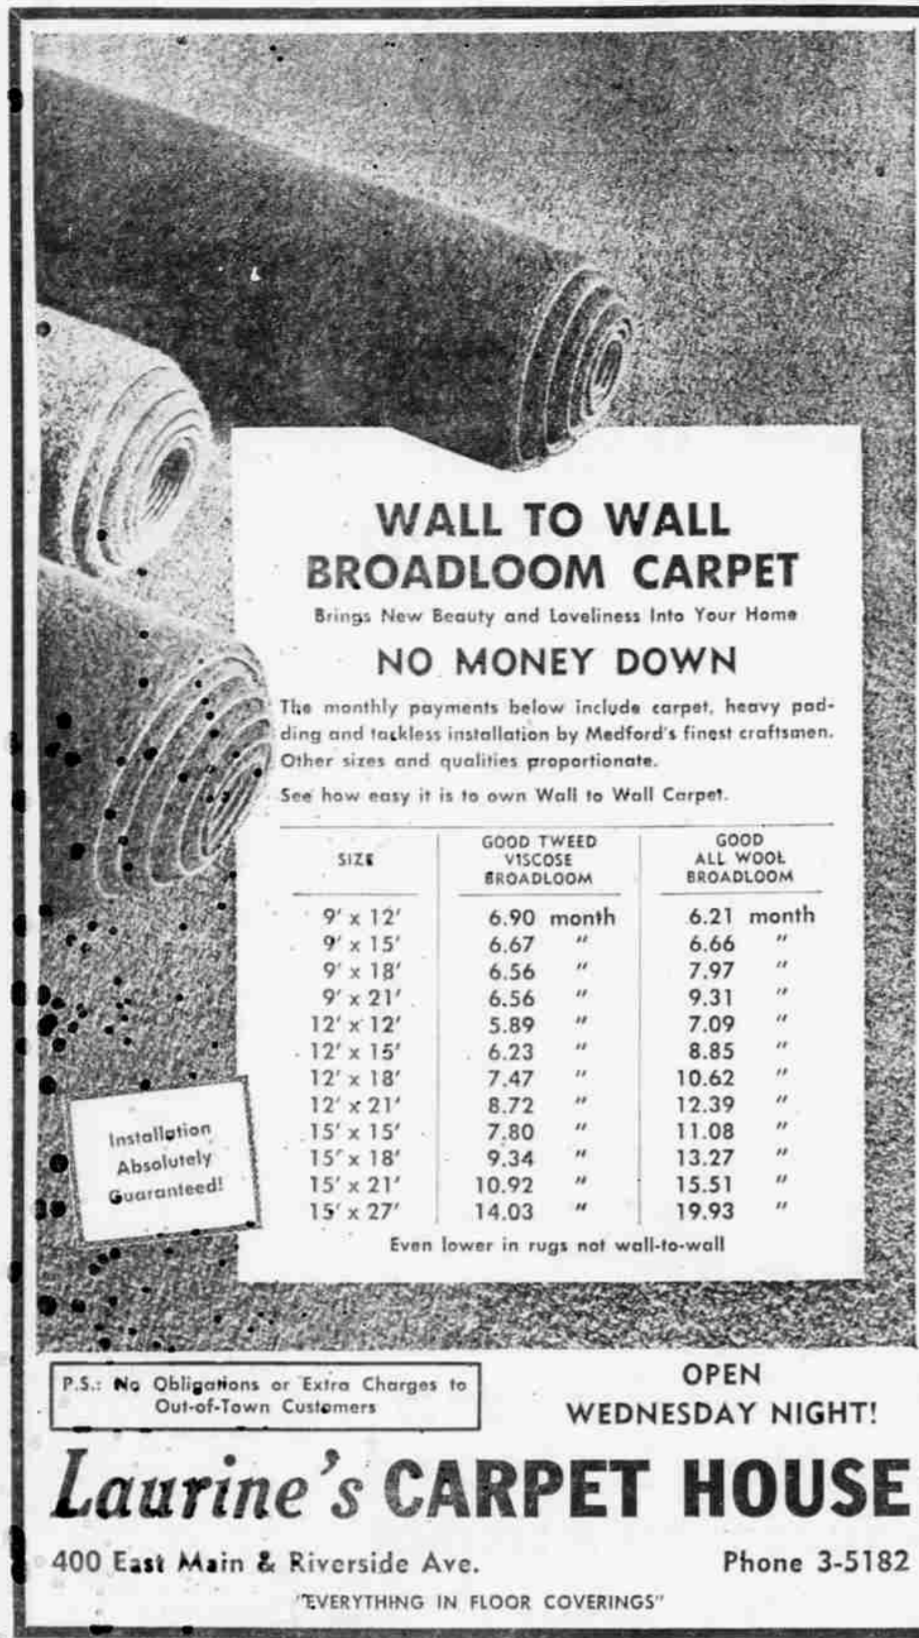

Roxey Gardeners will meet Wednesday, November 14, at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. C. C. Hoover, 2095 Gregory road. Mrs. Fred Kelsall will give a talk on "Camallias and Peonies."

NEW MOTHERS

Even the slightest harshness in your baby's next-to-skin garments may cause irritation of the sensitive skin and even lead to rash. That's why hospital nurses guard against such trouble by washing baby garments in real soap only—the kind made famous in the West by White King. No other type of washday product can match White King Soap in getting baby clothes safely soft and hospital clean. Guard your own infant's skin by washing diapers, nighties and bed clothing in gentle White King Soap.
