

EAGLE-POINT Auxiliary Discusses Sale

By LOUISE M. BERG
Eagle Point — The monthly meeting of the Lady Lions auxiliary was held in the home of Mrs. Fred Bruegger Wednesday evening. A potluck dinner was served and the evening was highlighted by the auctioning of gift-wrapped hats for 24 cents each, each member required to wear the hat she won during the evening. Many were handmade and of the humorous type.

Plans for a sale of clothing, food, books, plants and all saleable items was discussed. The sale will be held Dec. 1 in the Fehl building in Medford, and anyone wishing to contribute may call Mrs. Jake Olsen, or Mrs. Vernon Bonebrake, or Mrs. Stowell. The money derived from this sale will be donated towards the State Blind School in Salem, a project of the auxiliary. Two new members were installed during the evening, Mrs. Ray Ragsdale and Mrs. Dean Collette.

Ruby Stowell was hostess to the Neighborhood Birthday club this week, honoring Vivian McLean. Among those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Stowell were Christian Linder, Gertrude Putman, Amy Brown, Nellie Webb, Cora Smith, Eva Fortin, Mattie Brown, Lottie VanSoy, Mrs. Archie Brown of Medford, and Kay Kittwell of Calistoga, Calif.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Community Bible church met last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Miles Williams, Shady Cove. Mrs. Frank Cook of Medford assisting. Twenty-eight members were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Force of Grants Pass have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Glen Farley, their relatives, this week.

Dallie Kenner is in the Osteopathic hospital, very ill.

Larry Rehfeld of Drain former teacher in the high school was a visitor in Eagle Point last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Henderson are visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Smith in Crescent City this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ousterhout and family have returned from a week's vacation, visiting friends and relatives in McMinnville, Corvallis, Eugene and Portland.

Linda Malloroy spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Malloroy. Linda attended the 4-H achievement meeting here, and will leave on Thanksgiving Day for Chicago where she will attend a 10-day convention. Linda is a student at Corvallis, and is majoring in food technology.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Esch have returned from a week's trip to California, visiting with Lawrence Ousterhout who is attending Davis Agricultural college in Davis, and Mrs. Esch's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Quensenberry, in Medford.

Mrs. Velma Noble suffered a lacerated right arm recently when she ran a nail into the flesh. She was given first aid at the Rogue Valley hospital, where she had several stitches taken.

The student body of the Eagle Point high school will hold their annual carnival Nov. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the school gym. Charles Pettigrew, student body president, is in charge. All proceeds will be to further the activities of the student body. There will be side shows, games of skill, country store, selling turkeys, and other foods, a dunking contest, a fish pond, and selling of hot dogs by the GAA. The portable booths were made by the carpentry class under the supervision of Don McGovern, instructor.

One of the main events of the evening will be the crowning of the queen. The candidates are Gail Norris of Shady Cove, a freshman, Sudee Christian, a sophomore of Eagle Point, Linda Jaekel, a junior of Shady Cove, and Doris Hammonds of Antelope, a senior. The one who becomes queen of the carnival will be chosen by the number of tickets she sells.

The county-wide teachers institute will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 21, in Medford. All schools will be closed till Monday, Nov. 26.

Lenord Ward Construction company has contracted to level 160 acres on the Dick Richmond ranch in Ft. Jones. The land is to be planted into alfalfa.

Annual Convention Of County Clerks, Treasurers Ends

Portland—(UP)—The annual convention of the Oregon Association of County Treasurers and County Clerks closed here Friday with adoption of resolutions and election of officers.

One resolution adopted by the treasurers' group recommended that Oregon law be amended to make the State Tax commission an administrative body only, removing it from the power to make rules and regulations that have force of law and its power of judicial review of assessments.

The treasurers concluded that the Tax commission under present law has been given executive, legislative and judicial powers contrary to the concept of separation of those functions of government.

Another Resolution In another resolution, the treasurers recommended that state law be amended to provide for advancement of the payment of annual taxes from Nov. 15 to Aug. 15 each year. They said that the lag between the July 1 fiscal year of local budget bodies and the November date for tax payments often results in taxing districts being forced to borrow funds at a considerable cost in interest.

W. V. Waggoner of Coos county was named president of the Treasurers association. Alletta S. Dillard of Harney county was named vice president; and Margaret D. Grabenhorst of Gilliam county, secretary-treasurer.

The Association of Clerks and Records named Charles Doerner of Douglas county as president; Si Cohn of Multnomah county, vice president; Grant Young of Baker county, treasurer, and Hazel Powell of Crook county, secretary.

preparing Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to be shown before each holiday. These baskets will be on display at the Butte Falls General store. Drawing for the Thanksgiving basket will be held Monday or Tuesday of Thanksgiving week.

Drawing for the Christmas basket will be Wednesday, Dec. 9, at the Butte Falls General store. This basket will be on display the first week of December.

THE REMOVAL OF TONSILS AND ADENOIDS

In a recent article commented on editorially by Dr. Irving J. Wolman, there is a summary of the answers to a questionnaire that was sent to 10,200 pediatricians and other practitioners who see many sick children. They reported that most physicians remove the tonsils and adenoids because of repeated inflammations of the middle ear, repeated attacks of tonsillitis, and a decided tendency to mouth-breathing. Most of the operations were done for children between the ages of 5 and 8. Most doctors refuse to perform the operation during the polio season.

One physician remarked that he spent more time in trying to convince parents of the inadvisability of taking out the tonsils of their particular child, than in doing many other things in his practice.

My impression is that whenever a patient finds a physician who refuses to perform some operation which would bring him a good fee, he should be very grateful that he has found, not only an able and well-informed man, but a very honest and idealistic man. Instead of arguing with him, he should adopt him as his physician and stick to him for the rest of his days!

Pills To Cure Alcoholism
A hundred women must have written asking for some pills to give to their husband or their son to make him stop drinking. There is a medicine called santonin which makes a man sick if he drinks, but this would have to be taken with the cooperation of the man. Also, the use of the drug would have to be watched by a physician.
