

EGYPT WARNS OF 'GREAT CATASTROPHE'

Oregon Highway Mishaps Kill Five

By UNITED PRESS
Five persons died in week end highway accidents in Oregon and another was killed when struck by a passenger train in Portland.

A seven-year-old girl, Yvonne Helmer, was killed and several other persons were shaken up or injured in a two-car collision in Portland last night. The victim was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Helmer of Portland.

Benjamin Tupper, about 59, a Beatty, Ore., rancher, was killed at Klamath Falls yesterday when struck by a car. It was the 24th traffic fatality of the year in Klamath county.

Robert F. Gray, Sacramento, Calif., was killed Saturday on the Mt. Hood Loop highway in a truck accident about seven miles east of Government Camp. Police said the car in which Gray, his wife and two children were riding struck a slick spot on a curve and plunged over an embankment. Gray was pinned under the vehicle and a 250-pound boulder that had been dislodged by the car rolled down the bank and struck him. His wife and the children suffered bruises.

Herbert William Lawrence, 27, Mosier, was killed Friday night when his car struck the rear of a truck at The Dalles.

James L. Rowland, 56, was crushed to death beneath the wheels of a locomotive in Portland Saturday when he failed to hear the passenger train whistle.

The body of a 61-year-old Mojalla insurance man was found in his wrecked car in the waters of Clear Creek about six miles east of the Colton intersection early today.

The victim was Curtis Allen Connett, who had been the object of an all night search. His wife became alarmed.

His wife told Deputy Sheriff David Spear that she began searching for Connett last night when he did not return from a trip to his ranch east of Molalla.

Spear said the car was badly damaged and that Connett was found dead at the wheel. He said it was possible that he suffered a heart attack or had lost control of the car and plunged through the bridge.

Spokesmen for workers frankly admitted they had capitulated to hunger, cold and lack of money rather than the promises of concessions by the Soviet sponsored Janos Kadar regime.

"Kadar didn't convince us," one said, "but winter is here and misery comes."

The workers said they have not given up their demands for the end of mass deportations, withdrawal of Soviet troops and ouster of the Kadar government.

"But the whole country can't live on relief," one spokesman commented bitterly. "The workers were so much united by last week's events they will never fall apart again. The government must realize by now that the use of force is pointless."

Reports reaching Vienna said that bands of freedom fighters are still resisting. A refugee Hungarian Army officer said partisans battled Soviet troops in the hills northeast of Budapest and in the Bakony Forests to the southwest of the Hungarian capital. He said snipers were active in Budapest itself.

She will also meet with Mrs. John Austerlitz, county chairman of the Great Decisions program. Mrs. M. P. O'Hara, home economics county commission chairman, and Don Hansen, chairman of the Great Decisions program last year.

Community Project
The Great Decision program, a community project for the advancement of discussion of key foreign policy issues, will start in January and eight issues will be discussed by organizations, radio and newspaper, before the project is completed.

During November, December and early January discussion groups will be organized. Helping to develop the local programs throughout the state are Mrs. Mack, Mrs. Maude Walker and Warren Rovetch, foreign policy association adviser from Portland.

Discussion Stated
During the meeting this afternoon material will be discussed and plans made for the entire project.

The Jackson county Planning council is composed of the chairman of 18 planning committees on youth, commodities and community improvement. Members will discuss the purpose of the committees, methods and techniques in committee work for problem solving. The committees will gather information, then make recommendations on improvement at a public meeting in February.

Hearing on Land Withdrawal Tuesday
Bureau of Land Management and United States Forest Service proposals to withdraw 23,358.67 acres along the Rogue river in Jackson and Josephine counties for use as recreational areas will be presented at a public hearing at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

The hearing will be held in the Josephine county courthouse at Grants Pass.

BLM has requested the withdrawal of 15,488 acres and the United States Forest Service has asked withdrawal of 7,780.67 acres all lying along the Rogue river.

Khrushchev Blasts Western Diplomats At Polish Party

Envoys Walk Out on Anti-Western Tirade

Moscow — (U.P.) — The Western envoys walked out on Communist party secretary General Nikita S. Khrushchev again Sunday night when he gave them another tongue-lashing and hinted that God would be on the side of the Communists "if we believed in the existence of God."

"We will bury you," Khrushchev told the Western diplomats at a reception at the Polish Embassy to mark the signing of a Soviet-Polish agreement giving the right to pursue an independent course of Communism.

"If you do not like us," the vodka-drinking Khrushchev told the American, British and other envoys, "do not accept our invitations, and do not invite us to you."

He also blasted Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito although he did not mention him by name.

Encouraged by Leaders
"Those Socialist countries who boast of their experience and attempt to extol their forms and methods have a mistaken attitude that does not agree with the principles of Marxism-Leninism," he said.

The red-faced Khrushchev, apparently encouraged by the many top-level Soviet leaders gathered around him, delivered his bitter anti-Western tirade at a reception given for Polish Communist Leader Wladyslaw Gomulka.

He ran the gamut of internal affairs and the course of Communist theory and relations behind the Iron Curtain. He brought God into it when he said:

"Things are going very well with us. If we believed in the existence of God we would thank Him for it."

Frequently Interrupted
Khrushchev was frequently interrupted by Soviet leaders standing around him, but there was no indication anyone was trying to shut him up. They applauded, laughed and encouraged him as he rambled on about Hungary, Egypt, and the United States.

Each time Soviet leaders tried to correct or tone down his remarks, Khrushchev brushed them off.

Once Soviet President Kliment Voroshilov took exception to Khrushchev's remark that Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser put Communists in jail.

"He had to," said Voroshilov. "Don't try to help me," Khrushchev answered brusquely.

Bear Creek Bank Project Completed

Embarkment work on the west bank of Bear creek in the north Medford area where the interceptor sewer was washed out in last December's flood, was completed last week by F. L. Somers, Medford contractor, it was announced today.

Somers was awarded the contract on a bid of $19,253 by the Army corps of engineers, Portland. The project included 5,620 cubic yards of excavation, 500 yards of embarkment from gravel borrow and 4,020 cubic yards of dumped stone revetment.

Gravel layers six inches thick were applied to the bank and a layer of stone from 1 1/2 feet to three feet thick topped the gravel. Work on the project was started Aug. 29.

Washington — (U.P.) — The White House today called for a quick settlement of the East Coast dock strike.

"This Time Let's Get A New Tire"

Planners to Conduct Special Meet Tuesday
The Medford planning commission will hold public hearings on rezoning property in the southeast Medford area at a special meeting at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The commission accepted five recommendations on rezoning southeast Medford from a citizens' committee last week. The Medford city council will consider recommendations from the commission on rezoning of the area at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

UN Police Force In Hungary as Threat To Peace

Russian Troops To Stay Until Situation Normal

Mass Deportation Charges Refuted

United Nations, N.Y.—(U.P.)—Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov warned today that any move to send a U.N. police force to Hungary would endanger peace. He told the General Assembly that Russian troops would not leave the country until the situation is "normalized."

The Russian diplomat said charges of mass deportations of free Hungarians to Siberia were an "outlandish invention." He denounced a Cuban resolution calling for a halt to the deportations and the immediate withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary.

Little Lobby Talk
There has been no formal move, and very little lobby talk, to send a U.N. emergency force into the Red-overnrun country.

Despite Shepilov's pledges and protestations against any U.N. action by Hungarian puppet Foreign Minister Imre Horvath, Cuba demanded that the assembly brand the Soviet Union for the murder of 75,000 free Hungarians, call upon it to get its troops out of Hungary immediately and urge an immediate halt to deportations into Russia.

Shepilov said a resolution to this effect submitted by Cuban Ambassador Emilio Nunez-Portuondo "has about it the fetid odor of provocation."

Accusations Unsubstantiated
"Even back in the worst periods of the cold war," he said, "one could hardly find another document which violates as glaringly the elementary requirements of substantiating the accusations advanced."

Russia, the Cuban said, sent more than 200,000 soldiers and 5,000 tanks into Hungary.

"We have the slaughter of more than 75,000 helpless citizens, the imprisonment of a tremendous number of Hungarian citizens who have been sent eastward to Siberia by the Soviet Union simply because they are guilty of wishing to be free men."

5 County Officials Back From Portland

Five county officials returned to their offices today after attending conventions in Portland last week.

County Judge Rodney Keating and Commissioner Chester Wendt attended a meeting of O and C counties and a convention of Oregon county commissioners. Karl L. Janouch, county treasurer, attended the convention of county treasurers and Paul Ryning, county engineer and surveyor, attended a state engineers and surveyors session.

Mrs. Bereth P. Hopkins, county clerk, who attended a state clerk's meeting, was appointed to the legislative committee to serve as a liaison between the clerk's group and the county commissioner's association on legislative matters affecting the county clerk's department. She has also been appointed chairman for the clerk's organization district 4 which is made up of four Southern Oregon counties.

At all of the meetings legislative matters were discussed and at the meeting of county engineers and surveyors a committee was appointed to study the qualifications for a county surveyor.

MOON ECLIPSE — Valley residents who observed the lunar eclipse Saturday night saw the earth's shadow creep across the face of the moon, and finally black it out completely in the first total eclipse visible here for several years. In this series of exposures, made at ten minute intervals from a point northeast of Medford, the moon is shown entering the earth's penumbra, or semi-shadow. Partial cloudiness in some parts of the valley made it impossible to view the phenomenon at its peak, when the moon was in nearly total darkness. This occurred at about 10:30 p.m. Later, clouds cleared away and the moon was observed to emerge from the shadow to its full brightness. The photo was taken from about 9:10 to 9:40 p.m. —(Mail Tribune photo by Bob Vromau)

Medford, Benson Grid Teams To Play Here Friday Night

United States Continues To Shun Big Three Meeting

Washington — (U.P.) — The United States is still giving Britain and France the cold shoulder on any quick Big Three heads-of-state or foreign ministers meeting.

Administration officials said today that a top-level meeting between President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, and French Premier Guy Mollet or their second-in-command in foreign policy will have to wait until the Middle East situation has "stabilized."

There was no estimate on how long this might take.

Last week, the State Department studiously passed up many opportunities for a Big Three foreign ministers' meeting, even though the British and French want one soon.

The United States is stalling on a Big Three conference, particularly with Eden and Mollet, for these reasons:

—Washington is still piqued that Britain and France secretly plotted and carried out their armed intervention in Egypt.

The two powers chose to use force — a move Mr. Eisenhower and Dulles warned would be disastrous.

France Supplied Jets
—The United States is particularly angry with the French. It is known in Washington now that the French were working with Israel long in advance of the Israeli attack which prompted the Middle Eastern crisis.

The French are reported to have sent at least 30 Mystere IV jet fighter planes to Israel just in advance of the invasion. Eden is believed to have known about the probable French-Israeli moves about two weeks before the crisis developed.

—Any Big Three meeting now would raise doubts and fears, particularly in the Arab world, that the United States after all was siding with Britain and France on Middle Eastern policy.

—The United States wants primary diplomatic efforts to heal the Middle Eastern crisis to continue to center in the United Nations. Three way talks now would be regarded as undercutting U.S. peace efforts.

Once the UN police force is firmly stationed between the two sides in Egypt and Allied troops are withdrawn, Mr. Eisenhower will be willing to talk about a meeting with Eden and Mollet — if they still want one.

Two Men Arrested During Burglary

Two Medford men were arrested by state police at 2:30 a.m. today while carrying a safe containing a considerable amount of money out of Cubby's Drive-In restaurant, 1275 South Riverside ave.

Officers said the pair, David Walker Laflin, 28, of 1032 Cherry st., and Jack T. Stallworth, 29, of 106 Lincoln st., were attempting to carry the safe to a nearby car, which had been reported stolen. The car was registered to William L. Reynolds, 32 Eighth st., Medford.

Officer Gene Hankins reported he was driving past the restaurant when he noticed two men approach the building. He parked the police car and observed as they broke the glass building and started to leave with the safe.

They offered no resistance when Hankins arrested them. They were taken to state police headquarters, where officers said they confessed the burglary and car theft. They were taken to the county jail where they are awaiting arraignment sometime today on charges of burglary and larceny of an auto.

Troop Withdrawal From Canal Zone At Once Demanded

Renewal of Request For Volunteers Hinted

London — (U.P.) — Egypt warned the world today of a "great catastrophe" unless Anglo-French forces withdraw at once from the Suez Canal Zone where they landed two weeks ago. It was indicated Egypt would renew its request for volunteers to fight Britain, France and Israel.

The Mideast remained tense. There were reports of Egyptian firing on British and French forces in their frontline positions south of Port Said and from Moscow came a new blast at West "colonialism" by Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

U.N. Secretary-general Dag Hammarskjold returned to New York from a series of conferences in Egypt, where he worked out details for operation of the U.N. Emergency force set up to supervise the cease fire. Egyptian Warring Hammarskjold told newsmen that he had "no comment" on his mission. He returned immediately to U.N. headquarters and went into session with Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of UNEF. There were no plans at present for him to report to the U.N. General Assembly.

In a statement broadcast over Cairo Radio, Wing Commander Ali Sabry said Egypt expects British and French troops to withdraw from the Suez Canal Zone immediately, this week, if possible. Anything else, he said, would be a violation of the U.N. cease fire resolutions.

Khrushchev followed up his insults to the West Saturday night with another outburst at a Moscow reception Sunday night, indicating the Kremlin was ready to go through with its offer of "volunteers" if necessary.

Troops Open Fire
He sarcastically denounced British Prime Minister Anthony Eden's description of the Anglo-French landings in the Suez Canal Zone as a "police action."

"When the British, French and Israelis cut the throats of the Egyptians, this is only a police action aimed at restoring order," he said.

The Anglo-French command in Port Said, meanwhile, charged that Egyptian troops opened fire twice in 12 hours on British and French forces in frontline positions near El Cap in the Suez Canal Zone. In either case, the French and British said, did their troops fire back. But U.N. observers were asked formally to investigate the incidents.

The Cairo International Airport, closed since British-French air attacks nearly three weeks ago, was opened to daylight flights by certain foreign airlines. Officials in London said that airlines intending to touch down at Cairo were advised by Egyptian authorities that under no circumstances may British, French, Israeli and Australian passengers be landed there.

Favorable Weather Predicted for Holiday
Good weather for the Thanksgiving day holiday was indicated today by the weather bureau in its five-day forecast for western Oregon.

Some rain is predicted about Wednesday and again toward the week end but the Medford weather station said that most of the rain will be to the north with little anticipated in this area.

Temperatures are expected to warm after tonight and near normal for the period.

Most of Europe Bracing for Gasoline Rationing; Heating Fuel Shortage Seen
London — (U.P.) — Most of Europe braced today for gasoline rationing and shortages of heating fuel because of the Suez Canal crisis.

Blockade of the canal and sabotage of pipelines leading from Iraq through Syria to the Mediterranean have cut off more than 75 per cent of the crude oil supply which normally flows into Europe's refineries.

In some parts of Europe, industries which normally use oil are switching back to coal, creating the prospect of reduced coal supplies for home use.

Britain and France, the nations whose intervention in the Suez Canal Zone sparked the crisis which cut off the oil supply, were hardest hit. France ordered gasoline stations closed during the week end and planned to start issuing ration coupons Jan. 1.

In Britain, Minister of Fuel Aubrey Jones appealed to drivers 10 days ago to reduce wheel end pleasure driving and said "even sterner measures" may be introduced next month.

Most countries of Western Europe report enough gasoline on hand to last three months. However, salvage engineers have estimated it will take at least six months to clear the Suez Canal of sunken vessels and reopen the waterway to fuel tankers.

Rationing of gasoline and fuel oil appeared a certainty in Britain, France, Ireland, Denmark and The Netherlands. Rationing went into effect in Spain today. Germany has increased prices for fuel to pay for shipping it around the Cape of Good Hope. Switzerland has curtailed pleasure driving to conserve its supplies.
