

Major and Family Leave for Home
Major and Mrs. F. W. Shadle and daughters, Charlene Ann and Marcia Lynn, left for their home in Olympia, Wash., Saturday morning after spending Thanksgiving here with Mrs. Shadle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hulbert, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Hulbert, and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knox.

Major Shadle and family recently returned to the United States after a tour of duty in Germany, and he is now stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Society

Miss Margaret Ann Bolz and Jim James, students at Phoenix High school, won first places in the costume contest during the recent annual Sadie Hawkins' day dance given by the Sophomore class. Margaret Ann is a sophomore, and Jim is a senior. During the dance the girls, dressed in typical "Dog Patch" costumes, lined up in groups of five or six and awaited the signal to start the race to "catch a man." The boys, half a lap ahead of the girls on the plotted race track, didn't have a chance because they were required to wear potato sacks on their feet. The event was planned with the help of Mrs. Virginia LaBounty and Roscoe Larson, advisors for the Sophomore class. The hall was appropriately decorated in the Dog Patch theme, and novelty games were played in addition to the dancing. About 95 students attended.

Phoenix — The Home Economics club, of Phoenix Grange will meet for a covered dish luncheon November 28 at 12:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. H. R. Glasscock, 109 Fourth street, Phoenix.

Two Groups Hold Dinner Meeting In Rogue River

Rogue River — Rogue River Veterans of Foreign Wars and auxiliary members held a chicken dinner November 16 at the VFW hall. Mrs. R. Hoover and Mrs. Claude Willoughby were in charge of the kitchen. About 40 attended.

Mrs. Homer Classick, president of the auxiliary, arranged a program of readings and musical numbers for the social hour following the dinner. There were tap dances by Eugenia Friedenthal and Kathleen Classick, songs by Judy Buckle, piano selections by Beverly Smith, and accordion selections by Claudia Aumiller. Joyce Chlamulera and Kathleen Classick gave readings. David Bond and Bill Thompson played several numbers on their guitars and David sang.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Friedenthal were guests.

School Grounds Planted by Club

Gold Hill — Five Gold Hill Garden club members recently gathered at the new Margaret E. Patrick school to plant shrubs and bulbs near the school entrance and in flower boxes around the building.

Students were dismissed from classes to watch the planting and presented a letter of appreciation, which was read during the ceremony. Bulbs and shrubs were furnished by garden club members. More bulbs are needed, including crocus, tulips, snowdrops and daffodils, club members said. Parents and patrons of the school have been invited to donate.

After the ceremony, the women went to the residence of Mrs. George Dorman, who served refreshments. Planting committee members were Mrs. William Fields, president, Mrs. Dorman, Mrs. Arthur Boye, Mrs. J. G. Kofahl and Mrs. M. Schoenemann.

Club members will exchange gifts and reveal the names of secret pals at a Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Boye, December 21. The party will be preceded by a 1 p.m. dessert luncheon.

Townsend Meeting Held Last Wednesday

Townsend club and auxiliary met last Wednesday with 26 members and guests present. Mrs. C. E. Naffziger presided at the short business meeting.

Mrs. Thornton Arnold read the Washington, D.C., News Flash, adding that 216 new national officials are favorable to the Townsend plan.

Preparations will soon start for honoring the birthday of the founder, Dr. Francis E. Townsend, national club president. The club bulletin was read by the secretary, Mrs. Naffziger.

Townsend club met again Wednesday, November 28, at 12:30 p.m. for a covered dish luncheon at Carpenters hall, 123½ West Main street. Visitors and friends are invited to attend. A program follows each meeting.

Feet First

By Joe Patricia BURELSON'S SHOE SALON Main & Barrett

99% of us are born with perfect feet, but three out of four people develop foot trouble before they are 20. Yet, just reasonable respect for feet can prevent most of these troubles. Here are five simple ways to show respect for your children's feet and to insure against most foot problems.

1. Have your child's feet measured at least once every three months. It takes 10 years for the basic structure of the foot to be completed, about 18 years for the foot to mature fully. During this time seven out of 10 foot defects are caused by out-grown shoes. You may not have to buy shoes every time your child's feet are measured, but you will know whether the present shoes are still fitting correctly.

2. Short stockings cause as much harm as short shoes — by cramping the toes. Hose should be half-inch longer than the big toe — not more, because stocking that are too long bunch and cause blisters.

3. Feet should be bathed daily in warm, soapy water. Toe nails should be scrubbed gently with a soft brush. Foot powder should be used between the toes, after drying them. Toe nails should be cut straight across and not too short.

4. Exercising will not strengthen the feet especially nor improve arches. It will relax the feet, ankles, arches. One exercise for your child to follow daily: stand with feet parallel, rise on tip toes, return slowly. Do this 50 times each night.

5. Watch out for these signs of developing foot problems in your child: heels run over on the outside or inside, indicating poor tread; bulging inward of the ankle, resulting from faulty posture; curling upward of the front part of your child's shoes, signaling they are too short. Red marks on your child's feet show bad fitting of shoes. Ignore these signs, and open the door to weak feet, strained arches, and worse. Adv.
