Haskins Return From Trip Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Haskins have returned to their home in Medford after a five month's absence during which they toured Europe. The Haskins left Medford June 23 and motored to central Illinois to visit relatives and friends before sailing for Europe July 19 on the Queen Mary.

The couple then joined the Campus Tours of the Olson Travel organization and with a group of 26, toured seven countries for 48 days. At the close of that period they took an extension tour into Scotland, Ireland and Wales. They rested a week at Croydon, England, at the Shirley Park hotel, and then made another extension tour, this one to Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

October 4 Mr. and Mrs. Haskins sailed for the United States on the Queen Elizabeth. After spending a few days in New York they returned to Pekin, Ill., and spent some time with Mrs. Haskins' sister, Mrs. Louis Schram and other relatives and close friends. Before returning they visited Miss Ora Cox, former principal of Lincoln school, Medford, who lives in Bushnell, Ill.

The Haskins were entertained by relatives and friends in Illinois before leaving and upon returning from Europe. The couple visited 14 countries and traveled on many bodies of water. In addition to crossing the Atlantic they crossed the Straits of Dover, the English channel, the North Sea and were on the Baltic, Adriatic and Mediterranean seas.

They covered over 25,000 miles by auto, train, bus, ship, street car, motor boat, funicular and gondolas and said upon returning home that they found no place which seemed better to them than the Rogue River valley and Medford.

Holbrook Book Reviewed for Wednesday Club

Mrs. C. W. Mitchell reviewed the book, "The Columbia," by Stewart H. Holbrook, author of several books on well known rivers, at the last meeting of Wednesday Study club.

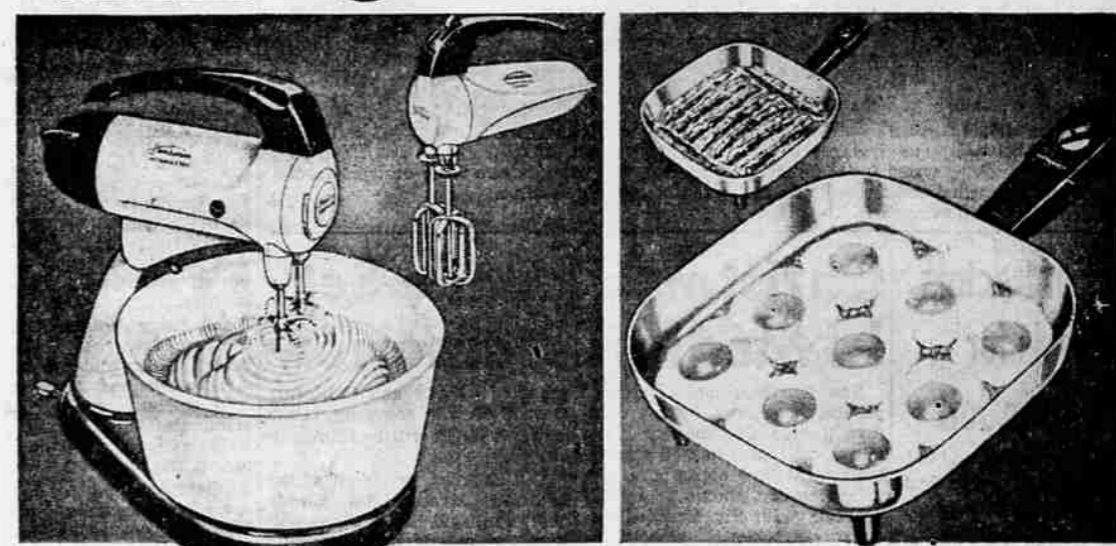

The books on the Rivers of America series have been called by Newsweek, some of the most interesting volumes of Americana ever written for its 50th volume, the editors have chosen "The Columbia," the great river of the Northwest. The "Oregon" was the famed river of the West in men's imagination, but when it was finally seen by the white men in 1792, it was named for the Columbia, first ship to come over the bar, commanded by

Returns

Capt. Robert Gray. Miss Anna Streed, guest speaker of the club, discussed the book, "The Wheel of Health," by Dr. G. T. Wrench. It is the theory of the author that all diseases have their origin in the lack of life giving foods, and that perfect health is derived from food.

Miss Sylvia Teeter returned to Linfield college, McMinnville, Ore., Sunday, after spending Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Teeter, 2202 East Main street. Miss Teeter, a freshman, is a member of Wildcats, the pep club, and the drill team at the college.
