

Dorm Club Plans Dance

Ashland—A new name to the Southern Oregon College campus, Evans' ten piece orchestra from Klamath Falls, will provide dancing music at the Winter Forest formal dance in Churchill hall auditorium Saturday, December 1, at 9 p.m. Ronnie Bryan will be featured vocalist. This traditional dance is sponsored each year by the men's dormitory as the first formal event of the year on the campus.

Bob Ebert, in charge of decorations, has planned to use small fir trees in an all white setting as the decorative theme of the evening. Special lighting effects plus a giant snowman, snow storm, and igloo refreshment stand will transform Churchill hall auditorium into a decidedly different dance floor for the evening. A special winter forest backdrop will be provided for the benefit of couples wishing to have their pictures taken during the dance.

During the dance one of four princesses will be named queen. The four candidates, selected by residents of the men's dormitory, are Miss Marilyn Booth, Medford; Miss Audrey Hite, Phoenix; Miss Sonja Smith, Jacksonville; and Miss Sharon James, Medford. The queen's throne will be decorated as a huge snowball in keeping with the winter theme of the dance.

Dick Kerbo, a Klamath Falls junior, is general chairman of the event, and will be assisted by all of the members of the Dorm club, Jerry Tuttle, chairman of ticket sales, states tickets may be obtained from any member of the man's dormitory.

Make Your Own Christmas Cards Directions Given

Christmas cards sparkling with originality, and a touch of your personality, need not be a costly Yuletide item. Just an inexpensive card can be given that "something special" look in a few minutes by using some of the many low-cost decoration items being offered this year. All that's needed to produce this bit of magic are a packet of sequins, a vial of glittering stardust, a plastic squeeze-tube of the new clear-drying glue, and your imagination.

The key to the project is the new polyvinyl acetate glue-all which will bond wood, paper and cloth to almost anything. It dries fast and clear and therefore cannot mar your cards. It is available in plastic tubes or squeeze bottles.

Here are a few ideas: Apply a thin coat of the glue in an artistic swath over your card. (Remember: it dries clear!) Apply vari-colored stardust to the glue film to transform your plain card into an "expensive" one.

If your cards have a Santa Claus design, glue on little tufts of cotton for the beard, hat and cuffs. You can apply a trail of stardust for his reindeer. Cut out little silver snow moons and glue them in the sky. A small piece of yellow or gold paper will give you that warming light in the window.

When your cards have animals on them, use a speck of glue and a sequin for a bright glittering eye. Metal or foil stars, snowflakes, canes, wreaths and many other seasonal designs are available in small packets. These can be glued on the cards in a jiffy—limited only by the design of the card and your imagination.

Ruch PTA Plans Event

Ruch — Ruch Parent-Teacher association has planned a potluck dinner, program and dance for Saturday, December 1.

Admission will be by donations to a fund to buy Christmas candy for the children. Supervised movies for the children will be shown during the dance.

Boyd Gibson, principal of Ruch school, is planning a surprise intermission program. During the last PTA meeting Rex Davis, president, introduced officers and chairman.

The association voted to sponsor the special milk program for the school, and to provide a cookie with each serving of milk.

Mrs. Larson reported on the girls volley ball uniform project, saying that the uniforms will be used for the first time during the coming volley ball tournament.

Portland Concert Date Announced

Director Theodore Bloomfield of the Portland Symphony orchestra states that a well balanced sampling of music from Weber through to Roger Sessions, a contemporary American composer, will be on the program for a concert December 10.

The "Der Freischutz" overture, one of Weber's most familiar and popular works, leads to Schumann's "Symphony Number Three," or "The Rhenish," one of his most universally performed symphonies. Sessions', "The Black Maskers" suite will be performed in Portland for the first time, in observance of the composer's sixtieth birthday.

The program will conclude with Tchaikovsky's "Francesca da Rimini" fantasia, a moving and powerful interpretation of the story of an ill-starred love.

Tickets for all symphony concerts are on sale at the J. K. Gill box office Thursday through Monday before each performance. Ticket reservations can be made at any time by calling the Portland Symphony Society, CAPIot 8-1355, Portland.

The word "wassall" is derived from the Old English wassal—a toast meaning "be whole" or "be thou well."
