DECIDE NOW TO KNOW HOW

Around Hollywood

Hollywood — (UP) — Carol Haney, the dancer with the crazy haircut from Broadway's "Pajama Game," makes her debut as a new this week — but she has to give $27,250 of her salary away.

Carol is the star with the lowest take-home pay in history because she's the only behind-camera studio contract worker who suddenly became a screen luminary.

Since 1951, the way she explained it today, she's been under contract to MGM for $275 a week as a choreographer, dancing teacher and stand-in for dancing stars as Cyd Charisse. One day she asked for a leave of absence because another dancer suggested she try for a dancing role on the stage in "Pajama Game."

New Advertising Gimmick Makes Use of Telephone

Chicago—(UP)—A new advertising gimmick must have Alexander Graham Bell spinning in his grave.

You dial a certain number and a sexy female voice gives you a spiel like this:

"Hello-ho. Hello daaaaah-ling. Ooah, I'm so glad you called. Can we live it up again tonight, dear? Hold me real tight? Dance in the light of a glowing fire-place. Oooh, don't you remember the last time."

"Daaaah-ling, I love you so much."

All this turns out to be a plug for the Clover Club, a restaurant and cocktail lounge. Actually, the Clover Club is a respectable sort of place.

The telephone number to call is spread by word of mouth. And it would be an interesting sociological study to determine just how fast it spreads.

Some Call Back

Most of the time, the line is busy. But if you've got enough patience, curiosity or time on your hands, you finally get your call through.

If you don't know what's coming, you listen in disbelief. Some virile male types have been known to call back a couple of times.

Sometimes the recording gets scratchy and a new one has to be made. Worn out sex is not commercial.

The telephone company no doubt enjoys a profit on all this, but a spokesman seemed inclined to forget the whole thing.

"There are only about a half-dozen numbers like that in the whole city," he said. "And there's now law against it."

"Drinks On Me"

Another number is for Stelzer's restaurant and cocktail lounge. A husky voiced female gives this passionate rendition:

"Hello, darling. Please, dear, meet me at Stelzer's for a few drinks. . . . Just tell the bartender it's on me if I haven't arrived by then. Thanks, dear. I knew you'd let me do my little bit for you. . . . please come."

You can also dial a number to get information on the best shopping bargains of the day, and the latest dope on stock market prices. Or you can dial for a daily inspirational message, from the YMCA.

But for these, you seldom get a busy signal.

Neutralism Dangerous, Egypt's Nasser Finds

Lahore, Pakistan — (UP) — Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser has discovered that "neutralism" in regard to Communism is a dangerous policy, Pakistan Premier Hussein Shaheed Suhrawardy said Sunday night.

When Israel, Britain and France attacked Egypt, Suhrawardy said, "Nasser, who followed neutralism, found himself alone without a single Arab moving to help him."

Christmas Party Planned by Unit

Medford Parents Extension unit will hold a Christmas party Tuesday, December 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Myrlyn Scott, 601 West Tenth street. Each member is asked to take a homemade gift for exchange.

Hostesses will be Mrs. L. E. McConnell and Mrs. A. J. Duda. Those needing transportation may call Mrs. McConnell, 2-9130.

Anyone interested in home extension work is cordially invited to attend.

Sec. Dulles Resumes Active Direction of U.S. Foreign Policy

Washington — (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles recovered from his recent operation, today resumed active direction of U.S. foreign policy.

The secretary returned to his desk after a one-month absence convinced that "prospects of peace in the Middle East are now reasonably good."

Before him were three major long-range problems:

—How to help bring about a permanent peace settlement in the Middle East that will restore freedom of passage in the Suez canal, guarantee Israel's security, stabilize the Arab states and block Russian infiltration into the area.

Must Re-Cement Alliance

—How to re-cement the alliance with Britain and France that began cracking with the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt. The United States took a major step in this direction Saturday when it put into effect an emergency plan to get 500,000 barrels of oil a day to oil-starved Western Europe.

—How best to help Hungary and other satellites break free of Russian domination.

Before taking up his duties again, Dulles conferred for two hours Sunday with President Eisenhower at the Aviation White House at Augusta, Ga.

The secretary stopped at Augusta on a return flight to Washington from Key West, Fla., where he had convalesced from the operation he underwent one month ago today for cancer of the intestine. He said he felt "fine."

Peace Prospects Good

Dulles, talking with reporters after his meeting with Mr. Eisenhower, said it was his opinion, and that of the President, that "prospects of peace in the Middle East are now reasonably good."
