Eden Revolt Fizzles; Prime Minister To Continue as Leader

London — (U.P.) — Sir Anthony Eden will remain Britain's prime minister and lead the nation in an all-out drive to restore a sound economy weakened by the Suez invasion, Conservative Party sources said today.

Fifteen "Suez Rebels" abstained Thursday night when Eden won a vote of confidence on his Middle East policies, but political source said the Conservatives would treat the revolt as one that has fizzled and continue to back Eden.

It was believed Eden's stand was strengthened by U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon's declaration in New York Thursday night that it is vital for the United States to aid Britain in the "financial plight" the nation suffered as a result of the Suez crisis.

R. A. Butler, Eden's deputy and stand-in while the prime minister recuperates in Jamaica from "severe overstrain," left no doubt Eden planned to stay on as leader of Britain and the "Conservative Party.

"The first person who would wish to face the music is the prime minister himself," Butler told Commons before the vote. The "music" was a divided party, and the need for Labor Party cooperation in the task of rebuilding Britain's torn economy.

Censure Motion Defeated

In the voting, a Labor Party censure motion was defeated by 327 votes to 260, a government majority of 67. Some of the rebels abstained on a Conservative Party motion backing Eden, and the vote was 312 to 260, a majority of only 52.

Though it was an out-and-out revolt announced in advance, the Conservative Party "whips" or disciplinarians were able to keep most of the dissident Conservatives in line.

'Stumbo Strip' Being Sold Through Medford Residents

A great number of Medford residents are continuing to purchase portions of the 151½ foot "Stumbo strip" of Highway 99 between Azalea and Glendale in Douglas county, it was reported here today.

More than 63 quit-claim deeds had been filed in the Douglas county clerk's office. The deeds were filed on behalf of buyers from the Philippines, Ohio, Texas, Michigan and California and many of the out-of-state sales were negotiated through Medford residents.

The Stumbos, three brothers and a cousin, claim their grandfather purchased the property more than 40 years ago and the state never purchased or condemned the land before constructing the highway.

No further action has been reported on a condemnation suit the state recently filed against the Stumbos. The Southern Douglas County Highway association early this week passed a resolution aimed at preventing further "subdivision" of land on the right-of-way. The association asked the district attorney to "take the necessary steps immediately to prevent unlawful subdivision" in order to keep public costs of acquiring the strip at a minimum.

Jim Daugherty, president of the association, said the Stumbos have not complied with the law regarding subdivision of land. He also pointed out that the law provides for a $50 penalty for each lot sold and that the Stumbos would be liable for $6 million in penalties if they sell the entire tract.

Fred Darby, Douglas county surveyor, has said sale of the four-square-inch plots was illegal because a plat had not been filed with the county. Robert Stumbo, representing the property owners, claims the platting law does not apply to this sale.

Supervisors Express Concern in Building

Yreka — The Siskiyou county board of supervisors has expressed concern over discrepancies occurring in the air conditioning system being installed in the building under supervision of Robert Keeney, Medford architect.

Board Chairman Joe Allen said the "big question" was the cost of improvements Keeney had indicated are needed. Supervisors were told that a water-softener which should have been installed in the system had never been put in. Without it, scale formation from the hard water used in Siskiyou county had lowered the efficiency of the unit, supervisors were told.

The board also indicated it was concerned over several change-order claims from Keeney in construction of the new hospital wing.

RECRUITING ON AGENDA

Greensboro, N.C. —(U.P.)— The Atlantic Coast Conference opened its annual winter meeting today with illicit recruiting charges against North Carolina State college a major item on the agenda. At a closed meeting of the faculty athletic chairmen of the member schools Thursday, NC State asked for a conference investigation of the charges which brought the school a four-year probation by the NCAA.
