After church canvassing will call on those who have not brought in their pledges or mailed them to the church.

Church Leaders Urge Wider Use Of Reverent Christmas Cards

Christian church leaders and greeting card publishers are co-operating in a nationwide program to encourage the wider use of holiday greeting cards expressing the Christian significance of the Christmas season, according to the Greeting Card Association, which is being promoted locally through a nationwide network of state and local councils of churches and the greeting card publishers was made jointly by the National Council of Churches and the Greeting Card Association which represents a majority of the leading greeting card firms throughout the country.

The Rev. Berlyn V. Ferris, executive director of the National Council's Joint Department of Evangelism, described the goal as a return on our observance, to a true understanding of the meaning of Christmas.

"We need to rediscover the meaning of Christmas as recorded in the story of the birth of Christ," he declared. "One way church people especially can express the true spirit of Christmas is by sending Christian Christmas cards to their families and friends."

Q. Shannon, executive director of the Greeting Card Association, expressing the viewpoint of the greeting card publishers said: "We are happy to have the continued co-operation of the National Council and church leaders of many denominations in directing the attention of the American public to the availability of a greater variety of appropriate and reverent Christmas cards than ever before." He further stated: "Ten-

Advice Given by Church Music Expert

Buffalo, N. Y.—U.P.—An Episcopal church music expert would like to see some standard hymns abandoned.

"Many of the 'good old hymns' are neither good nor old," said Vernon DeTar, a member of the Joint Commission on music for the Episcopal church and organist-churchmaster of New York's Church of the Ascension.

He also advised that songs such as "O Promise Me" should not be sung or played at church weddings because "they are not suitable at a religious service."

"The really old hymns go back to the 16th century, while we use little that was written before the 19th century," DeTar pointed out. "We should begin to use some of this early good music, as well as some of the fine new hymns being written if we wish to raise the standards of music in the church."

The music expert thus contrasted the two versions of the hymn "For all the Saints."

"The 19th century version has a weak melody and cloying harmony."

"The one written in the 20th century has strength in all three elements—melody, harmony and rhythm."

DeTar believes, however, that as poor hymns fall into disuse they will be eliminated from the Episcopal hymnal. No revision is expected before the next printing in about 1965, he added.

American Priest Popular in Nepal

Kathmandu, Nepal—(U.P.)—The most popular and best-known American in Kathmandu today is Father Marshall Moran, a Jesuit priest who runs two schools in the valley.

Father Moran, of Chicago, was the first foreign missionary to be allowed to step in Nepal. Under the Ranas—the Maharajahs who ruled Nepal for 100 years up to 1951—no western missionaries were allowed in this Hindu-Buddhist country.

After the revolution and under pressure from the Indian government, the Ranas were forced to liberalize the government.

Father Moran was the first missionary into the country. He got permission to set up a school at Godavari, about eight miles from Kathmandu. The school was so successful, he was able to start another one at Patan, only four miles from Kathmandu.

Father Moran rides about on a motorcycle. He formerly used a British jeep but says gasoline is too expensive.

The priest is particularly proud of his schools, his boys won the national basketball championship of Nepal.

INSPIRATION TIME

"Boys and Girls Around the World Share the Bible," is the theme for the last in the present series of Inspiration Time, in connection with the School of Christian Living, at the First Methodist church. This concluding session will include the interest groups, "Paul's Letters to Local Churches," by Dr. Raymond E. Balcomb, and "Family Forum," led by the Rev. G. A. Trougher, starting at 5:30 p. m. Junior High Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet in the basement at 5:30 also. Builders class will serve the snack supper at 6:30, followed by the Inspiration Time, with Mr. Trougher in charge. Other group activities during Sunday evening will include the Senior High MYF at 7 p. m., and the Pathfinders at 7:30 p. m.

Refugees Given Hungarian Bibles By Bible Society

The American Bible society has made available to Hungarian refugees copies of Testaments and Bibles in Hungarian, English and German languages which are distributed through the U. S. Army chaplains at Camp Kilmer, N. J.

The Society has also shipped Hungarian language Scriptures from its supply house in Amsterdam, Holland, to Austria, where many of the refugees are arriving daily.

In cooperation with the Swiss Bible societies, the printing of 200,000 Gospels in Hungarian has been started in Switzerland. 150,000 of them will be paid for by the American Bible society.

These portions of Scriptures were supplied to Hungarian refugees in Europe. The American Bible society has made immediate plans to print 40,000 New Testaments and 20,000 whole Bibles in Hungarian. The Society plans to send many of these into Hungary to meet requests for Scriptures there.
