COMPULSORY BURGLARY
—Dr. John Francis Riordan, 35 (above), married, father of one child and highly respected in his profession was booked at Belmont, Calif. as the "cat burglar" who has plagued the community for months. The $1300-a-month anesthetist at Community Hospital in neighboring San Mateo told police that he had an "obsessive compulsion neurosis."

Three Arrested on Gambling Charges

Portland — (U.P.) — Multnomah county deputy sheriffs raided a downtown Portland establishment early Saturday and arrested three men on charges of gambling and selling liquor illegally.

More than 100 patrons who were in the place at the time of the raid were allowed to leave with a warning to stay away from such establishments.

Three charges were placed against Harvey Edward (Swede) Ferguson, 68, who police said operated the establishment. He was booked into jail on counts of operating a gambling game, illegal liquor sales and possession of two guns for which he had no permit. Ferguson has a record of numerous arrests for operation of illegal drinking places.

Also arrested, were Gene Huffine, 33, charged with conducting a gambling game, and David Allen, 33, booked for illegal sale of liquor.

The deputies, under command of Lt. Ed Miller, confiscated more than $400 in cash and a quantity of cards and poker chips.

State Fair Shows $52,774 Net Profit

Salem — (U.P.) — The Oregon State Fair showed a net operating profit of $52,775 plus capital improvements of $18,112, it was revealed at the annual December meeting of the State fair commission here Friday.

Fair Manager Leo Spitzbart said the fair now has a reserve operating fund of $207,483.

Commission chairman Dr. E. B. Stewart, Roseburg, said it was the policy of the commission to hold prices at the lowest possible level so that as many people as possible should enjoy the fair while the fair continued to pay its operating expenses.

The combined rodeo and horse show showed a profit of $1,262, Spitzbart said, and plans were discussed for another such show next year.

Asks Wilderness Area Boundaries Be Left

Washington — (U.P.) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), said Saturday he had asked the department of agriculture to leave the boundaries of the Three Sisters wilderness area in central Oregon unchanged until a congressional committee has had a chance to study wilderness area policies.

Morse wrote to Assistant Secretary E. L. Peterson, former Oregon agriculture director, that he was disturbed by the possibility that tens of thousands of acres might be removed from the Three Sisters wilderness area.

The senator told Peterson "It does not seem wise to consider modification of the Three Sisters wilderness area boundaries for the avowed purpose of making timber available" until it is determined whether present policies will bring the timber harvest in the state up to realistic level.

Osteopathic Hospital Appears Assured

Portland — (U.P.) — Osteopathic physicians announced Saturday that construction of their proposed new 34-bed hospital appeared assured with 86 per cent of the total cost of $750,000 either pledged or collected.

The new facility, to be built adjacent to Reed college, in southeast Portland, would be the first completely new hospital to be built in Portland in 15 years, with the exception of the University of Oregon Medical School teaching hospital.
