To Howard A. O'Hara, the above named defendant:
IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON: You are hereby summoned to appear in the above entitled court and cause and answer the complaint of the plaintiff on file herein against you within four weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, which first publication is December 12, 1956; and you will hereby take notice that upon your failure to so appear and answer as herein required that the plaintiff will apply to the court for the following relief against you, a succinct statement as prayed for in said complaint being as follows, to-wit:
For a decree of this said court that the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between the plaintiff and defendant be forever dissolved and held for naught, and that the plaintiff be awarded the sole and absolute care, custody and control of the minor children of the plaintiff and defendant, namely, Patricia Jean O'Hara and Michael Dennis O'Hara, and that the defendant be required to pay unto the Clerk of this Court, or unto the plaintiff, the sum of $50.00 per month for the support and maintenance of each of such said minor children of the plaintiff and defendant, being the total sum of $100 per month, and for such other, further and different relief as to the court may seem meet and proper in the premises.
This summons is published and you are required to appear and answer as herein provided under and by virtue of an order duly made, rendered and entered by the Honorable H. K. Hanna, Circuit Judge of Jackson County, Oregon, under date of December 7th, 1956.

Psychotics Go Home Every Night

Lafayette, La. — (U.P.) — Psychotics who go home every night after treatment have been a common thing around here for a year.

The first state-supported mental hospital for day treatment in the United States completed its first year of an experimental operation in August. Doctors are already beginning to analyze the results of this unique experiment in treating the mentally ill.

Set up in what was once an ambulance garage behind the Lafayette Charity Hospital, the tiny clinic has been giving treatment to those with early schizophrenia, paranoia or other mental illnesses.

The patients receive all the modern psychiatric treatments on an 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. basis — electro - shock, miracle drugs such as chlorpromazine or reserpine and occupational and group therapy. These are patients who would have to be confined to a regular hospital 24 hours a day, if this facility were not available.

Set up as a pilot project after a survey of the state's mental health education showed such a day-treatment idea might be the answer to money and patient problems, the results of the first year will be closely examined to see if more should be established.

Dr. William Kirkpatrick, clinic director, said there were many reasons why such a facility can be valuable other than the obvious fact that it is cheaper than running a regular hospital.

He said the fact that patients can go home at night makes them, and their families, more willing to accept treatment; there is less stigma attached to such treatment, and the smaller number of patients gives the staff more time for individual attention.

Electric Heaters Used in Hawaii

Honolulu, T.H.—(U.P.)—The Hawaii Visitors Bureau won't admit it. Mainland tourists basking in the sun at Waikiki beach won't believe it.

But kerosene and electric heaters are used to warm the tootsies of some 100 youngsters who attend classes in several public schools here in this island paradise when the mercury takes a nose dive.

Mrs. Antonio Short, principal of KeaKealani school in the volcano area on the island of Hawaii, explained that "some days during the winter we keep our heaters burning all day and have frosty windows, just like real Christmas weather.

"Frost 'fell' in our school yard twice in five years, and the temperature sometimes gets as low at 32 degrees," Mr. Short said. "Most of our youngsters come to school barefoot, and I just don't know what we'd do without those heaters.

"Sometimes our children even have to wear sweaters and coats until 10 a.m. on cold days. And if it gets much worse, the youngsters will have to wear shoes all the time."

NOT HUNGRY ANYMORE

Princeton, N. J.—(U.P.)—Albert Soll, Princeton University freshman from Philadelphia, downed 11 hamburgers in 10 minutes Tuesday to win a contest. "I don't feel hungry anymore," he said.
