So. Africa Police Open Fire on Mob

Johannesburg—(U.P.)—South African police opened fire today on crowds demonstrating outside the hall where preliminary hearings were held in a mass treason trial.

First reports said an African and an elderly white person were wounded.

The government rushed riot police into action Wednesday night to control a crowd of 5,000 shouting Africans demonstrating at opening of the trial.

A huge crowd gathered outside the Johannesburg Drill Hall today for the second day of the hearings in the cases of 151 persons accused of treason and violations of anti-Communist laws.

The demonstrators clogged the approaches to the hall and tough, blue-uniformed police charged into them with clubs to clear the way. The demonstrations persisted and police opened fire.

Witnesses said Johannesburg's police chief ran up and shouted "stop shooting" the moment the police opened with rifles.

South African police always carry revolvers and clubs on duty, but were issued rifles for riot-breaking duty.

Girl Scouts

Troop Projects
Christmas is a busy season for every one, Girl Scouts included, for the troops in the Rogue Valley Area have been doing many public service projects besides their regular troop work. One important project which was the stuffing of envelopes with the TB seals.

Other troops collected toys and took them to the firemen for repair so they could be given to needy families. Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year tray favors for hospitals and for Camp White were made by several of the troops. One Brownie troop took a decorated tree to a nursing home.

Several Brownie Troops have made little gifts for handicapped and invalid children, and have decorated individual trees. Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets have been the project for some troops; one troop has "adopted" one family. Another group of Girl Scouts plans to sing Christmas carols to several invalid children, believing that they might be misused by older carolers.

Party Held
A Christmas party for mothers was held by fifth grade Troop 77, Lincoln school, December 17, at the home of Mrs. J. J. Jones, 603 North Bartlett street. Mrs. Jones is chairman of the troop committee.

After the reading of the Christmas story by the leader, Mrs. Eric de Place, the group was led in singing carols by Mrs. Jimmy Loegel. A special guest at the party was Miss Mary Aldrich, executive director of Girl Scouting for the Rogue Valley Area.

The troop committee was introduced to the mothers present. On the committee besides Mrs. Jones are Mrs. Don Poling, Mrs. Ethel Chastain and Mrs. Joe Rush. Each girl introduced her mother to the group.

After refreshments were served by the girls, the troop leader explained the program for the second class badge work, and the progress the troop has made. The cookies for serving had been baked by the girls.

Serving coffee were Mrs. Marvin Heideman and Mrs. Eugene Spencer, assistant leaders.

Gifts were exchanged by the girls, with Miss Aldrich acting as Santa Claus. The mothers each received a tree ornament made by the girls.

To Make Trips
Eighth grade troop 155 of McLaughlin Junior High school is working to complete funds for a trip to Salem the first week in March. They are earning the "my government" proficiency badge for the curved bar rank, and will make the trip to see the legislature in action. Funds are being raised by selling Girl Scout peanuts, according to Mrs. Jack Sanborn, the leader. The girls also plan to have a booth at Penney's store on Saturday, December 29.

This troop helped as messenger girls and aides at the League of Women Voters' Candidates Fair just before the November election. At the fair they met all the candidates including the governor. They also had a booth where they took the names of those families needing baby-sitters on election day. When the girls complete the government badge, they will need only the "world trefoil" badge, which is required, to have earned the curved bar, the highest rank in Intermediate Scouting.

The Girl Scout council in Salem has planned for an eighth grade troop there to entertain Troop 155 during the visit. The trip will be made by car and the assistant leader, Mrs. H. R. Heaton, and the troop committee, Mrs. Dale Waltermire, Mrs. James Medley and Mrs. Kenneth Edwards will accompany Mrs. Sanborn and the girls. Also going will be Mrs. Roy Jackson. There are seventeen girls in the troop.
