A few minutes later another smoke bomb was thrown into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. McKeen. McKeen told police two boys rang her doorbell and that when she opened it one boy about 12 years old shoved her against the door and rolled the bomb into the hallway. Her husband threw it outside.

Rails, Specialties Pace Stocks Higher

New York (U.P.)—Rails and specialty issues paced stocks higher for the third straight session today, but the advance lacked the spark of traditional year-end rallies.

There were a number of pivotal stocks off a point or more, partly reflecting selling for tax purposes.

Steels made a good showing. So did selected oils. Rails as a group were strong. Metals generally favored the downside.

Bethlehem at its high was up more than a point and at a new high. Lukens, U.S. Steel, Youngstown and Crucible improved, the last hitting a new high.

Today's prices on selected stocks:

Allied Chemical	98 1/4
American Can	40 1/2
A. T. & T.	168 3/4
Anaconda Copper	72 1/2
Bethlehem Steel	193 1/8
