Poles on Trial for Destroying Station

Bydgoszcz, Poland — (U.P.) — Eighteen Poles went on trial today for destroying a local radio station last month when they heard reports it was being used to jam Western broadcasts to Poland.

Observers said Titoist Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka may use the trial to show that his own brand of "national Communism" must not be allowed to get out of hand.

The 18 young men were arrested early last month after a drunken brawl in this southeast Polish town turned into a street battle between police and a mob of youngsters.

The mob marched on the radio station and tore it apart, causing millions of dollars worth of damage.

HOWARD A. O'HARA, Defendant.
To Howard A. O'Hara, the above named defendant:
