

Williams-Coker Ceremony Held in Methodist Church

Miss Alvidine Coker and George Kay Williams were married December 23 in a two o'clock afternoon ceremony at First Methodist church. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Coker, Los Angeles, Calif., and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Williams, 121 Ashland avenue.

Dr. Raymond Balcomb officiated at the double-ring ceremony, attended by 150 guests. The couple made a wedding trip to Modesto, Calif., and will live at San Jose, Calif., where the bridegroom is a dental student at San Jose State college.

For the ceremony the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with fitted bodice, portrait neckline and lace-paneled skirt ending in a chapel train. Her illusion veil was chapel length and was held by a crown of seed pearl. She carried red carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Linda Coker was her sister's maid-of-honor and other attendants were Mrs. Robert Steffens and Mrs. Clifford Crites, the bridegroom's sister. In keeping with the red and white color theme of the wedding the attendants wore princess frocks of red with fitted bodices and full flaring skirts. They carried white carnations and wore head bands of these same flowers.

Miss Carolyn Coker, sister of the bride, and Miss Chris Kellingsworth, Medford, lighted the candles. They wore gowns of white flocced nylon with red velvet ribbon trim and their flowers were white carnation wristlets.

Mr. Coker gave his daughter in marriage and Larry Van Audall was best man for the bridegroom. Alvis Coker Jr., the bride's brother, seated the guests. William Wilson was vocal soloist.

For the wedding and the reception which followed the bride's mother wore a grey wool dress with black accessories and pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a grey satin and net dress with black accessories and her flowers were white roses. For traveling the bride wore a Navy blue faille suit with white lace collar and white orchid corsage.

At the reception the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Harold Bru-

New Church Is Scene of Wedding

Cave Junction—Miss Sara Ann Hoskins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hoskins of Cave Junction, became the bride of Raymond Jones at a candlelight ceremony held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday, December 23 at the new Immanuel Methodist church in Cave Junction. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Jones, Lakewood, Calif.

The Rev. Robert Kingsbury officiated at the single ring rites which were attended by families and friends of the popular young couple. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Frances Reinohl, accompanied by Mrs. Susan Lemon at the piano, was soloist.

The bride's ballerina length gown of white lace and taffeta was worn with a veil of net trimmed with lace and caught with a petite taffeta headpiece. She carried a white Bible and a white orchid with lilies of the valley and white satin ribbon.

Miss Mary Hoskins, her sister's maid of honor, wore a street length figured cotton dress in turquoise, gold and black. Her Christmas corsage was of silver and white.

The bridesmaid, Miss LaVerne Greenough, wore a street length frock of turquoise and a Christmas corsage of silver and white.

Alice and Frank Hoskins, sister and brother of the bride, served as candlelighters. The little flower girl, Lynda Lemon, wore a bouffant cotton dress in a shade of blue-green to match those of the attendants.

Jack Sauer was best man, while ushers were Errol Woodbury and Joe Hoskins.

Mrs. Hoskins chose a coral street length dress with a silver and white Christmas corsage. The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Leo West of Newport, Ore., represented his mother who was unable to be present. She wore a rust colored satin suit.

A reception at the Evergreen school in Cave Junction followed the wedding ceremony. The turquoise and white motif was used for the decorations. After the bride and bridegroom cut the wedding cake, the refreshments were served by Mrs. Willard Decker, Mrs. Errol Woodbury and Bertha Champney.

The newlyweds have taken a home on the Caves highway, near Cave Junction.

Mrs. Jones was graduated from Illinois Valley High school in 1956. Her husband is an alumnus of Kerby Union High school.
