

GIVING POLICE FIRST WORD of mysterious disappearance of Actress Marie McDonald (left), Mrs. Marie Tuboni (right), her mother, reported man telephoned her early in morning that "we have Marie. No harm will come if police are not notified." Call was received at Encino, Cal. home where Miss McDonald lived. (International)

Marie McDonald Thinks Kidnap Job Was Well Planned in Advance

Hollywood—(U.P.)—Marie McDonald said today that she thinks "the case of the kidnaped 'body' was planned well in advance because her two alleged abductors 'walked into my house as if they had lived there all their lives.'"

In exclusive interview with United Press, the 32-year-old blonde gave her version of a 24-hour ordeal which she claimed began last Thursday night when two zoot-suit type youths kidnaped her from her $65,000 home.

Miss McDonald said an "enemy" may have arranged the kidnaping because "any one else would have taken my baby."

Los Angeles detectives said they know more about the case than they have revealed and "in a few days we should have it all out in the open. We have to lay all the facts before our superiors first."

Marie's theory as to who may have master-minded the bizarre kidnaping was one point of her story that she revealed for the first time since returning to her Encino home late Saturday by private ambulance from India

Pope Blames Society For Juvenile Trouble

Vatican City—(U.P.)—Much of the world's juvenile maladjustment and delinquency is the fault of present day society, Pope Pius XII said Sunday in an Epiphany message to the Italian Association for the Protection of Maternity and Infancy.

The pontiff deplored the fact that often radio, television and the press tend to take the place of the parents as educators of their children.

Pope Pius noted "the growing invasion of some methods of thought diffusion," which he said were "useful perhaps for mature and sane grown-ups, but unsuitable to the innocent souls of the children."

where she was found wandering alone a desert road.

Pushed Open Gate
"They must have pushed open the electric gate," she said as she rested in the bedroom of her early American-style house.

"Anybody can—I do sometimes when I forget my key. The boxer didn't bark. He's like that. He even walked with us all the way to the gate when they took me away."

"Those two men came in, calm as anything, and knew every inch of the house. They made me get out the note paper and newspapers for the kidnap note."

"I think they were high on something. One of them had a gun. We got in a car and they blindfolded me and we just kept going round and round. Once we stopped for gas and they made me lie on the floor of the car."

Forced to Telephone
She said that she telephoned friends while being held prisoner because her abductors forced her to.

"They told me to call a columnist," she went on. "They wanted to alarm the people they planned to ask for ransom money. The only number I could remember was Harrison Carroll's (columnist for the Los Angeles Herald-Express)."

"They would ask me a number, dial it for me and then hand me the phone. The only call I made without their knowledge was to my business manager and when they caught me with the phone they snatched me."

She said that the young men planned to ask $20,000 each from her wealthy ex-husband, shoe magnate Harry Karl; her current boy friend, actor Michael Wilding; her mother, Mrs. Marie Tuboni, and her business manager, Harold Plant.

Gave Her Pills
"They gave me pills to take, big white pills with a blue cross. They made me wash them down with strong whiskey," she blonde actress said, her voice shaking with fatigue and emotion.

"I held some of the pills in my cheek and didn't swallow them."

She said one of the youths called the other, "Gasser."

After Marie was found wandering on the desert near Indio early Saturday, police quoted her as saying she had been raped. A doctor later said she had not been. Today when asked about the reports she cried, "Oh, please, I can't talk any more."

Detectives said they plan to question her today regarding a seven-carat diamond ring she says the kidnapers stole.

Advisory Crime Commission Urged

Portland—(U.P.)—A pastor suggested yesterday that Mayor Terry Schruk name an advisory commission on crime and crime prevention composed of public spirited citizens.

The suggestion was made by Dr. Richard M. Steiner, pastor of First Unitarian church, in sermons yesterday.

Dr. Steiner revealed he was one of a group of religious and civic leaders here who was invited by the new mayor to interview four leading candidates for police chief. Recommendations were turned in later.

Dr. Steiner said an advisory commission on crime and crime prevention could make recommendations to the mayor and to the general public of steps which should be taken for more effective policing of Portland.

Hempstead, N. Y.—(U.P.)—The condition of Chilean Nobel prize winner Gabriela Mistral was termed "very poor and very critical" early today by doctors of the Hempstead General hospital, where she has been under treatment since Dec. 29. Doctors would give no other details at this time.

U.P. Correspondents See Future Headlines

United Press correspondents around the world look ahead at the news that will make the headlines.

"Damn Yankees"

United States diplomats are seriously concerned over the "hate America" feeling in Britain. They hoped it would end when the Suez Canal situation quieted down. It did abate briefly. But now it's at boiling point. Veteran foreign correspondents in London say they've never seen so much "coloring" of British news reports to make Americans look silly or stupid, or so many snide remarks about anything American. The latest development is that they are picking on Texas. The newspapers are dragging out all the old jokes about Texas and Texans. The reason: They see a dark Texas plot to "milk Britain dry" by upping gasoline prices because of the shortage caused by the blocking of the canal.

Birth of an Heir

Latest inside word from the royal palace in Monte Carlo is that Princess Grace of Monaco probably will bear her first-born child between Jan. 12 and Jan. 20. The vanguard of an army of newsmen from all over the world is starting to move in to cover the big event. And money is being flashed about in an attempt to sew up informed palace contacts. Prince Rainier is reported to have warned members of his household staff sternly to shy away from all reporters.

Policy

European diplomats believe the huddle of Communist leaders in Budapest means that Moscow finally has worked a detailed policy line on the satellite countries. They figure the Russians are determined to keep tough "Stalinist" leaders in control in all satellite countries except Poland, despite growing unrest. This would mean that puppet Premier Janos Kadar will not be sacrificed, as had been predicted, to the demands of rebellious Hungarians. They believe the fact that Nikita S. Khrushchev and Georgi M. Malenkov represented Russia in Budapest means (1) that Khrushchev has successfully ridden out the failure of his "de-Stalinization" policy and (2) that Malenkov, dismissed as premier because of his liberal policies, has been fully restored to favor.

Time Out

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru will lay aside his self-determination policies briefly when the United Nations Security Council debates the Kashmir problem Jan. 16. The state of Kashmir has been in dispute between India and Pakistan since those countries won their independence in 1947. Kashmir is ruled by Hindus, like India. But its people are predominately Moslems, like Pakistan. Nehru refuses to hold a free plebiscite on Kashmir's future. Pakistan calls his attitude imperialist and colonialist.

Let's Fight

Look for President Syngman Rhee of the Republic of Korea to open a big campaign soon for denunciation of the Korean armistice. Rhee is determined to march into North Korea sooner or later. Repudiation of the armistice is his major goal for 1957. The first sign that his campaign is opening will be the staging of "spontaneous" street demonstrations — all carefully organized by the government.

Monopoly Charged In CAB Decision

Washington—(U.P.)—Pan American World Airways protested to the Civil Aeronautics Board today that an examiner's recommendation gives Northwest Airlines a monopoly on direct trans-Pacific service from Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore.

The recommendations by CAB Examiner William F. Cusick, PAA said, would "largely deprive the traveling and shipping public and the Post Office Department of the benefits of effective competition and would undermine the ability of PAA to remain free of subsidy."

In exceptions filed with the CAB, the airline charged Cusick erred in failing to recommend direct orient service by PAA from Seattle and Portland as well as from San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Pan American said elimination of "the wasteful routine restrictions" placed on it would result in a reduction of passenger rates to the Orient by an average of $100 a trip.

Under its present authority, the airline said, it is forced to fly longer routes through mid-Pacific islands to Tokyo than is Northwest Airlines.

MAO STUDIES ENGLISH

Hong Kong—(U.P.)—Chinese Communist leader Mao Tze-tung is diligently studying the English language, the Communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao reported today.

Soviet Leaders, Party Heads Meet

Moscow—(U.P.)—Soviet Communist Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev and Deputy Premier Georgi Malenkov met with Communist party leaders of Hungary, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia and Romania in Budapest Jan. 1 to Jan. 4. It has been announced.

A communique published in the Soviet press said the meeting had taken place. Khrushchev had disclosed his visit earlier last night at a reception for a visiting East German delegation.

The communique was signed by all the countries involved. It made no mention of an agreement which the official Hungarian news agency M.I.T. reported was reached between Khrushchev and the government of Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar.

The communique contained a bitter blast against the United States for its new Middle East policy.

It blamed the United States for the situation in the Middle East and warned that the new "Eisenhower doctrine" would result in a deterioration of the Middle East situation.

Norris, McNary Proposed For Senate Hall of Fame

Washington—(U.P.)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), Sunday proposed the late Sens. George W. Norris (Ind.-Neb.) and Charles L. McNary (R-Ore.), as candidates for the Senate's "Hall of Fame."

A special committee headed by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) was set up last year to pick the five "greatest" senators in history for special portraits to be hung near the Senate chamber. None of the five can be living.
