General Assembly To Ponder Hungary

United Nations, N. Y.—(U.P.)—The U.N. General Assembly will meet Wednesday to consider a U.S. plan to establish a five-member investigating committee to seek evidence on the Hungarian situation.

Assembly President Prince Wan Waitayakon of Thailand today summoned the 80-nation world parliament to meet Wednesday.

Secretary-general Dag Hammarskjold, in a written report to the assembly Monday, acknowledged his inability to carry out the assembly's mandate to send political observers into revolt-torn Hungary. He recommended that the assembly establish a committee with broad investigatory powers.

The United States circulated a resolution which would carry out Hammarskjold's suggestion. More than 20 countries were reported to have expressed a desire to co-sponsor the resolution.

Teen-Age Diet Said Low in Vitamin C

In a study of 2500 teen-agers from all types of families, Pauline B. Mack found that only 50.3% of boys and 52.4% of girls obtained the recommended daily allowance of vitamin C in their food. Requirements for vitamin C are at their peak in the late teens. Boys and girls of these ages need guidance about their eating, because often they develop lunch and snack habits unrelated to the realities of their physical needs.

They should be encouraged to eat citrus fruits, tomatoes, greens and other fruits and vegetables high in ascorbic acid, the report recommends.
