Ministers Review Work of Group During Past Year

Methods for improving the effectiveness of the Ministerial association were discussed by the members at their monthly meeting Tuesday at St. Mark's Episcopal church.

The work done by the association during the past year was reviewed.

Discussed were several radio and television programs sponsored by the association which included the Ministers' Roundtable broadcast over KMED Sundays at 8:30 p.m.; Daily Devotions on KBES-TV Monday through Friday from 11:50 a.m. until noon; and Morning Devotions aired from 8:55 until 9 a.m. Monday through Friday over KMED. Ministers from Medford, Grants Pass, Ashland, and surrounding communities are included in the schedule.

A need was expressed by the group for a hospital chaplain who could notify local ministers when members of their congregation are hospitalized. Also discussed were the religious services held in the local jails. At the present time several of the churches are conducting services in the county jail.

Ministerial duties by the association have already been arranged in the county farm home.

The program for the next meeting will include a talk by Dr. Hyman J. Appleman, evangelist, who will be conducting a two-week revival in the area at one of the local churches.

The Ministerial association meets the second Tuesday of each month at 10 a.m. in the Fireplace room at the First Presbyterian church.

FEAST OF LIGHTS—Members of the congregation leave St. Mark's Episcopal church Sunday, Jan. 6, after the Feast of Lights service. The service was held following the Epiphany pageant which told in symbolism the story of the prophecies of olden times and concludes with a symbolic exhortation to all Christians to carry the light of the gospel to all people. At the conclusion of the pageant all members of the congregation were given lighted candles which they endeavored to carry, still burning, to their homes. Above (extreme left), Kathy Borr, Mrs. Victor Milnes (wearing hat), G. W. Kellington (right) and Mrs. Victor Kengla (center) and her son, Don, leave the church with their lighted candles.

Palmers Appointed Youth Advisors

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Palmer have been appointed new advisors for the Baptist Youth fellowship at the Eastwood Baptist church, North Keene Way drive at Ridgeway.

Mr. Palmer is a graduate of Lewis and Clark college in Portland and is teaching in the Ashland Junior High school. Mrs. Palmer is a graduate of Linfield college in McMinnville, and was president of the World Wide Guild group in the state during her college days.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer have had previous experience with youth groups, having been advisers for the Baptist Youth fellowship at the Arleta Baptist church in Portland prior to coming to the Medford area.

All young people of junior high age who are not presently attending a youth group and who live in the Hedrick Junior High area are invited to come to the meetings of the Eastwood Baptist fellowship every Sunday evening at 6:30.

Nazarene Youth To Attend Rally

Young people of the First Church of the Nazarene, 520 North Holly st. will attend a Lamplighters Zone Rally at the Klamath Falls First Church of the Nazarene tonight. Activities of the evening will include a singspiration, film, special songs and testimonies by young people.

On Saturday morning the young people will meet in the Lakeside church, a new Home Mission church, before going out in teams to do visitation work in the homes of the area to invite residents to attend the services of the new church. The Rev. R. W. Hurn, Medford pastor, is Zone Youth chirman and will direct the rally and visitation.

At 5 p.m. the Young People's council will have its regularly monthly meeting Bill Brewster, youth president, will lead the council in a discussion of plans for Youth Week which is scheduled to begin Jan. 28.

Friendship Ribbons To Appear Sunday At First Methodist

Visitors and new members of the First Methodist church will have an opportunity to wear a red ribbon if they attend Sunday services there according to plans being made by the Commission on Membership of that church.

The Friendship Ribbon, a small red ribbon attached to the Friendship cards at the church, will be removed by visitors and new members of the church and pinned on their coat or suit. By this means other members of the congregation will recognize the stranger and can welcome him.

The Rev. Mrs. Anne J. Gorby is minister of membership at the church and works with this commission.

New Hymnbooks To Be Dedicated

At both morning worship services of the First Presbyterian church Sunday 400 copies of the new hymbook to be used by the church will be dedicated.

The hymbook is an expression of the growing unity between several of the churches of the reformed tradition. It is published jointly by the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (south), the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. (north), the United Presbyterian Church of North America, and the Reformed Church in America.

The evening service for adults and young people will be conducted by the Rev. John Reynolds at 7 p.m. in Fellowship hall. After a spontaneous message from the "Surprise Box," the adults will see the second of a series of films on the Bible, "The Bible Spreads Across Europe."

The Senior High Westminster fellowship will be led by Relda Jenkins of the Fellowship Commission. Dr. West will speak to the young people on "Are You Fit To Be Tied?," and a discussion on marriage will follow.

St. Mark's Church To Hold Elections

The annual congregational meeting of St. Mark's Episcopal church will be held in Guild hall at 7:30 p.m. Sunday with the Rev. George R. V. Bolster, rector, presiding.

Business will include the election of four men to replace those retiring in rotation from the church vestry. Those retiring this year are Paul McDuffee, Robert W. Voegtly, Robert S. Rix, and Dr. Malcolm S. Byers.

A slate of candidates for the vacancies will be presented by the nominating committee and further names may be placed in nomination from the floor. Delegates will also be elected to represent the parish at the annual diocesan convention.

Reports, reviewing the work of the church during 1956, will be presented by the various organizations of the parish.

The meeting will close with refreshments and all members and friends of St. Mark's are invited to be present. The newly elected officers, together with the new officers of all parish organizations, will be installed in office on Sunday, Feb. 3.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Sunday school will be held for the first time at Ascension Lutheran church Sunday at 9:30 a.m. at the Pythian building, Grape and Fifth sts. Nursery will also be available.

LAYMEN PREACH—Three members of the Presbyterian Men's club of the Medford church plan their sermons to be given at the First Presbyterian church in Jacksonville this month. Above, Sam B. Harbison, who spoke to the congregation last week, is shown at left with John F. Dellenback, who will speak Sunday, Jan. 13, and James Johnston, who is scheduled to speak Jan. 20. The filling of the pulpit at the Jacksonville church is part of a program of evangelism conducted by the local men's group.

Special Offering At Friends Church

The monthly meeting fund offering will be received at the Friends Church Sunday. The congregation hopes by February to have all outstanding bills paid for the moving and remodeling of the parsonage which was completed in December.

The building was moved from its former site next to the church edifice on Merriman rd. to a new location at the west end of the church property on DeBarr ave.

Junior, intermediate and senior Christian Endeaver meetings for grade and high school students will be conducted by the young people at 6:30 p.m., with a congregational worship service to follow at 7:30 p.m. There will be music, testimonies, and message by the pastor, "Where Do You Live?" "Quaker Hour" broadcast will be heard over KMED at 9:30 p.m.

Central Point Church Starts New Class

A new class for young adults, either married or single, will meet for the first time at the Central Point Presbyterian church Sunday, Jan. 13, at 10:55 a.m. Dr. Norman K. Tully, pastor, will teach the group.

Awards for perfect attendance during the fall quarter will be given to more than 50 members of the school.

Communion and reception of members will take place during the morning worship service at 9:45 a.m. The church is located at First and Oak sts., Central Point.

Art, Group Topic For Sunday Evening

School of Christian Living, with four adult interest groups, will meet at the First Methodist church, Jan. 13, at 5:30 p.m. "Older People in this Society" will be the subject for the "Missions, U.S.A." led by Miss June Wheaton.

Guest artist in the group "Religion and the Arts", will be Clifford Platz. This group is led by the Rev. John Taylor.

The art of "Splater Painting" will be the subject in the Creative Activities group, taught by Mrs. Grover Corum.

Several churches in the community are participating in this Interest group specially planned for church school teachers. The fourth interest group is the Membership class, directed by the Rev. Mrs. Anne J. Gorby, minister of membership.

A snack supper, to be served by the Methodist men will start at 6:30. Inspiration Time will feature the filmstrip, "One God, Ways We Worship," led by the Rev. G. A. Trobough.

Lay Reader at St. Peter's Church Sunday Morning

Joseph Jarvis, superintendent of the Sunday school at St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church, will be the lay reader at the Sunday morning service. His topic will be "God's Plea."

The Eagle Point Mission will not have services Sunday, Jan. 13, and Sunday, Jan. 20. The Rev. Kenneth Korby, pastor, is now convalescing at his home after a recent illness.
