

APPLIGATE-JACKSONVILLE Several Clubs To Meet

By HELGA MITCHELL
 Applegate - Jacksonville - A general meeting of the Ruch 4-H club will be held Wednesday, Jan. 16, at 7 p.m. at the Ruch school. Anyone interested in this meeting is invited to attend.

The Applegate Health Unit has been postponed until Monday, Jan. 21 at 1:30 p.m. at the Ruch school. Dr. Harry K. Danielson will speak on the Child Guidance clinic and medical facilities available for mental health. A question and answer period will follow. Child care will also be available and refreshments will be arranged by Mrs. William Travis. This meeting is open to all residents of the Applegate valley, including upper, little and lower Applegate.

The Applegate PTA will meet on Friday, Jan. 18, at 8 p.m. at the Applegate school. A play will be presented by the Footlights of Medford at this meeting.

The Little Applegate Knitting club will not meet this month, due to weather conditions and illnesses, according to Mrs. Otis Buck. The next meeting of the Knitting club will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 19, at the home of Mrs. Estel Cox.

The Applegate Home Extension Unit will meet on Tuesday, Jan. 22 at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Howard Piete, with Mrs. Marcel LePiniec as co-hostess. Mrs. Ethel Haugerud and Mrs. Lawrence Tweedy will be leaders of the project, "yeast rolls." The luncheon committee consists of Mesdames: Francis Krouse, Chester Kubli, Leon Offenbacher, Jennie Herslof, Bill Pittock, and Lance Offenbacher.

Sunday services at the Ruch Community church include Sunday school at 10 a.m., worship service at 11 a.m. and Bible study at 8 p.m.

The Hunter and Best mill reopened at the beginning of the new year and it is reported that they had four applicants for every available job.

Pat Johnson came back from Idaho recently, where he spent the holidays with relatives.

Mrs. Lucille McKemie, teacher of the fourth and fifth grades in the Ruch school, has been convalescing at her home in Medford and in the hospital after she was bruised in an automobile accident. Mrs. Ina Pursel has been substituting for Mrs. McKemie during her absence. Mrs. McKemie plans to return to school on Monday, Jan. 14.

Harry Davis of Merriman, Neb., arrived here last Saturday to visit his son Rex Davis and family, and plans to stay three weeks.

C. L. Evans of Toketee Falls, recently spent a week with his daughter, Mrs. C. W. Childers of Palmer creek.

The Upper Applegate Home Extension Unit, which met at the home of Mrs. Ray Widner, was attended by 11 members. Visitors at this meeting were Mrs. Wilfred Pearson and daughter Anne, Mrs. Floyd Bigelow, and Mrs. Armin Richter. County Agent C. B. Cordy gave a talk on pest control.

The luncheon committee consisted of Mesdames: J. H. Mapston, William Travis, William Ziegler, and Ray Widner.

Holiday callers at the Rolland Smith residence were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fenton and children, Keith, Jennie, and Kathy, and Darrel Smith and son Darrel, all of Medford.

New Year's day dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Buck, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Farrand, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Widner, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Street of Phoenix.

Attending the 4-H leaders' meeting at Big Horn hall in Medford last Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Krouse, Charles Elmore, Mrs. Leonard Miller, Mrs. Curtis Gerhardt, Armin Richter, Larry Tweedy, and D. E. Gelling.

A two acre building site, situated next to the Ruch school on the Upper Applegate road, was purchased by the Ruch Community church a month ago from the Buckley family. Members of the church plan to build an edifice on this site in the near future with donations which have been given by the people toward the building fund.

The Rev. and Mrs. Earl Best were grateful to the anonymous philanthropist who sent an envelope to them, containing a generous donation toward the building fund.

The Southern Oregon Ministerial association recently met at the Ruch parsonage. The meeting was attended by 18 people.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Offenbacher and two children are spending their vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Offenbacher of the Applegate. Part of Elvis' vacation has been spent on the end of a chain saw, which Leroy (Dutch) Offenbacher urged him to try, also overhauling Dutch's pick-up, and feeding his father's cattle.

Several Applegate couples spent New Year's eve at the Jacksonville Community dance hall. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Marcel LePiniec, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chittock, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Offenbacher, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lugenbeel, Mr. and Mrs. Lance Offenbacher, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Offenbacher, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Krouse, and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Howell. Mrs. LePiniec praised the Jacksonville police for the way they kept things under control on New Year's eve.

Watching the old year out and the new year in, Curtis Gerhardt resides with Miss Dana Lynn Offenbacher, Miss Linda Lugenbeel, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Krouse, and sons Phillip and Francis, Miss Sandy York, and Mrs. Dora Krouse. Francis Krouse showed slides of last year's flood and of the trip he had taken to Kansas City last year.

A new year's eve potluck dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Smith. Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Estel Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Buck, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Farrand, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Colvin had a new year's eve watch party for the Ruch Community Sunday school children.

Mr. and Mrs. William Travis held open house New Year's eve at their home on Upper Applegate. The Travis' spent the Christmas holidays with his folks at Santa Cruz, Calif., and it was so hot there, that his mother had to roast her Christmas turkey after midnight to keep the house from being uncomfortably warm.

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bigelow visited them for the holidays.

The Lynn Valentines of Sterling creek had dinner with the Wilfred Pearsons recently and afterward showed some of their extensive collection of kodachrome slides, including those taken on their recent vacation trip to Salt Lake City, the Grand Canyon and other points of interest in the southwest.

11,830 Permits Are Issued to Loggers

Salem—A total of 11,830 permits were issued to Oregon loggers during 1936, according to State Forester Dwight L. Phipps. The total is 770 less than that issued the previous year.

The figures on the volume of timber loggers removed has not yet been compiled by forestry department field men but it is estimated that the figure will be about 8.5 billion board feet, Phipps said. This is about a billion board feet less than the 1935 cut, but it will still leave the industry in the billion-dollar income.

"The reduction in the number of loggers and log output is due directly to the slump in the lumber market," Phipps stated. "Many mills especially the smaller ones, closed down early in the summer with the result that the log demand fell off."

Phipps said an upward trend may occur in case interest rates on FHA loans are increased and made more acceptable to the banker. He also stated that industry attention has been directed toward a more intensive advertising campaign and development of mill products that will compete with lumber substitutes.

Minors Continue to Be Problem of OLCC

Portland—Use of alcoholic beverages by minors continues to be the greatest single enforcement problem of the Oregon liquor control commission, according to a survey of violation hearings during the last six months.

While more public attention currently is focused on juvenile misbehavior, this is an old problem to the commission, according to Hearings Supervisor H. J. Delloff, who reported that minors apparently make most attempts to buy from retail meat beverage outlets such as taverns and restaurants whose license permits sale for consumption on the premises and also by the package for off premises consumption.

From July through December, retail meat beverage outlets accounted for 70 of the violation charges involving sale or service to minors, dispenser premises for 26 cases and package stores, such as grocery outlets, for 24 of the violations.

The law does not give authority to the commission to penalize minors, but does allow the commission to arrest minors, and in nearly every case where a licensee has been cited by the commission the minor also has been arrested.

The Southern Oregon Ministerial association recently met at the Ruch parsonage. The meeting was attended by 18 people.

HORNBROOK Area Gets New Residents

By MR. H. H. CHAPMAN
 Hornbrook—Recent newcomers to Hornbrook include Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cardoza and two children, Frank Jr., and Jeanie, who have purchased the "old Horn ranch," and moved here from Fremont, Calif.

Cardoza's mother, Mrs. Mary Cardoza, also makes her home with them. The previous owners of the ranch, Mr. and Mrs. George Franko, are now living on a ranch which they recently bought near Lodi, Calif.

Also moving here recently were Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Seifert and two children Peggy and Mike, who came here from Yreka. Previous to that their home had been at Central Valley, Calif. The Seiferts are living in the house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bennett and three children who have moved to Yreka.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 9, for Dewey Bevans who died Sunday afternoon. Mr. Bevans had visited friends here on Sunday, and was stricken shortly after returning to his home in Yreka, and passed away in the Siskiyou County General hospital.

He was born in Henley on July 10, 1898, and had spent most of his life in the Hornbrook area. The Rev. C. J. Anderson of the Mt. Zion Lutheran church in Yreka officiated at the services, and burial was in the Henley-Hornbrook cemetery.

The Rev. Lewis A. Manning of the Hornbrook Community church, and Mrs. Manning, left Sunday after worship services for Chico, Calif., to attend a three-day meeting of the Northern California conference of the Methodist church. They will return immediately after the close of the meeting.

Holiday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hodge were their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hodge and Jimmy, Allen and Beverly of Dixon, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gowing had as visitors during the holidays their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lounsbury and five children of Klamath Falls, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cummins and daughter Shirley Moffett, and Mrs. Cummins father, Charles Spearin, drove to Dunsmuir, Calif., Sunday where they observed Mr. Spearin's birthday at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spearin.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Reeve became grandparents for the fourth time on Monday when a son was born to their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Talmage Shipman of Yreka at the Siskiyou County General hospital. The baby has been named Clifford Andrew. He has two brothers and a sister.

Ed Smith, who was injured in an automobile accident near Bur-Bel resort on New Year's eve, is still in the hospital in Yreka, but is recovering from his injuries, and expected to return home soon. Mrs. Smith planned to resume her duties as teacher at the local grammar school this week.

Mrs. Henley Clawson is another who has been on the sick list. She has been seriously ill for the past 10 days with strep throat followed by an attack of influenza. She is able to be up some each day now, but is still confined to her home.

Mrs. Marshall Horn entertained the Contract Bridge club at her home on Tuesday, Jan. 8. Mrs. Bertha Bradley won high score, and Mrs. Fred Mills placed second. Other members playing were Mrs. Laura Swinerton, Mrs. Dave Holland, Mrs. Duane Hamner, Mrs. Grace Quigley, Mrs. Lester Nye, and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rue and children returned recently from a two week's vacation spent in Bakersfield, Calif., and the San Francisco bay area. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gosney, parents of Mrs. Rue, met them in San Francisco and brought the children home, while Mr. and Mrs. Rue stopped off in Santa Rosa where they welcomed in the New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Jacobs left last Friday for a winter vacation in Mexico. In their absence, Earl G. Smith is operating the store and staying in the Jacobs' residence. Smith was employed at the T. Jones company, a number of years ago, and just recently sold the grocery store which he owned and operated in Modesto, Calif.

Miss Arlene Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ardon Burns, has returned to Chico, Calif., where she is a first year student after spending the holidays at her home here.

The recent snowfall in the mountains, while making driving hazardous, is a welcome sight to those in the valley to whom a plentiful supply of water in the months ahead is of vital interest. Whereas just one year ago at this time, many neighbors were suffering from the effects of too much water, this year concern is being expressed over the lack of snow and rainfall and the extremely dry condition of the soil. However, local "old-timers" recall that January and February have been the best moisture producing months in past years.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Friday spent last week end at Prospect, Ore., visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William Keese entertained relatives from Klamath Falls at dinner last Sunday.

Relatives from Baker, Calif., were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morrie Chappel.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Williams and children had New Year's eve dinner and spent the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Trullinger and family.

New Year's eve guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morrie Chappel were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gade and children of Ashland, Ore.

Copco, Calif.—Mr. and Mrs. Ken Coleman and daughter visited friends and relatives here recently. The Colemans, who are former residents of Copco, now make their home at Central Point, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. William Keese are moving to Klamath Falls, Ore. A farewell party in their honor will be given in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Finch had guests over the Christmas holiday from Sacramento, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson visited relative in Canyonville, Ore., over the week end.
