

McCarthy To Oppose Brennan Nomination For Supreme Court

Washington — (U.P.) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today he will oppose President Eisenhower's nomination of William Joseph Brennan to be a Supreme Court justice.

McCarthy acknowledged that Brennan appears to "have the votes" to win confirmation by the Senate. But he said he would be "derelict" in his duty if he failed to call the Senate's attention to speeches in which, he said, Brennan criticized congressional committees exposing Communists.

Guerrilla War Said Waged

"While he makes fine speeches against Communism," McCarthy said, "he has been waging a guerrilla war against committees that pick up individual Communists by the scruff of the neck and expose them."

McCarthy said Brennan had used his former position as a New Jersey Supreme Court justice as a "sounding board" to label the work of Communist investigating committees as "witch hunts."

Brennan, a Democrat, has been serving on the U.S. court since last fall under a recess appointment made by Mr. Eisenhower. His nomination was officially received by the Senate Monday.

Brennan is the first Catholic to serve on the high court since Justice Frank Murphy, who died in 1949. McCarthy also is a Catholic.

Brennan's appointment must be passed on by the Senate Judiciary Committee before it is sent to the full Senate for approval or rejection.

Other Nominations

Among other nominations sent to the Senate by the President Monday was that of an old McCarthy adversary, Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, who was recommended for promotion to the rank of major general.

Zwicker was a central figure in the Army-McCarthy row, and McCarthy once charged that the general was not fit to wear the U.S. Army uniform. Zwicker had refused to tell McCarthy who ordered an honorable discharge for former Army Maj. Irving Peress, an Army dentist the senator had accused of being a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

An Army investigation subsequently absolved Zwicker of any blame in the award of the honorable discharge to Peress.

Cantor To Be Released From Hospital Today

Hollywood — (U.P.) — Comedian Eddie Cantor, who collapsed from "complete exhaustion" at the end of a television show last week end, was to be released today from Cedars of Lebanon hospital, his doctor said.

Dr. Eliot Corday said the entertainer had recovered sufficiently to be released. He was taken to the hospital Saturday night following his collapse at the end of a show honoring his 65th birthday.

Delivery Time Nears for Grace

Monaco — (U.P.) — The question of where Princess Grace's baby will be born was coupled today with an older question: When?

There was no doubt that time is drawing near for the arrival of the first born of Prince Rainier and Princess Grace.

But, although elaborate preparations for the royal birth have been made at Monaco's Maternity hospital, the expectant father switched signals Monday and said he would like the heir to the throne born in his yellow-walled palace.

Carpenters and painters began working on a spare room next to the royal couple's apartment overlooking the Mediterranean to convert it into a delivery room.

But the decision is not final. Palace sources said Princess Grace is still holding out for the clinic.

Doctors agreed the matter must be decided within the next week to 10 days—if not sooner.

News Coverage Of Swearing-in Ceremony Urged

Washington — (U.P.) — The Radio-Television Correspondents' Association today urged that President Eisenhower's private swearing-in ceremony next Sunday be open to all news media.

The ceremony will take place at the White House and all news media have been barred. The President's formal inauguration will take place next Monday on the Capitol's steps.

TV commentator Joseph F. McCaffrey, president of the Radio-TV Correspondents' Association, sent the group's request Monday to White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

People Should Be Part

"We feel that rather than being excluded from it," he said, "the American people should be a part of this great occasion in our history. We hope that the President's and your own deep feeling for our traditions will result in the lifting of the present ban."

At the same time Sen. Richard L. Neuberger charged that barring the press and radio from coverage of the President's inaugural oath will further reduce the presidency to a "ceremonial office."

The Oregon Democrat, a former journalist himself, said he hoped White House press officials would reconsider their decision.

The first state to regulate security sales was Rhode Island which passed such a statute in about 1910.

Maison May Be Replaced By Governor Holmes

Salem — (U.P.) — Reports persisted today that H. G. Maison, superintendent of state police, may be one of the officials replaced by Gov. Robert Holmes.

There was no immediate official comment. Holmes said in his inaugural address yesterday he would start selecting new key personnel "within 24 hours."

Flatiron Removes Tattoos From Legs

El Paso, Tex. — (U.P.) — Nurses at El Paso General hospital revealed Monday night that a 43-year-old woman got mad at her boy friend and used a flatiron to remove his name that was tattooed on each of her legs.

The woman succeeded in taking off the names, as well as several inches of skin, nurses said.

She walked into the hospital Monday with second and third degree burns on each leg.

She said she got mad at her boy friend Sunday night and decided the best way to remove the tattoos was by ironing them off. "You know how it is, honey," she told a nurse. "I just don't love him anymore."

"I don't know how it is, but we treated the burns anyway," the nurse said afterwards.
