

SWEDEN PROPOSES MORATORIUM ON NUCLEAR WEAPONS TESTS

WAVE OF GREETING—Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower wave a greeting to crowds during a presidential procession. Mr. Eisenhower was inaugurated as the 43rd elected president of the United States during a gala celebration in the nation's capital today.

Standstill Would Give Time To Get Radiation Report

Advance Registration Asked in Resolution

United Nations, N.Y.—(U.P.)—Sweden today proposed a two-year moratorium on nuclear weapons tests.

Swedish delegate Richard Sandler asked the U.N. Main Political committee to consider a standstill in explosion of atomic and hydrogen weapons until the General Assembly's Scientific committee, collecting data on radiation effects, reports in 1958.

Ample Reason Seen

"In my view," Sandler said, "there exists ample reason to ask for a standstill, a moratorium, in the testing of nuclear weapons, until that committee has reported its findings and the assembly has acted upon them."

"From the genetic point of view, there is unanimity among scientists that every increase in the sum of radiation is harmful, and it is the sum that counts. The most important thing we know now is that we do not know. And, indeed, we know all too little about those genetic consequences. But at a time when we know more, in what way could we undo the harm possibly done today?"

Advance Registration

Norwegian Inauguration Secretary Dag Bryn and Japanese delegate Rensu Sawada formally presented, in co-sponsorship with Canada, a resolution calling for advance registration with the United Nations of all nuclear tests.

Bryn said the registration resolution was designed as an opening step toward outlawing nuclear weapons.

County Gets Three Checks From State

Three checks totaling $136,530.94 have been received by the county treasurer from the secretary of state's office, according to Karl L. Janouch, treasurer.

The checks, which represent the county's share of motor vehicle and other license fees, taxes on amusement devices, and taxes on alcoholic beverages, total $6,226.28 more than those received for the same period last year. The checks are mailed quarterly Janouch stated.

The largest check, for $127,693.40, will go into the county general road fund, with the other two checks being added to the county relief fund.

Jackson county treasury received $130,304.66 from these three checks last year Janouch said.

OLCC Hearings To Start Tuesday

An Oregon Liquor Control commission officer is scheduled to hold public hearings in the Jackson county courthouse auditorium starting at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

They are to determine if action is warranted against 21 county tavern owners on charges of violating state laws banning political contributions by OLCC licensees.

Bruce Williams, Salem, former chairman of the OLCC, said reports of alleged violations connected with the general election campaign in Jackson county, had been made to the commission.

As nearly as could be determined there this morning, no change in the scheduled hearings resulted from the appointment of a new liquor commission by Gov. Robert Holmes last week.

Planning Commission To Consider Hearing

The Medford planning commission will consider calling a public hearing on rezoning of seven acres in southeast Medford when it meets at 7:30 p.m. today in the city hall.

Planners will consider rezoning five acres south of Barnett rd. and east of Black Oak drive and two acres south of Barnett rd. west of Black Oak drive from single family to commercial.

A fourth prayer, following the President's address, concluded the half-hour ceremony.

Ike Pledges Help To Divided World

Highlights of Ike's Inaugural Message

Washington—(U.P.)—Highlight quotations from President Eisenhower's second inaugural address, "The Price of Peace."

"We declare our firm and fixed purpose—the building of a peace with justice in a world where moral law prevails.

"The building of such a peace is a bold and solemn purpose. To proclaim it is easy. To serve it will be hard. And to attain it, we must be aware of its full meaning—and ready to pay its full price."

"We recognize and accept our own deep involvement in the destiny of men everywhere . . .

"No people can live to itself alone.

"To counter the threat of those who seek to rule by force, we must pay the costs of our own needed military strength, and help to build the security of others."

"We live in a land of plenty, but rarely has this earth known such peril as today. . . . This is no time to ease or rest.

"In too much of the earth there is want, discord and death.

"From the deserts of North Africa to the islands of the South Pacific one-third of all mankind has entered upon an historic struggle for a new freedom: Freedom from grinding poverty . . . Germany still stands tragically divided. So is the whole continent divided. And so, too, is all the world."

"The world of international Communism has itself been shaken by a fierce and mighty force: The readiness of men who love freedom to pledge their lives to that love. Budapest is no longer merely the name of a city. Henceforth it is a new and shining symbol of men's yearning to be free . . .

"We can never turn our back to them."

"We honor . . . the people of Russia. We do not dread, rather do we welcome, their progress in education and industry. We wish them success in their demands for more intellectual freedom, greater security . . . fuller enjoyment for the rewards of their toil.

For as such things come to pass, the more certain will be the coming of that day when our peoples may freely meet in friendship."

"We seek upon our common labor as a nation, the favor of Almighty God . . .

"May we pursue the right—without self-righteousness.

"May we know unity—without conformity.

"May we grow in strength—without pride of self.

"May we, in our dealings with all peoples of the earth, ever speak truth and serve justice . . .

"May the light of freedom, coming to all darkened lands, flame brightly—until at last the darkness is no more."

Thousands Hear Eloquent Second Inaugural Address

Washington—(U.P.)—President Eisenhower today pledged America's might and wealth to help "heal this divided world" and bring it peace with justice under law.

To achieve this goal "will be hard" and "we must be . . . ready to pay its full price," the President said.

"High will be its cost," he said, "in toll patiently given, in sacrifice calmly borne."

Mr. Eisenhower proclaimed this nation's "deep involvement in the destiny of men everywhere" in an eloquent second inaugural address before thousands assembled in front of the Capitol building at the country's 43rd inauguration of an elected president.

A few moments before a solemn and prayerful ceremony he and Vice President Richard M. Nixon repeated the oaths of office they had taken Sunday in the privacy of the White House.

Ashland Student's Gun Wounds Youth

Ashland—A 15-year-old Ashland High school student was wounded by a bullet, another teen-ager was arrested, and guns were taken from two others as a group of Ashland students were boarding a school bus at Klamath Falls Saturday, according to police reports.

The wounded boy was identified as Jerry Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mitchell, route 1, box 131, Ashland.

Taking Out Shells

Stanley Jobe, Ashland High school principal, said another 15-year-old boy was attempting to take some shells out of a .38 caliber revolver when Jerry grabbed the gun barrel and the weapon discharged, apparently by accident. Jobe said one of the shells was believed to be defective and prevented the accident from being more serious.

The bullet entered the palm of Jerry's right hand and came out about four inches above his wrist, police said. After leaving his arm, the bullet also struck a rib on his right side, but did not enter his body.

Treated at Hospital

The injured boy was taken to a Klamath Falls hospital for treatment, but was not held here. His companion was arrested on a charge of discharging firearms in the city, and was released in Jobe's custody.

Not 'Delinquent Type'

Jobe said no legal action is being contemplated at this time against the boy whose gun fired. He said none of the youths who had the guns were the "delinquent type" and all are good students. The principal added that several of them are rifle club members, but there appeared to be no motive in their having guns on the bus.

Jobe said he was still discussing the matter with the students this morning and had not decided upon the extent of disciplinary action school officials would take. He said, however, that they would be banned from riding in "rooter's buses" in the future and would be required to make a formal apology to the Ashland High school student body.

Oregon Senate Again Fails To End Leadership Problem

126th Ballot Shows Pearson and Gill Still Deadlocked

Salem—(U.P.)—The Oregon Senate took up today where it left off on the eve of the 1957 session—getting nowhere on its choice for president.

Some observers had hoped that the senators, evenly divided at 15 Republicans and 15 Democrats, would get together informally over the week end after recessing Saturday afternoon, and reach a compromise agreement on committee distribution that would pave the way for a break in the choice for president.

Belton on Rostrom

But when the Senate convened shortly after 10 a.m. today, with Sen. Howard Belton of Canby still on the rostrum as temporary chairman, the vote was 14-14-1 for Sen. Walter J. Pearson, Portland Democrat; 14 for Sen. Warren Gill, Lebanon Republican, and one vote cast by Gill for Sen. Belton.

Curry County Leads State Population Rise

Portland—(U.P.)—Oregon's population since 1950 has increased 14 per cent, according to figures released today by the State Board of Health. The rate of increase represents a substantial deceleration from the 1940s when the state's population increased by half-a-million persons.

The estimate of population in the state set the figure at 1,734,650 as of July 1, 1956. The health board set the natural increase at 147,996 persons and a gain through migration of 65,304. A total gain of 213,300 since 1950 was seen.

Gomulka Appears As Overwhelming Winner in Poland

Warsaw—(U.P.)—Communist Party Leader Wladyslaw Gomulka, fortified by his victory in Sunday's national elections, is expected today to waste little time in sweeping out the last of the die-hard Stalinists from party ranks.

Official results of the parliamentary elections will not be known until Tuesday. But all indications pointed to an overwhelming popular vote of confidence in the rebellious Communist leader who severed Poland's tightly-knit dependency on Moscow.

There was a surprisingly heavy turnout of voters for the crucial elections. Gomulka had warned a defeat for his candidates would "cross out the independence of our country, and cross out Poland from the map of Europe."

Unofficial results showed from 91 to 96 per cent of the 17.5 million eligible voters cast ballots, apparently spurred by Gomulka's warnings and the get-out-and-vote drive by the Roman Catholic church.

Incomplete unofficial returns gave Gomulka 89.5 per cent of the valid ballots.

Second with 98.4 per cent was "independent" Jerzy Hryniewicz, third with 98.3 per cent was Jerzy Zawieyski, a Catholic Activist who ran with the probable support of Roman Catholic Primate Stefan Cardinal Wysinsky.

Austria To Protest Hungary 'Invasion'

Vienna—(U.P.)—The Austrian government was reported drafting today a strong protest against the "invasion" by armed Communist Hungarian border guards in pursuit of refugees from their Soviet dominated homeland.

At least 30 Hungarian guards crossed about 200 feet into Austria Sunday and opened fire on 20 men, women and children who had slipped through the Iron Curtain. All but one were herded at gun-point back into Hungary.

The one Hungarian to escape reached freedom with a Communist bullet in his back. He identified himself as a former Hungarian soldier who fought against Soviet tanks and troops in the battle of Budapest.
