FBI Arrests Fugitive At Hotel in Memphis

Memphis, Tenn. — The FBI early today arrested fugitive gunman Alfred James White, photogenic newcomer to the FBI "most wanted list," at a small hotel where he was living under an assumed name. The 53-year-old "distinguished looking" fugitive had been intensively sought since he fired on police in West Hamlin, W. Va., June 7, 1954. Special Agent C. E. Piper, in charge of the Memphis FBI office, said two Memphis citizens recognized White from pictures on posters circulated since White was placed on the FBI's "10 most wanted" list 10 days ago. Piper said White, with a record of convictions for larceny, auto theft, robbery and parole violation, was unarmed and put up no resistance when he was arrested.

Doctor To Stand Trial in England

Eastbourne, England — (U.P.) — Dr. John Bodkin Adams, 58, was ordered today to stand trial for the murder of one of his wealthy widow patients. A bench of five magistrates ordered the family physician to trial for the murder of Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell, 81, after nine days of evidence at a preliminary hearing. The prosecution had demanded that he stand trial for Mrs. Morrell's death on Nov. 13, 1953. The defense had asked that either he be freed or tried on a lesser charge on criminal negligence. The crown has charged that Dr. Adams systematically converted Mrs. Morrell into a narcotics addict and then gave fatal doses in the last two weeks of her life. It said he was motivated by a desire to inherit items left to him in her will.

Copco Gets Extension On Big Bend Project

Washington — (U.P.) — California Oregon Power company was given an extension of time yesterday by the Federal Power Commission to decide whether it wants to accept a license for construction of its proposed Big Bend No. 2 power project. The license for the project was granted in 1954 but has never been accepted by the company. The firm now proposes to consolidate the project with its Big Bend No. 1 proposal. The commission granted the company 30 days after the commission rules on the consolidation proposal in which to decide whether to accept the license. The two projects are located in Klamath county and would cost about $12,400,000.
