65 YEARS

Serving Southern Oregon

MEDFORD was literally a "horse and buggy" town, way back in 1891 when this firm was first established on Front Street and sold furniture made at its Phoenix manufacturing plant. Since 1900 Weeks & Orr have been situated at the present location, expanding and remodeling constantly to keep pace with the growth of Medford. In 1953 Weeks & Orr's fine new furniture store was completed (shown above) and this big, beautifully arranged and conveniently planned store was a far cry from the original West Main street store (shown at the right). This fine new store . . . largest in southern Oregon . . . has 23,000 square feet of space devoted to displays of complete home furnishings. This is exclusive of 14,000 feet of storage space in another location. Eugene Orr, present owner and general manager, joined the Weeks & Orr organization in 1932 and is celebrating a quarter-century of service upon the occasion of this 65th Anniversary. Our best way to say "thank you" to the friends of this pioneer firm, for generous support and patronage through the years, is to offer really outstanding Anniversary Values during this great once-a-year event. Here are but a few of them:
