

Kelly Girl Service Discussed at Noon Chamber Meeting

Miss Dana Platz, co-operator of Service Unlimited Employment agency, Medford, and area manager of Russell Kelly Office service, discussed the history and operation of the "Kelly girl service" yesterday at the noon luncheon of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce Roundtable.

The "Kelly girl" organization was started in 1946 by Russell Kelly, Miss Platz said, a former business executive who wanted a business with less pressure than others.

The organization retains experienced business women to provide temporary service. Miss Platz added the home office, in Detroit, now employs 250 girls and has 57 branch offices throughout the United States with 23,000 girls.

No Standard Size
There is no standard size among businesses that are "Kelly" clients, she said. Businesses that claim they need no temporary help probably have more permanent help than they need, she added.

Kelly girls are guaranteed and fees are adjusted if they are not satisfactory, according to Miss Platz. She added everything they do is confidential and they are also bonded and insured.

Standards a prospective employee must meet before she can join the Kelly office service include a personal interview, an application and ability tests, she said.

Sally Elden Chosen Girl of the Month

Central Point—Sally Elden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elden, North Pacific highway, was selected as the Girl of the Month for Crater High school.

The Girl of the Month is chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship, character, personality, and contributions to the school. Leadership is the most important qualification. The candidate must be a senior.

Sally is co-editor of the school year book, a cheer leader, treasurer of Torch Honor society, chairman of the Girls League Mothers Day Tea, a member of Quill and Scroll, the high school journalism honorary, an active participant in speech tournaments, a member of Girls League and Girls Athletic Association, and is the Crater High school finalist in the Elks Leadership contest.

The Girl of the Month, chosen by a group of Girls League representatives, is awarded a sterling silver disk on a long chain, which bears the inscription, "Girl of the Month." From the nine Girls of the Month, a Girl of the Year will be chosen in May.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Siskiyou Rangers Forestry Club
The club had its first meeting of the year Jan. 26. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Robert Rosenbaum, club leader.

Elections were held and Bob Rosenbaum was elected president; Jim Waddell, vice president; and Bill Hernlein secretary and news reporter.

During the course of the meeting the members voted on names for the club. The voting narrowed down to a tie and president Bob Rosenbaum voted the new name to be the Siskiyou Rangers.

Mrs. Rosenbaum asked members to bring their covers for their forestry books to the next meeting. The object of this is to curtail any last minute difficulty before the books are handed in. Mrs. Rosenbaum stated that the Forestry club is responsible for the March meeting of the different clubs enrolled in the Siskiyou chapter.

Keith Smith gave a demonstration on how to mount forestry specimens. Keith is a member of the Southwest Medford Junior Forestry club.

Other guests were 4-H agent Glenn Klein and members from the Southwest Medford Junior Forestry club which included their leader, Mrs. Claudina Smith, Don Smith and Steve Smith.

After the meeting Mrs. Rosenbaum and Mrs. Chapman served refreshments.

The next meeting of the Siskiyou Rangers will be held at Mrs. Chapman's at 2 p.m. Feb. 23.

Applegate Sewing Susans
The Jan. 15 meeting of the Applegate Sewing Susans was called to order by last year's president, Gwen Krouse. Officers were elected. They are president, Jean Rowden; vice president, Mary Herriott; secretary, Gwen Krouse; reporter, Dona Brown; song leader, La Vern Guches. There were 10 members present.

Before the meeting Marge Hatton, 4-H County agent, explained the new record books. Also the foods project was discussed and we decided to start on foods and sew later, so the garments will fit better at fair time.

Novelist Raps Historical Novels

Washington—(U.P.)—Pulitzer Prize winning novelist MacKinlay Kantor said Monday night phony historical novels are dopping the minds of Americans.

Kantor, awarded the Pulitzer prize for his Civil War novel "Andersonville," bemoaned in a lecture at the Library of Congress the use of pseudohistory as the background for "sex novels."

He said he and others who started writing historical fiction in the 1930s "opened up suddenly a new miracle mile whereon the unscrupulous could set up shop."

"The anachronisms of Hollywood are a byword," he said. "But they can be matched page for page by lurid chronicles which have in part sustained the lending libraries and doped the minds of the populace for at least two decades."

"People who had been flooding the market with sex novels about flappers who were lured to roadhouses found that they could write the same sex novels about the American historical scene. They had only to dress their flappers in crinolines."

Motion To Suppress Use of Tapes Filed
Portland—(U.P.)—A motion to suppress use of certain tapes and wire recordings as evidence was filed yesterday by District Attorney William Langley in connection with the case in which he and two others were indicted for conspiracy to set up gambling.

The indictment was dismissed last week but the court ordered the case resubmitted to the grand jury. Others named with Langley were Joseph P. McLaughlin and Thomas Maloney of Seattle.

Church Bombed At Beaumont, Tex.

Beaumont, Tex.—(U.P.)—Two bombs were set off Monday night in this race-conscious city, blasting out the side of a Greek Orthodox church.

But early today police could not determine whether racial tensions had anything to do with the two bombings. There were no injuries and total damage was light.

The bombings took place within 10 minutes of each other beginning about 10:30 p.m. A third explosion was heard 45 minutes later but police were unable to fix the location.

Assistant Fire Chief Austin Manuel said damages to the St. Michaels Greek Orthodox church would total about $1,500. One side of the brick building was blown inward by the blast. Windows in the chapel were shattered.

Members of the church said they could think of no reason why the church was bombed. A meeting in an adjacent parish house had just broken up when the bomb went off.

The second blast was at the Slash Transfer and Storage Co. A bomb was planted under a trailer-truck and blew the floor of the trailer loose.

New York—(U.P.)—An indictment charging attempted murder was being sought today against "mad bomber" George Metesky whose homemade pipe bombs injured 15 persons before his capture last week.

Woman, 79, May Inherit Estate

San Francisco—(U.P.)—A 79-year-old woman learned Monday night she may be the sole beneficiary of an $185,000 estate left by an Idaho man 23 years ago.

Mrs. Florence Harrison, widow of a shipyard worker, took the news of her good fortune calmly. "All my life, I've had a feeling that some day I'd come into some real money," she said. "And now that it's happened, everyone in my family is going crazy—everyone but me."

The estate which Mrs. Morrison may inherit was left in 1934 by Philip P. Weber, a Kellogg, Ida, banker and Mrs. Harrison's uncle. She is his only known blood relative.

Administrators of the estate recently found Mrs. Beatrice Holt, a niece of Mrs. Harrison's now living in Salt Lake City. She presumably told of Mrs. Harrison's relationship to Weber and said she had a son in Ely, Nev.

The son, Peter Weber Harrison, was found in Sparks. He relayed news of the inheritance to his mother here.

"I'm nearly 80 years old," Mrs. Harrison said, "but I still can do quite a bit with money like that. However, I imagine most of it will go to my family."

Straub Chairman of Grazing Committee

Eugene—(U.P.)—Lane County Commissioner Robert W. Straub has been named chairman of Forestry and Grazing Committee of the Association of Oregon Counties by Association president Raymond Lathrop of Josephine county.

Straub who served as a member of the committee previously, said one of the early actions of the group would be to undertake a study of taxation of timber and timber stands.

Others on Straub's committee include Fred Kruse, Coos county; Don Malarkey, Clatsop county, and Fred Richards, Josephine county.
