

Measure To Increase Number of Justices In Oregon Presented

Salem — (UP)—A bill to increase the number of justices from 7 to 9 in an effort to speed the work of the Oregon Supreme Court was introduced in the Senate Monday by Sen. R. F. Chapman, Coos Bay Democrat. The measure would divide the justices into three departments of three justices each, with the chief justice a working member of one of the three. When the court met as a whole, the chief justice, as now, would sit as presiding officer.

Three Departments

Sen. Chapman said the aim of the measure was to have three departments working on the backlog of cases before the high court instead of two as at present.

Bills introduced in the Senate today included:

By Sens. Lee Ohmart and Rudie Wilhelm and Rep. George Annala, at request of the Committee on Interstate Cooperation, would ratify the Oregon-Washington Columbia river boundary compact.

By Sen. Wilhelm — Making Lincoln's day Feb. 12 and Washington's Birthday days of commemoration.

By Lowry and others—To repeal sections relating to damages recoverable in actions for defamatory statements published in newspapers, magazines or other printed periodicals, or by radio, television or motion pictures. Would repeal ORS 30.155, 30.160, 30.167 and 30.173.

Exempts Certain Groups

By Ziegler and others—To exempt certain living groups from paying personal property taxes.

By Ziegler and others at request of Interim Committee on public welfare; relating to support of needy persons.

By Ziegler and Rep. Steward —To appropriate money to build a dormitory and exhibit building for 4-H and FFA on state fairgrounds.

By Chapman—Relating to increase in Supreme Court justices to 9.

By Chapman — Relating to homestead exemptions.

By Lewis and others—Providing that registered nurses shall not be examined in civil action as to information acquired during care of patient.

1,400 Attend Sunday Session of Convention

Ashland — More than 1,400 persons heard Nicholas Kovalak Jr. of New York speak on "What Will Armageddon Mean for You?" Sunday at the three-day circuit convention of Jehovah's Witnesses held at the Ashland Armory ended.

Saturday night more than 1,300 delegates saw missionary work films of Jehovah's Witnesses throughout the world. Other speakers during the convention were John A. Green, circuit minister, and James H. Morse of Ashland.

More Foes Found To Tito Invitation

Washington — (UP)—An increasing number of Democrats and Republicans in Congress today opposed inviting Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia to visit the United States.

Representatives from both sides of the aisle signed a petition urging President Eisenhower not to invite the Communist dictator. House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass.) was among the signers.

The petition was placed in the speaker's lobby Monday. By early afternoon 64 representatives had signed it.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—SEVEN

Home Destroyed in Shady Cove Fire

Shady Cove—A residence was destroyed and another damaged by separate fires in Shady Cove yesterday, according to volunteer fire department officials.

About 11 a.m. yesterday, the residence of John Meza two miles east on the Butte Falls road was destroyed by fire which started from a flue fire, firemen reported.

The family, which includes five children, escaped, and plan to live in another building nearby, reports indicated. The house was almost engulfed in flames when the Shady Cove-Trail volunteer department arrived, firemen said.

The Shady Cove-Trail department expressed appreciation to the Central Point Rural Fire department which dispatched a pumper to the scene to supply the Shady Cove-Trail with water.

An unoccupied cabin at Rainbow motel here was damaged early yesterday afternoon. Firemen said the fire started when the owner, Jerry Smart, attempted to thaw frozen water pipes.

Sunday night the volunteer department answered a call at the Glenn Collins on Williams Rd. in Shady Cove to a flue fire. No considerable damage was reported.

Shady Cove Grange — Shady Cove Grange 951 met Wednesday evening Jan. 23 at the Shady Cove school with a

Grange Notes

Griffin Creek Grange met in regular session Thursday, Jan. 25.

All officers were present, including four visitors. They were Greibler of Seattle, mother of Bruce Greibler, Mr. Bauchman, master of Applegate Grange and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kamping and daughter.

Several discussions were held, one on the possibility of not opening the banks on Saturdays. All seemed to agree it would be most inconvenient.

Earl Croft of the agriculture committee reminded members that now was the time to have the soil tested in preparation for spring gardens.

Lecturer Lulu Sturgill presented a health program which included readings, a skit by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Talle, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Greibler and Marge Bruce. An original reading was given by Iva Harper and a candle lighting service which is a part of the Grange ritual was held. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wilks and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Greibler.

The HEC met with Mrs. Harold Talle with Mrs. Roy LeVander as cohostess, Jan. 17.

The following officers were installed by Mrs. William Darby: chairman, Eva Farusworth; vice chairman, Paulene Kelley and secretary and treasurer, Gertrude Talle.

At the close of the meeting a Kaffee Klatch was held for the March of Dimes and seven dollars were turned to the M.O.D. chairman.

7 p.m. pot luck supper served in the school cafeteria.

Several members were reported on the sick list.

The Shady Cove Grange will be the host Grange for Jackson County Pomona Grange Saturday Jan. 26.

Mrs. Al Cooper showed slides she had taken of Crater Lake and a second group of slides from Yellowstone National park.

The next regular meeting of the Grange will be Feb. 13.

Is That So?

By EUGENE BURNS
Ranger-Naturalist

During winter evenings, a blazing fire in the fireplace feels might good and prompts good conversation. Care to draw up and listen to some of the fine yarns that have been piling in?

"The Joker noticed their interest in every little thing that came along—particularly if it was western and had anything to do with nature. So he got two cockleburrs, and wrapped them in cotton and put them in a box and gave my husband the high sign to play along with him.

"Porcupine Eggs"
"Sure enough, over came the two teachers to see what it was all about. 'What have you got there?' they persisted. Proudly, but yet with a becoming show of modesty, he showed them the burrs and said: 'Porcupine eggs. You know they are pretty rare and hard to find in these parts.'

"The teachers were so taken in that they bought those two eggs for five dollars apiece."

Mrs. N.M.W. of Madison, Wis., writes: "My five-year-old granddaughter Maureen made her first visit to a farm and seeing a big corn-crib filled with corn came running to me. 'Grandma, come quick and see the big, big case of cobs on the corn.'

By way of confession, Mrs. N.I.D. of Portland, writes: "Some years ago a friend gave my children a portable typewriter. Our friend explained in detail the operation and care of the gift. And then I opened my big fat mouth: 'That all seems simple enough, but tell me where do you put in the ink?'

T.O. of Wapiti, Wyo., an old-timer in the National Park Service—32 years of it observes: "Of all the flocks of geese that my eyes have followed and permitted me to take an accurate tally, I have never counted an even number. They are always odd. So I claim all geese fly with the leader being counted the odd one. Try it some time and see how true it is." I'd like to have your reaction to this one, readers.

WOE IS ME—Sandra Carta sits dejectedly by one of many holes punched in her new $20,000 Los Angeles home. Holes were put there by her dad in search of a cat that has been meowing for 19 days, trapped somewhere inside the walls. The meows, heard in all parts of the house, are growing steadily weaker.
