House Education Committee Votes To Inspect OTI at Klamath Falls

Salem — (U.P.) — Members of the House Education Committee voted late yesterday to inspect Oregon Technical Institute at Klamath Falls after hearing the school's head, Dr. Winston D. Purvine, outline his administrative problems.

The Senate Education Committee and members of the Joint Ways and Means Committee also will be invited on the inspection trip.

11 Measures Outlined

Dr. Purvine outlined 11 legislative measures needed to improve school administration at the education committee hearing under Rep. Joe Rogers, Independence Democrat. Labor and school leaders also testified.

Representatives of the State Board of Education which administers OTI and the State Board of Higher Education said that the problem of which agency should rightly administer the school had never been formally discussed.

Rep. Rogers said recommendations of the two boards would help his committee make up its mind about OTI's legislative requests.

Positive Authority

It was pointed out that all 11 bill requests were intended to give the Board of Education positive authority to perform administrative duties which the higher education board already has power to perform.

Francis Smith of the Board of Education suggested that it might be simpler to transfer administration of the school to the Board of Higher Education. He said administering OTI was the only job of its kind performed by his board and that it took much time. However, he said he was speaking just as an individual.

School Asks $4.6 Million

Purvine said there were many excellent installations at OTI, that all but one of the buildings were basically sound and that it would take $15 to $18 million to place the school somewhere else. He said its costs per student of $971 per year were comparable with similar institutions and were falling year by year.

The school is asking 4,600,000 for capital improvements.

Purvine said one 420-foot building should be replaced and work done on student dormitories. He said Oregon would eventually need another technical school to keep pace with the constantly increasing need for technicians. About 1,000 students are now enrolled at OTI.

Legislative requests explained would approve charging students a building fee, provide for bond issues, enlarge revolving funds so that cash could be paid for bills, enable the school to buy and sell real property, and allow it to accept scholarship money.

Roseburg Father Held in Slaying

Roseburg — (U.P.) — A 33-year-old Roseburg father of three small children was being held in the Douglas county jail today in connection with the rifle slaying of his wife last night.

Laval Lloyd Geisler allegedly fired a fatal bullet into the body of his wife Barbara in their home last night as the result of a domestic quarrel.

Police said the shot penetrated the woman's arm and entered her lower chest. The couple's three children, 5 to 10 years of age, were asleep in the home at the time.

Neighbors called police after hearing the couple quarreling and then a sudden shot. Undersheriff Carl Smith said he arrived at the home to find the woman lying on the floor.

Mrs. Geisler was rushed to a hospital where she died shortly after arrival. Geisler offered no resistance to officers who placed him under arrest in his home.

U. S. Attaches Told To Leave Russia

London—(U.P.)—Radio Moscow announced today two U. S. military attaches have been ordered to leave Russia, apparently in retaliation for the expulsion of Soviet officials from the United States.

The broadcast said a Soviet note demanded the "immediate departure" of Maj. Hubert Tansey and Capt. Charles W. Stockell, assistant military attaches assigned to the U. S. Embassy in Moscow.

The note, handed today to Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, said the two men had been "engaging in activities incompatible with their status as diplomatic officials," Radio Moscow said.

"Their further stay in the USSR is therefore undesirable," the note said.
