Reed, a Democrat, has served on the nation's highest tribunal for 19 years.

He notified the President of his retirement in a hand written letter dated today. In the letter, Reed pointed out that today marked the end of 19 years continuous service on the court. He said that having reached the age of 72 he wanted to retire on Feb. 25.

Mr. Eisenhower approved the retirement and sent Reed a personal note of congratulations on his "long and splendid record in public service."

Qualifications For Tower Jobs Changed

Changes in qualifications for aircraft traffic control jobs have been announced by James T. Pyle, administrator of Civil Aeronautics, U.S. department of commerce.

The qualifications were changed in order that more people would be eligible to fill vacancies in expanding CAA traffic control facilities, Pyle stated.

Under the revised requirements for airways operations specialist positions, an instrument rating on a pilot's license is no longer necessary as in the past. The new qualifications permit the substitution of one year at an accredited college or university for nine months general experience or for 80 hours of solo flight. The old substitution of education for experience was one year above high school level for three months general experience or 30 hours of flying time.

Eliminated from the qualifications for controller positions was the provision that six months of qualifying experience be within the 10 years preceding the date of the announcement of the examination.

The other experience change permits three years of progressively responsible experience as a radiotelegraph or radiotelephone point-to-point communications operator to qualify for the next highest salary level.

Beaver Marsh Job Deadline Extended

Washington —(U.P.)—The Federal Power Commission yesterday issued an order extending to July 1, 1958, the date by which the Eugene Water and Electric Board must start construction of its proposed Beaver Marsh project, Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore.) said.

The commission also denied a request made by the Save the McKenzie Association for a public hearing on the extension.

"I regret failure of the commission to back scenic outdoor values of the state by outright denial of license extension but regard in our decision to preserve the Marsh area since the commission policy has been opposed to more than one extension," Neuberger said.

The Oregon Democrat added that if Oregon to finance construction are blocked until July 1, 1958, any additional extension seems unlikely.

Linn County Slayers May Not Stand Trial

Albany, Ore. —(U.P.)—District Attorney Courtney Johns said today state hospital reports leave doubt that either of two confessed Linn county slayers will stand trial.

One case is that of Tommy Reppeto, 21, Lebanon, who admitted beating his stepmother, Mrs. Mary Hattie Reppeto, 72, to death with a piece of stove wood Jan. 4. The other is that of Mrs. Shirley Albeke, 21, who confessed drowning her two-year-old son Steven, in a bathtub last Nov. 10.

Johns said a hospital report indicated that Reppeto apparently did not understand the seriousness of the crime. The hospital also reported, he said, that Mrs. Albeke was unable to assist in her defense.
