On The Side

By E. V. Durling

A New Yorker says she misses the delightful and inviting odor of the morning coffee on the fire. She says coffee has become odorless. At least the numerous brands she has tried. She adds that in checking with many of her friends, she finds they are having the same experience. Come to think of it, I haven't noticed that morning coffee odor lately myself. However, the coffee at home is great. I have four or five cups every morning.

Sidelights
A man that liquor puts in a quarrelsome mood is usually a weak character. When a man of strong character imbibes too freely he becomes genial and wants to sing. My Alma Mater is Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., which is named in honor of John Wesley. However, no professor there ever told me that Wesley's brother Charles wrote over 6,500 hymns among which was "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing."

Games
No man over 40 should play handball. It is much too strenuous. A fine game for persons over 40 is tennis. That is because when once mastered, tennis can be played with very little effort. All that is necessary is to understand the art of placing the ball.

Asides
The seat next to the driver is the most dangerous in an automobile. The driver's seat is safest. That's what the accident records seem to indicate. Ever hear of a cocktail named after a story? "The Last Blend Cocktail" is named after a story by O. Henry. The recipe is "large jigger Jamaica rum, jigger Creme de Cacao, juice of half a lime, Shake."

Evangelist Immune To Speeding Tickets
Duncan, Okla., (U.P.)—A 76-year-old retired evangelist who lives west of here doesn't have to worry about getting tickets for speeding.

"She'll only go about 35 miles per hour," he said, as he pushed his 1924 model T Ford out of the garage.

W. C. Fox of the Gatlin School community said he believes his car is the oldest usable auto in Stephens county. "I traded my old car on the new one about two years ago," Fox said.

Gas mileage isn't one of Fox's worries.

"I imagine it can get about 28 or 30 miles per gallon," he said. Fox said he bought his first car, a 1911 model T in 1917. He kept that model until 1955 when he traded it for the M24 model.

Pantothenic Acid Declared Essential In Diet of Humans
Pantothenic acid, one of the B-complex vitamins, is one of the less well known nutrients. It is believed to be essential to normal nutrition in humans and the lack of it under test conditions has been found to cause severe illness. However, it is still uncertain whether diets of humans are ever so low in this substance as to produce deficiency diseases.

Pantothenic acid is found in relatively high supply in dried yeast, liver and eggs and in good supply in broccoli, cauliflower, potatoes, sweet potatoes, lean beef, skim milk, tomatoes and other vegetables and some fruits. Avocados were found to be relatively high in this substance.

Most dangerous period for accidents on farms is from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays, a Pennsylvania survey showed, and most mishaps occurred to younger workers and teenage boys.
