

Adenauer Expects Turning Point in Russian Policy

Bonn, Germany—(U.P.)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer received a personal note from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin today, said afterward that a "turning point" in Russian foreign policy is likely in the near future.

Soviet Ambassador Andrei Smirnov handed the note to Adenauer at a surprise 50-minute meeting less than 24 hours after Smirnov returned here from six weeks in Moscow.

An official announcement said the Bonn government was studying the note and that the German-Soviet talks would continue.

Won't Discuss Contents At his Regular fortnightly news conference shortly afterward, Adenauer flatly refused to discuss the contents of the note or his talk with the Soviet ambassador.

But he told newsmen he believed a "turning point" in Soviet foreign policy is likely in the near future. He warned against any action that might be interpreted as provocation that might upset this development.

Adenauer listed four reasons why he believed such a turning point had come: 1. The development of modern atomic weapons. 2. The "spirit of freedom" among the satellites. 3. Failure of the Communist system to develop economic prosperity. 4. The unity of Western Europe and the rest of the Free World.

Morse Plans Bill For Access Roads

Washington—(U.P.)—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) said he plans to introduce a bill which would authorize increased federal participation in the construction of "urgently needed" federal timber access roads.

Morse said the proposed legislation would make "more workable" the entire access roads program of the federal government. He said the bill would authorize expenditure of annual amounts increasing the $27 million authorized this year until a maximum of $50 million is reached in fiscal 1961.

The bill is being cosponsored by Sens. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.), Henry Jackson (D-Wash.), James M. Murray (D-Mont.) and Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.).

Jimmy Dorsey Ill; Taken To Hospital

Wichita, Kan.—(U.P.)—Band leader Jimmy Dorsey became ill suddenly Thursday night and was hospitalized here.

The nature of the illness was not disclosed by attendants at Wesley hospital.

The band, scheduled to play for a Morse lodge dance here, gave its performance without Dorsey.

Rumors of Growing Rift Between Queen Elizabeth, Duke Told

Baltimore—(U.P.)—The Baltimore Morning Sun said today that reports of a growing rift between Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh "are now percolating down to the British masses."

Cafe Society Talking Joan Graham, a member of the London bureau of the Sun, wrote that leaders of "cafe society" who claim to know the most intimate details of the royal household have been talking

Labor's Efforts For Democrats Said Underplayed

Washington—(U.P.)—Two Republican senators claim a Senate subcommittee report on campaign spending underplayed organized labor's efforts in behalf of Democrats.

Sens. Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska and Barry Goldwater of Arizona said the report by the two-man Democratic majority of the Senate Elections Subcommittee was distorted, Curtis was the dissenting minority member.

Figure Said Exceeded The report, which called for election law reforms, listed 1956 campaign expenditures totaling $33 million but said the total far exceeded that figure. It showed the GOP outspending Democrats about two to one.

Curtis told the Senate Thursday the Democrats did not try to give a full report on labor political activity but reported a "shockingly low" figure of $941,271 for labor campaign expenses.

Goldwater added that he believed the report "could well have been written" by Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee. He was amazed, he said, that the subcommittee did not try to estimate the value of such election day services as getting voters to the polls.

Spanish Police Quell Demonstrators

Madrid, Spain—(U.P.)—Police armed with truncheons yesterday broke up a demonstration by Spanish students outside the old downtown university building. The demonstration coincided with a city-wide boycott of the transportation system.

About 500 students massed outside the building after noon. Police closed off the streets and charged into the demonstrators, swinging their rubber truncheons.

The students fled. Eyewitnesses said none apparently was injured.

Before the arrival of police, the students stoned a bus that was traveling virtually empty. Several windows were smashed but there was no injuries.

The boycott of the transportation system was a silent protest against the rising cost of living.

Railroad Workers Seek Income Tax Cut Despite Ike

Washington—(U.P.)—Organized railroad workers, 1,100,000 strong, have set out to persuade Congress to cut their income taxes despite President Eisenhower's strong opposition.

The drive launched by the 21 railway labor unions is viewed in some congressional quarters as the strongest threat yet raised to the administration's balanced budget.

May Be Bottled Up Some members do not rule out the possibility that the powerful unions can push their tax-cutting plan through Congress. Others believe it may be bottled up in the House Ways and Means Committee where a similar proposal was killed by a 13-12 vote last year.

The unions want tax relief for railroad workers as part of a package pension plan. If enacted, it would provide for bigger workers' contributions to the railroad retirement fund to finance a 10 per cent increase in pensions without workers suffering much, if any, loss in take-home pay.

The plan would accomplish this by exempting from income tax all workers' contributions to the retirement fund. This, by itself, probably would not cost the treasury much more than $60 million in annual revenue loss.

Could Become Costly But Congress would not be likely to approve it without granting the same income tax exemption on contributions of other workers to the social security system.

This could easily run up the cost to $700 million a year or more. If the same tax treatment were granted on government and private pensions, the cost in revenue would exceed $1 billion a year, the Treasury Department has estimated.

Daily Newspaper Sales Set Record

New York—(U.P.)—The number of daily newspapers sold in the United States each day has reached a record high of more than 37 million, Editor & Publisher has reported.

The weekly news magazine for the newspaper business said that the number increased by nearly a million copies per day during 1956. Sunday newspaper circulation also set a new record of 47 million.

The figures were compiled from the forthcoming 37th edition of the Editor & Publisher International year book, an annual directory of daily newspapers.

The magazine said total circulation for 1,761 daily newspapers, as of Sept. 30, 1956, publishers' statements and Audit Bureau of Circulation reports, was 57,101,510. That represented a gain of 954,151 or 1.7 per cent over the same period of 1955.

openly of a rift between the Queen and her royal consort. But she said that the great masses of the English people know nothing about the royal family other than what is printed in the press.

The press has not made even an oblique reference to a rift. The article stated that the middle and lower classes flatly refused to believe the spreading rumors that started last summer because the idea that the crown can do no wrong is "a very real sentiment with them."

It was hinted last summer by those purporting to be in the know that the Duke of Edinburgh had a more than passing interest in an unidentified woman and was meeting her regularly in the apartment of the court photographer who died last fall, the article said.

Speculation Arises Speculation that the duke was being sent out of the country to cool off arose when a four month round the world cruise now just ending was announced, according to Miss Graham. It was further noted that barely a paragraph about his activities made the London press for the first three months of the trip but that now as much as half a page is devoted to pictures of the duke.

This was taken by some as an indication that he was deliberately being reintroduced to the good will of his wife's subjects.

Visit To Dancer Before Death Probed New York—(U.P.)—A visit by an attractive blonde actress-dancer shortly before her death prompted detectives yesterday to investigate her apparent suicide.

Doreen Woodbury, 30, died early Wednesday in the arms of an actress friend, Elizabeth Rose, whom she had telephoned in the middle of the night.

Police ruled Miss Woodbury's death an "apparent suicide" after they found two pill bottles, one empty and the other containing unidentified pills, and a note in her East Side apartment.

Detectives kept the case open to find reasons why the actress would commit suicide. They also wanted to learn how she received scratches on her forehead and determine the identity of the man in the trench coat who was reported to have visited her before she telephoned Miss Rose.

Taxi, Bus Fares Go Up in Portland Portland—(U.P.)—The cost of riding taxis and buses here is going up.

The city council yesterday approved a 10-cent per mile fare increase for taxicab companies to make the rate 40 cents per mile. Charge for extra passengers will be 20 cents instead of 10.

A proposal to boost Rose City Transit Company bus fares was approved by City Commissioner

Feeding the Family

Versatile Ground Beef Meal Planners' Pet

The pet of the menu planner's existence is ground beef. The family loves it; it has a hundred and one different uses, and—joy of joys—it's one of the thriftiest meat buys. Junior would rather have 'burgers served to his party crowd than the finest steaks you could provide. Best of all, the versatility of hamburger helps solve the everyday problem of feeding the family. Use it in meat loaves, meat balls, beef patties, spaghetti dishes, baked casseroles or as we do here in an always popular tamale pie.

Popular Tamale Pie

To add to its popularity this recipe can be made ahead of time and just slide into a moderate oven for an hour or so before dinnertime. Six servings.
1 pound ground lean beef
1 tablespoon cooking oil
1 small onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
2 stalks celery, chopped
1 (No. 2) can tomatoes
1/2 cup light or dark kernels
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon chili powder
1/3 cup cornmeal
1 cup pitted ripe olives
1/2 cup cornmeal
1/2 cup water
2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3/4 cup grated American cheese

Lightly brown beef, onion, garlic and celery in cooking oil. Add tomatoes, corn, raisins, salt and chili powder; simmer 15 minutes. Slowly stir in the one-third cup cornmeal and cook, stirring steadily, until thick. Stir in olives. For the cornmeal mixture: Stir the one-half cup cornmeal into one cup cold water. Heat remaining 1/2 cup water to boiling then stir in cornmeal paste. Add salt and butter and cook until thick, stirring frequently. Line large lightly greased casserole with two-thirds of the cornmeal mixture and fill with the meat mixture. Top with spoonfuls of the remaining cornmeal mixture; sprinkle with grated cheese and bake in moderate, 350 degree, oven about one hour. Garnish with additional pitted black olives, if desired.

Fish Sticks, Time Savers

When you prepare golden-fried fish sticks, there is no cleaning, no waste, no breading, no defrosting, and no frying. Each stick is frozen individually so you can prepare as many or as few as you like. Low in price, readily available, flavorful and so easy-to-prepare. The fish mainly used in the preparation of fish sticks are cod, haddock, pollock, salmon, and halibut. Other species are used in lesser amounts.

Fishburgers and Tartar Sauce

A speedy, tasty luncheon item that will click with all members of the family, especially the "small fry" are "fishburgers" served with zesty tartar sauce. Place fish sticks in a single layer in a baking pan. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, for 15 to 20 minutes or until heated through and crisp. Place two fish sticks on a toasted buttered roll and spread generously with this tartar sauce . . .

Tartar Sauce. Combine one-half cup mayonnaise with one tablespoon chopped onion, one tablespoon chopped pickle, one tablespoon chopped parsley and one tablespoon chopped black pimiento stuffed olives. Mix well and chill. Enough for six fishburgers.

Fresh Pear Compote

Now is the peak of the season for Anjou pears. High in nutrition, low in calories and always delicious. We like them especially well in this fresh pear compote. An important thing about this light dessert is to use pure vanilla extract.
2 cups sugar
3 cups water
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
8 fresh firm sound pears
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

Place sugar, water and salt in saucepan. Mix well. Bring to boiling point and boil one minute. Peel, quarter and core pears. Add to boiling syrup. Cover; boil gently 15 minutes or until tender. The cooking time will vary somewhat dependent upon the ripeness of the pears. Remove from heat. Add vanilla extract. Cool and then chill. Serve in compote glasses. Top with fresh mint or maraschino cherry. Eight servings.

Fresh Fruits, Vegetables Offer Healthful Bargains

Winter months and more frequent illness such as colds seem to go hand in hand. Good nutrition and good health also go together. Fresh fruits and vegetables with their health-giving vitamins and minerals can go a long way towards helping you and your family maintain the ultimate in resistance to illness.

Citrus Fruits. Particular emphasis is placed on citrus fruits this time of year because of their valuable supply of vitamin C. Oranges, grapefruit, and lemons are in plentiful supply and should be used now for both health and budget reasons. Prices are low and quality excellent.

When shopping for oranges or grapefruit look for fruit that is firm and heavy for its size; thin skinned for its variety, if you want a juicy fruit; has a pleasing odor, this helps avoid over-ripe fruit; free from mold or soft spots, for the freshest flavor.

Other fruit buys include excellent supplies of good Northwestern grown apples. Anjou pears are at the peak of their season with supplies readily available for some weeks to come. Quality should be good all season. Bananas are readily available at fair prices.

Vegetable Buys. The cabbage cousins, Brussels sprouts, broccoli, cabbage and cauliflower are flooding the market. Top quality at good prices. Broccoli becomes something special when served with a hollandaise sauce or lemon butter. Snowy white cauliflower takes well to cheese toppings. Crispy cabbage served in coleslaw is a wonderful way to add to your daily vitamin intake . . . Add some orange sections for a new taste treat. Celery is in good supply and when used either as an ingredient or served as a relish adds crunchy flavor and good nutrition to any meal. Tomatoes are holding up unusually well. However, don't expect to buy winter tomatoes at summer prices. Lettuce is available at reasonable prices. Potatoes and dry onions continue on the good buy list.

Meat Department. February plentiful at reasonable seasonal prices continue to include broilers, fryers, stewers, large turkeys, economy cuts of beef, fresh and frozen fish fillets.

Grocery department best buys include eggs, American cheese, cottage cheese, nonfat dry milk, dried peas and beans, canned corn, canned purple plums . . . Check for other canned food buys in grocery advertisements. Don't overlook the buys to be had in dried fruits. Wonderful when stewed; good anytime when eaten out of hand.
