He carded nine strikes in a row and missed a 10th when the seven pin, although it wobbled, failed to go down. LaBar picked a spare. He had a 628 series. A 629 by Ray Wise and 268 by Charley Dawson, both in the Classic league, were the previous highs of the season.

Westside gained a first place in the City league with a 3 to 1 win over the Independent Order of Foresters while LaBar was leading the Bankers to a verdict by the same count over Weter and Olson, previous lone leader. There are five teams tied for third place and only a two game spread among the top seven quintets.

Bruins Nick Washington To Set PCC Winning Mark

By NEAL CORBETT
United Press Sports Writer

The UCLA Bruins established a new Pacific Coast conference all-time winning streak Friday night by tacking up their 23rd straight victory with a comeback 68-65 defeat of the University of Washington.

Ironically, the old record of 22 was set by the Huskies in 1943-44.

However, the victory didn't give the defending conference champions any edge over the California Bears, who roared back in a second overtime period to defeat Oregon State, 73-60, and hang on to a first place tie with the Bruins.

Linfield, OTI Strengthen Holds In Conferences

By UNITED PRESS

Leaders of the Northwest and Oregon Collegiate conferences rested a little more firmly at the top of the pile today after both posted wins Friday night.

Linfield, Northwest conference leader, came through at the free throw line to dump Whitman, 75-70, despite the fact the Missionaries outscored them by five from the field.

The Wildcats connected on 31 of 46 free throw attempts while Whitman garnered only 16 of the one-pointers out of its 25 opportunities.

Oregon Tech blasted out an 83-37 win over Eastern Oregon in its game last night and the win all but assured the Owls the Oregon Collegiate Conference title.

Willamette turned in a sizzling second half performance to rack up a top-sided 87-56 win over College of Idaho in a Northwest Conference game after leading only 38-37 at halftime.

Oregon College turned in the night's upset by handing Southern Oregon a 56-43 setback in an OCC league tilt.

The two senior stars of the once-mighty Wolfpack, regulars when State ranked as high as No. 2 in the nation last year, were declared ineligible because of "unsatisfactory grades" and non-attendance at class during the first semester.

Ball Writers May Organize

Columbus, O. — (U.P.) — George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, announced Saturday the formation of a new National Association of Baseball Writers.

The organization will be composed mostly of writers in minor league baseball cities. The group will hold its first meeting in December during the mid-winter baseball meetings at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Trautman said the new association would not conflict with the Baseball Writers of America, which operates strictly in major league cities. Major league writers, however, will be eligible for membership in the national association.

"There are, of course, associations of writers in many of our leagues and we also don't want to interfere with them," Trautman said. "But this new group will have different objectives."

The writers' group was broached recently in a letter from National Association headquarters here to sports editors and baseball writers in all minor league cities.

Carl Lundquist, director of public relations for Trautman's office, said the writers seemed enthusiastic and "there wasn't a single dissenting voice."

California Victor As OSC Fades in Second Overtime

Corvallis — (U.P.) — California kept pace with UCLA atop the Pacific Coast conference standings today but the Bears had to go two overtime periods Friday night before subduing Oregon State 73-60, and run their sting to seven straight conference wins.

Oregon State ran completely out of steam in that second overtime period, though, and California romped home in a breeze, potting 15 points while Oregon State made the period good for only two.

The Bears nearly won it in regulation time but a closing second jumper by Bob Allord knotted the count at 53-all. Through the first extra period neither team was willing to gamble and the clubs wound up still deadlocked, this time at 58 each.

Gabe Arrillaga hit for six points and Mike Diaz chipped in with four in the final five minutes to spark the Bear victory.

Larry Friend topped California's scoring for the night with 16 but scoring honors for the game were claimed by Oregon State's Dave Gambee with 26.

Oregon State held a 33-28 halftime advantage but then lost it early in the second stanza when the Beavers went for six and a half minutes without hitting from the field. California moved in front finally at 49-47 and stayed there until Allord's final game tying shot that sent the teams into the first overtime.
